GARFIELD

Another fine rain Friday night. Mrs. Al Smith is visiting her folks in town this week. Letha Campbell called on Muriel and Ethel Fisher Friday night. Those who attended the state fair are home and report a good time. Fall plowing for wheat is most thorough in Garfield, and some are sowing. George Harris threshed his wheat on Monday and it made a little over seventeen bushels per acre. Mrs. Henry Wiggins and daughter visited with their mother and grandmother Saturday night and Sunday. Charley Wolfe will hold a public sale on Wednesday, September 20, and will hold a colt show on the same day.

COWLES

The Cowles school started in with an enrollment of nearly a hundred. Charley Kaley is building an addition to his house on his farm north of town. F. A. Good has just finished a cement bridge over near the northeast part of the county. Guy Scott has been working for Saunders Bros. during the absence of Morgan Davis. N. V. Anderson threshed his grain Wednesday. It is turning out very well considering the year. Our new phone lines which are being built in town are nearing completion.

The transfer of the lines will be made the first of the week. Miss Georgia Scott went to Hastings Tuesday to have some dentistry work done. She returned Wednesday. Earl Paul and wife left for their home in Holyoke, Col., Tuesday. They are making the trip in their auto. Morgan Davis, Thomas Deakin and Sidney Spracher returned from their two weeks hunting in the sand hills. Charley Francis is building an addition on his house in the village of Cowles. He intends occupying it some time this fall.

Work Enough for All.

Two Irishmen died. Pat went to Heaven while Mike went to the lower regions. After a day or two spent in their respective abodes Mike called Pat up over the phone and the following conversation took place: Mike: "Hello! Pat, how are you getting along up there and what are you doing?" Pat: "I'm shining stars. What are you doing?" Mike: "I'm shoveling coal. How many hours a day do you work?" Pat: "I work ten hours a day. How long do you work?" Mike: "I only work eight hours a day, but I have lots of help."

Wild West Grafters Fleece Old Man

Never since the Sells & Downs circus was in Red Cloud some six years ago has there been with any amusement company such an army of grafters as was in town Tuesday with the Kit Carson Buffalo Ranch Wild West Shows. Had they succeeded in pulling off all the stunts which they had framed up, they would have been several hundred dollars to the good.

Besides "touching up" individuals for small amounts, they had one deal working which would have cost one of Webster county's oldest and most respected citizens the neat sum of $300. It seems that early in the day one of the attaches of the show spotted "Uncle" Henry Wilmot, and, representing that he had a car load of tea which he wished to dispose of, so worked upon Mr. Wilmot's gullibility that he succeeded in inducing him to draw $300 from the bank as a guaranty of good faith, he to be a special agent in disposing of the tea.

Mr. Wilmot was enticed into a curtained off compartment in the rear of the sideshow (there were six or seven of these spider webs waiting for the innocent flies), where his whilom friend had one of his confederates "planted" at a table surrounded by three chairs Mr. Wilmot produced his three hundred plunks and proceeded to count it. Then the confederate wanted to count the money, and it was turned over to him. He no sooner got his fingers on the "long green" than he disappeared under the canvas. Mr. Wilmot's tea merchant begged the old man to say nothing about the matter, promising to meet him at the Red Cloud postoffice next Tuesday and return the $300 which he was minus.

Meanwhile there were things doing on the outside. Walter Sheldon had become suspicious of what he had seen, and notified Sheriff Hedge, who immediately got busy. The sheriff demanded admittance to the curtained off compartment where the robbery had been committed, but was refused on the ground that it was a "ladies' dressing room." That bluff didn't work however, and he went into the compartment, only to find that the birds had flown. Sheriff Hedge then "nailed" one of the managers of the show, and threatened to tie up the aggregation unless restitution was made. Up to this time Mr. Wilmot had strenuously denied having lost anything, but the amount of his withdrawal from the bank was easily learned. In a very short time the Wild Westerners got busy, and, while the sheriff was talking to one of the managers, Mr. Wilmot was taken into the tent and his money returned to him.

Had it not been for the decisive action taken by Sheriff Hedge, it is doubtful if the money would have ever been recovered. As Mr. Wilmot was unable to give a description of the robbers, no arrests were made.

To the Voters of Webster County.

I am the father of W. R. Bailey, candidate of the Democratic and People's Independent parties for county clerk. Some uneasy and suspicious soul has expressed the fear that in case of my son's election that the deputyship will be retained in the family and that I will be that deputy.

I want to say to the voters of all parties in language easily understood that such is not the case. I would not accept a deputyship under any clerk and especially under my son. Such a position would be distasteful to me. I hope I am understood.

In the meantime I have a father's interest and solicitude for my son's success and beg that during this campaign I may be allowed to use all honorable means to assist and help to bring success to him at the polls.

With apologies for being compelled to issue this statement I am, Respectfully yours, J. H. BAILEY.
