AN EMPIRE AT STAKE THE LAST SUPPER

TITLE TO LAND WORTH MIL-LIONS FOR COURT TO DECIDE.

RIVAL CLAIMANTS TO PRIZE

Controversy Dates Back to Days of Revolution, Forming Relic of Carelessness of the Officials of Virginia.

Washington, D. C .- The contraversy which has raged in Kentucky for generations over the validity of so-called "blanket grants" of land by Virginia. the mother state, and even Kentucky itself during the earlier years of statehood, came before the supreme court of the United States for decision. Titles to lands now said to be worth at elast $10,000,000 depend upon the decision of the court. Originally some of the land was procured at 2 cents an acre. During the day arguments were made as to the constitutionality of the Kentucky statute under which it is claimed a forfeiture of the title to 40,000 acres of land held by the Kentucky Union company would be worked in favor of the occupants of the lands

Louis Brandels Wehle and Z. T. Vinson argued that the Kentucky court had erred in not holding the statute unconstitutional. J. W. Stewart defended the validity of the law.

An empire, larger than the entire state of Delaware, or the island of Porto Rico, lying in the state of Kentucky, is the prize at stake.

Want Women on the Force.

Cincinnati, O .- Stirred by the fact that murders of five women have occurred in the same vicinity of this city in the last four years and that in the cases of the first four the mystery was never solved, while the fifth to date remains a mystery, club women have made a novel appeal to Safety Director Small. They asked that in the future the detective force of Cincinnati should contain at least two women members.

The director took the matter under advisement. The action was suggested by the murder of Mrs. Harley Hackney.

Tells About Conspiracy.

Springfield, Mo .- Aletter received by the chief of police of Springfield signed "Mrs. Maud Nugget," and mailed in Salt Lake City, purports to give facts of an alleged conspiracy hatched by Walter Dipley and Mrs. Goldie Smith to rob and attack Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion pugilist who was shot and fatally wounded near Conway, Mo., October 16.

Mrs. Nugget asserts that the Smith woman wrote of the plans and the chief of police has wived the officials of Mrs. Nugget.

Picture Films Come Cheaper.

Washington, D. C .- Moving picture

films made in Europe will not come into the United States at a much lower rate of duty than heretofore. The customs court has decided the films should be assessed as photographs at a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem. The board of general appraisers at New York had contended they were dutiable as celluloid at a much higher rate. All the moving picture theaters in the United States will profit by the decision.

Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 6, 1910 Specially Arranged for This Paper

Lesson Text-Matthew 26:17-30. Memory

Golden Text-"This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me."-Luke 22:19. Time-Thursday evening, April 6, A. D.

Place-An upper room in Jerusalem.

This lesson is full of dramatic incidents. A harmony is necessary to understand the scenes in full.

The first great day of the Passover, which lasted a week, began at sunset on the evening after the 14th of April, which by the Jewish reckoning was the beginning of the 15th when the regular Passover supper was eaten. The disciples came to Jesus, some time on Thursday, saying . . . Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? "A room was needed, with tables surrounded by couches, for the Passover must be eaten reclining, since it was a canon that even the poorest must partake of that supper in a reclining attitude. to indicate rest, safety and liberty.'

Then there must be obtained unleavened bread, bitter herbs, wine, and a paschal lamb, which must be slain in the temple between three and five o'clock, and cooked in a private home. Jesus and his disciples probably left Bethany late Thursday afternoon, walked two or three miles, and reached the upper room soon after sunset.

The strife probably began when the disciples were assembling in the upper room, and were about to take their places at the table. Even in this most solemn hour, more solemn than they realized, there arose a contention among the disciples as to who should be the greatest, probably with reference to the places of honor and nearness to Jesus, with an outlook toward the highest places in the new kingdom which was soon to begin. Also because no one was willing to take upon himself the servile duty of washing the travel-stained feet of the company.

There was doubtless a mingling of good and evil motives in the disciples. At length all were reclining at the tables and the Passover supper was begun. Jesus wisely waited till time had been given for the excitement to be quieted, and the disciples to come to a better frame of mind. Then by a symbolic action he taught them a lesson which has been needed all down the ages. He who had all power, who came forth from God, and was going to God, arose from the supper, poured water into a basin, and washed his disciples' feet, including the feet of Judas, into whose heart the devil had put the plan to betray him.

And as they were eating the Passover meal Jesus used the same bread and wine that was upon the Passover. table and taught the Passover truths. The rites of the new kingdom of heaven expressed for the spiritual life the deliverance from the slavery of sin. of Salt Lake City to learn the identity | the redemption through blood, the promise of allegiance to the Lord, the hope of the promised land, which was enacted in actual life by the saving of the Israelites from the bondage of Egypt. "The Passover brought together the largest number of individuals to claim and consciously recognize their part in God's redeeming grace and power, and because of its sense of all-embracing victory, millennial gladness, universal salvation, was better fitted to become the distinctive and enduring symbol of redemption, and express the mighty hopes of Jesus as he stood on the threshold of his passion, than any of the sacrifices of the altar." Jesus took bread, the thin cake of unleavened bread, and blessed it, "invoked blessings," "consecrated with solemn prayers." Take, eat, make it a part of yourselves. This is my body, symbolizes my body, does for your bodies just what my spiritual life does for your souls. This is my blood. A type of emblem of his blood, his life, which he laid down as the atonement for sin. Of the new testament, which God was now confirming to men. The new covenant was that God would renew and save all who believed in Jesus. It is the new promise to men, the new Gospel dispensation, in which God has used his perfect wisdom in seking to save the world from sin. Which is shed for many. Multitudes, not merely a few, are to be saved by Christ. For the remission of sins, including the forgiveness of sin, and the deliverance from the power of stn. Sin is to be put away entirely. The Supper is a kind of All Saints day. We become one, not only with those around us, but with those who have gone before, to join the heavenly host.

It is a feast of victory. It was the sun triumphing over darkness. The Lord's Supper is a prophecy of Christ's second coming, of the perfect triumph of his kingdom; for we are to celebrate it till he comes. It contains a hope and a promise. Our last view of Christ in the Gospels is not of death, but of an everliving Saviour, who once was dead, but now lives for evermore. It shows that we do not worship a dead Christ, but a living Christ, sitting on the right hand of God, leading the hosts of Christendom. It is the morning star that heralds the new day.

It is an invitation to all to come and be saved. It is the church holding up the banner of redemption that all the world may see.

We ought to make the Lord's Supper the most helpful and important service of the church.
