Sievers Re-Elected and Eight Towns Stay in League.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 15.—The Nebraska State baseball league, at its annual meeting here yesterday and last night, stood pat by re-electing Henry Sievers of Grand Island to the presidency and preserving its 1910 circuit intact for another season. Other towns were bidding for franchises, York and Beatrice being anxious to take membership, but none of the eight now holding membership disclosed any disposition to retire from the game and the league will inaugurate the campaign of 1911 with prospects pointing toward a more successful season than in 1910.
The league decided that the 1911 schedule should consist of 112 games, the campaign beginning on May 12 and ending September 12. Each club will make three trips around the circuit, playing two games on the first trip and three on the two subsequent trips. The receipts on July 4 are to be pooled and divided equally between the eight clubs.
Following the reelection of Mr. Sievers as president, secretary and treasurer, the roster was made complete by the choice of Frank Cowden of Red Cloud as vice president, while the following were made directors: S. C. Babcock, Hastings; A. J. Pollak, Columbus, and Robert Phelps, Superior.
The proposition to raise the salary limit was voted down after a prolonged discussion, and a resolution was adopted requiring all clubs to deposit their forfeit money with President Sievers prior to March 1.
From the above it will be seen that base ball is an assured thing for next year. And the next season promises to be even better than last season. Our club will of course keep all the strong players and strengthen the team by letting the poor ones go and substituting better material. The Red Cloud club is very enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming season and will undoubtedly carry off the pennant.
Immediately after the close of the season this year there was a disposition on the part of some to discontinue the base ball activities but all things considered this city should not only keep in the league next year but for all time to come. First of all we as a city offer nothing in the way of entertainment except base ball and there is a strong sentiment for the game by farmers and others who do their trading here. Our business men realize that something must be offered by the city in the way of pleasure to the people who are kind enough to spend their money with them.
Another thing many of the drawbacks to the game last year will be eliminated this next year. The league was just organized, the officers were inexperienced in base ball management and many mistakes were made. Likewise our home management had a good many things to learn and were new at the business. The experience of this first season will be valuable and we look for the next season to run along without any friction. The teams will travel in a regular circuit playing three games in a place and this will make a wonderful difference in the expenses. Everybody boost for Red Cloud and the 1911 pennant.

John F. Young
Last Saturday word was received here that John F. Young had been found dead beside a haystack on his farm a few miles south of this city. Upon investigation it was found that he had passed quietly into the great beyond on account of heart failure. For several years past he has suffered with a weak heart and this finally resulted in his death.
John F. Young was born in Clarion county, Pennsylvania, April 4, 1867, and died at his home Dec. 17, 1910, at the age of 43 years, 7 months, 13 days. The deceased came west with his parents in 1874 and resided in this community until his death. He was a member of the Salem, Kansas lodge of Odd Fellows and an active worker in that organization. The funeral services were conducted in the Highland M. E. church and interment made in the Webb cemetery.
