

American Women Don't Deserve the Criticism they Get occasionally about deteriorating in their home-making instincts. The trouble is they are not given half a chance. Can't expect them to take the same interest in a rented house or apartment that their mothers took in the home they knew was their own, can you? Just think this over carefully. We know what we're talking about, because invariably when we sell a house bill it's the wife that has the most to say about it, and usually it's through her efforts the start is made. And let us tell you she has pretty good ideas about what she wants, too—goes a lot on appearance, as well as quality—on an attractive front door—wains good, natural figured finish, hardwood floors, etc. She's particular, but we've the stock that makes 'em happy, and when you're ready to build we want to talk you.

Facts About Accident Insurance.
 Government statistics show that last year more than eleven million accidents occurred in the United States. In other words, one person out of every eight received an injury! These facts are astounding, and should convince all prudent people of the necessity of insuring against accidents.
 The National Accident Insurance Company, of Lincoln, gives the fullest protection against accidental injury, and, through fair and liberal treatment of its policy holders, has gained an enviable reputation.
 This Company leads all others in amount of business done in Nebraska, and has a large number of policy holders in Webster County. Numerous claims have been settled in Red Cloud and vicinity. All with complete satisfaction.
 Mr. Matt Doyle is the Red Cloud agent for the National Accident Insurance Co., and will be glad to explain the superior features of its policies to interested persons.

A New Arrival.
 I'm a little baby. I arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Day last Saturday. Although I have only been in this world a few days, I'll have you know that I'm the boss at our house. Whenever I want anything all I have to do is to raise my voice; then everyone works overtime to find out what I want. I watch 'em and blink at 'em and crow. It's jolly fun. My papa says I'm a little Chinese with a red face and pug nose and that I only weigh six pounds. But then I don't think he's so big. He made his brag that he will have me working with him before many weeks, but I'll fool him. I'll lose my guess if I don't give him cold feet before the winter is over by making him get up in the middle of the night for the paragon, and he will frost his ears going to the drug store for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. There is a sweet little woman with her head lying on a pillow near me. She is good to me, and I can see right now that we are going to get along together all right. I am the owner of a very nice voice which I cultivate every night. If you don't believe it just ask the neighbors. Some day I am going to join the Ananias club. Then there will be "something doing." Owing to my late arrival in this town I have not yet gone out into society and have only met a few people. If my name is not on your "calling list" will be pleased to have you place it there. Papa says the doctor shall have the honor of naming me and until he does will subscribe myself.
