Some of the members of our tennis club went to Cowles Tuesday to play a match game with the boys at that place. Brother Diamond furnished the conveyance and Flave Grice acted as pilot extraordinary. From all accounts he did not make a hit with the driver or the rest of the club since it took two hours to go his way. Flave says next time he won't be so sure.

Since Red Cloud elected a Socialist mayor, the town is again on the map, and folks are beginning to sit up and take notice. Mayor Sam Foe has received a letter from a convict in the Montana penitentiary, who gives his name as "Toney Clark," requesting the mayor to dispose of a horsehair bridle, made during the convict's leisure moments. The mayor has taken the matter under advisement.

Bandmaster J. E. Betz, yielding to a very popular desire, has decided to organize a junior band, to be composed of girls as well as boys. This will be a welcome feature of our musical activities and we are confident that he will receive much encouragement from our people. We would like to see every boy and girl in the city join this organization and make the old town ring with first class music.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Storey and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Good returned Friday from Spirit Lake, Iowa, after a fifteen day automobile outing. They spent a week in camping and fishing at Spirit Lake, going via Hastings, Council Bluffs and Des Moines, and returning via Sioux City, Fremont and Hastings, visiting all the cities enroute. The party traveled about 1300 miles and thus became quite familiar with the roads and bridges of eastern Nebraska and northern Iowa. In Mr. Storey's estimation, the roads and bridges of Nebraska are much better than those of Iowa, and the roads of Webster county are best of all. In Iowa the roads are narrow, 20 to 30 feet wide, and, as in Nebraska, concrete is rapidly displacing the wooden culverts, but often are made not more than 12 or 16 feet in length. Where the roads were rounded up in firm pike they were mostly too narrow for vehicles to pass on the grades. Much of the grading is being done with the scraper, and the King road drags lying at the roadside along the way mutely gave testimony of its once having rained in the country through which they passed. The crops and pastures showed terrible suffering from drought all the way from Hastings to Des Moines and from Spirit Lake back to Lincoln. The party all had a pleasant trip, and among Mr. Storey's other accomplishments he has become an auto mobile driver and repairer of experience. Mr. Good's Chalmers Detroit car stood the trip in fine shape, except for minor tire and gear trouble.

Nebraska Democrats Hold Harmonious Convention

The Democratic state convention, held at Fremont Tuesday, which gave promise of being a stormy affair, developed into one of the most harmonious sessions ever held by the Nebraska Democratic organization. No attempt was made to indorse any particular candidate for the presidency, and great enthusiasm was manifested at the mention of each of the party leaders.

The resolutions reaffirm the well known principles of Democracy and warmly commend the Democratic congress for living up to the Democratic platform pledges. The platform was adopted without a dissenting vote.

John C. Byrnes was unanimously re-elected chairman and Leo Matthews secretary of the state central committee.
