Just as much care, in fact a little more, should be exercised in buying electric sad irons, as in buying any thing else. Some irons use more electricity than others in doing the same work. Get your electric irons of MORHART BROS., they carry the authorized iron. Be careful of "just as good" electric irons.
Take a wide-mouthed bottle of good clear glass and fill it with fresh water. Then put into it two teaspoonful of finely powdered alum. In fair weather, and when it is likely to continue fair, the liquid will be clear, but at the approach of cloudy or rainy weather the mixture will become feathery looking. This barometer will indicate a change of weather 36 years in advance.
A farmer had a dream. He dreamed that he had raised four thousand bushels of corn and he was happy over the fact. Then he dreamed that he had sold it for 50c a bushel and his happiness was greater. But he dreamed now that he had sold it to four thousand different people, a bushel to each one and nobody had paid him and he was sad. When he awoke it was daylight, and leaping out of bed he exclaimed to his wife, "Rebecca, I have had a solemn warning and I know the meaning of it. I am going to town today and pay that printer the dollar I owe him for that paper.—Ex.

Ed McAllister was in Alma this week.
For a good every day household angel, give us a woman who laughs. Home is not a battlefield, nor life one long unending row. A trick of always seeing the bright side, or, if the thing has no bright side, of shining up the dark one, it is a very important faculty and one of the things no woman should be born without. We are not all born with the sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish pretty phrase it; but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor if we only try.
A father—not a millionaire—left at his death a number of children and a certain sum to be divided among them as follows: The eldest to receive $100 and one-tenth of the remainder; the second child $200 and one-tenth of what then remained; and so on, each child to receive $100 more than the one immediately preceding, and then one-tenth part of that which still remained. When the division took place, it was found that all the children received the same amount. How many children were there, and what sum did each receive?
Two hundred harness horses are named to appear in the races at the State Fair September 5th to 9th, and the program announced exceeds any race meet heretofore held in Nebraska. The ten mile running relay race, two miles each day, will give added interest in that it takes the full five days to complete. The Wright Bros' three aeroplanes are promised to make four flights each day.
The great Lombardo Symphony Band of 14 instruments and Grand Opera Concert Company of 24 vocalists will give four concerts each day. The great Patterson Shows and Vaudeville attractions will please the pleasure loving public. Twenty-two counties have entered agricultural exhibits, more entries in the horse, cattle and sheep departments than ever before and about the same number of swine. Season admission tickets at $2 each are placed on sale for the first time. Let's all go. It's too good to miss.
The Blue Harvest Home Festival occurred at Blue Hill the last three days of last week. The morning train was crowded every day by people going from this city there to enjoy themselves. The city was beautifully decorated with bunting, corn stalks and shocks of wheat. Their band met the trains each morning and played a few pieces for the benefit of all. They had a parade each day, dancing and singing by a negro ministerial troupe, acrobatic performances, speaking by candidates and ball games. In the evening they had moving pictures and a merry-go-round. The streets and side walks were crowded to their full capacity by visitors and every body had a good time. The Festival was a grand success and we hope Blue Hill repeats the Festival next year.
Secretary Mellor of the state fair board asked his hired man to write something about the state fair, and this is the result: "When the frost is in on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock; when the thirsty politician is so dry he cannot talk; when the cow and little cowlets do not journey to the fair or airships rise in glory and go sailing through the air. When Jim Dalman takes his water and Bill Patrick takes his booze, Bryan joins Joe Cannon's party, runs for office, win or lose; when the cat comes back like Jeffries and Jack Johnson turns to white; when the ships that pass in daylight are still passing in the night; when saloons close close forever and the back doors close for good; when saloons out in west Lincoln make a quiet neighborhood; when our governor gets in better with the folks in Omaha; when they shout with loud Hozannas over his famous closing law; when St. Paul and David City furnish governors for the state; and republicans in office voluntarily abdicate; when the dome upon the state house shall be painted fiery red; when Bill Price quits playing martyr and is numbered with the dead; when in fact all this has happened as it may some future day, then you can in justice surely from the state fair stay away."
