44 Bu. to the Acre

A heavy yield, but that's what John Kennedy of Edmonton, Alberta, Western Canada, got from 40 acres of spring wheat in 1910. Reports from other districts in that province show that the best yields were such as 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50 bushels per acre, or more.

Free Home-Seed of 100 Acres and adjoining sections of 50 acres (at $5 per acre) are to be had in the closest districts.

The Silver Cup

At the recent Spokane fair was awarded to the Alberta government for its exhibit of grain, grasses and vegetables, reports of excellent yields for 1910 come also from Saskatchewan and Manitoba in Western Canada.

Free home-seeds of 100 acres and adjoining sections of 50 acres (at $5 per acre) are to be had in the closest districts. Schools convenient to the exhibit, and the very best, rail ways close at hand, building lumber cheap, fuel easy to get and reasonable in price, water nearly or completely missed, farming a success.

IS GRANDDAUGHTER OF KEY

Mrs. Norwood Gives Manuscript of "Star Spangled Banner" to Washington Relative.

Texarkana, Ark.—Mrs. Rebecca T. Norwood of this place, granddaughter of Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner," has gone to Washington with some priceless souvenirs of her illustrious ancestor. She will deliver to a cousin, Attorney Francis Scott Key Smith, a copy of the original volume of Key's poems and an early manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner," in the poet's own handwriting.

Mrs. Norwood is a daughter of Daniel Turner, who married Ann Key, eldest daughter of the poet. A great-grandfather was Joseph Turner, one time governor of North Carolina. Her father served under Admiral Farragut when he was in command of the Mare Island navy yard in San Francisco. A sister, who recently died, was Mrs. J. Mills Browne, wife of a former surgeon general of the United States army.

Mrs. Norwood is one of the charter members of the Francis Scott Key Memorial Association. She is interested in a reproduction of the old volume of Key poems, that its proceeds may be added to a fund for the preservation of the Key homestead in Georgetown, now part of Washington.

She visited her grandfather there when she was only 13 years old. Although she only saw him twice and then when she was very young, she has some interesting reminiscences of him.

TREE TAKES ON HUMAN FORM

The "Ballet Girl" is One of the Remarkable Curiosities of Nature in New Hampshire.

Milford, N. H.—One of the remarkable curiosities of nature is the "Ballet Girl" tree on the road from Milford to the railroad station at Pomeh.

The formation of the limbs of the tree is such that when the leaves come out it gives a remarkable representation of a ballet girl and is further intensified if a breeze is blowing, and the figure moves with a motion not unlike that of one going through the latest two-step.

The tree was first discovered by some summer guests, for although it

RASH ALL OVER BABY'S BODY

Itched So He Could Not Sleep

"On July 27, 1909, we left Boston for a trip to England and Ireland, taking baby with us. After being in Ireland a few days a nasty rash came out all over his body. We took him to a doctor who gave us medicine for him. The trouble started in the form of a rash and was all over baby's body, head and face, at different times. It irritated, and he would scratch it with all his might. The consequence was it developed into sores, and we were afraid it would leave nasty scars on his face.

"When we reached England we took baby to another doctor, who said his condition was due to change of food and climate, and gave more medicine. The rash got no better, and it used to itch and burn at night so bad that the child could not sleep. He was completely covered with it at different times. It was at this time that my mother advised us to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for about nine months the places disappeared. There are not any scars, or other kind of disfigurement, and baby is completely cured by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We have no further trouble with baby's skin. Nothing stopped the itching, and allowed baby to sleep but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Margaret Gunn, 29 Burrell St., Roxbury, Mass., March 12, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to Cuticura, Dept. 14 K, Boston.

KILLED A SUFFERING WOMAN

Two Shakers Are Sent to Jail in Florida for Poisoning Tuberculosis Victim.

Ashton, Fla.—Egbert Gillett and Elizabeth Sears, members of the Shaker colony here, are in jail charged with causing the death of Sadie Marchant, another member of the colony, by the use of poison.

Sadie Marchant died and was buried on the colony land by Gillett and a woman known as Sister Amanda. The officers were notified of the occurrence and after an investigation arrested Gillett and the Sears woman. They admit giving the woman the poison, asserting that the victim was hopelessly ill with tuberculosis and wanted to die and escape from her sufferings. They acceded to her appeals and gave her chloroform.

SPLENDID CANADIAN CROPS

Wheat, Oats and Barley Universally Good Throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The reports that come to hand from the wheat fields of the western Canadian provinces show remarkably good yields in all parts. Yields are recorded of wheat going 35 and 40 bushels in many places, and oats from 60 to 100 bushels per acre. Barley and flax are splendid. The thousands of Americans throughout the United States who have friends in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta will be pleased to learn of the great success that has followed their efforts. Many of these have not confined themselves to the growing of grain, but have also gone into the cattle industry. On the luxurious grasses that are so abundant there, in almost all districts, make this industry safe and profitable. The land sales reported by the railway companies and by the different land companies show the great increase that will likely take place during the next year in farming operations. What has been said time and time again may now be well repeated, that there is no place on the American continent where the same opportunities are afforded the man looking for a home, for the young man starting out in life, the man with a growing up family, who desires wider scope for his ambition. The Canadian government agents located at different points in the states will be glad to advise the reader of the conditions, and relate to him instances of the great success that has followed farming in Western Canada.

OLD GUN FACTORY

One of the Many Historic Places in Pennsylvania.

Where the Henrys Manufactured Small Arms for the War of 1812 and Later for the Civil War.

Nazareth, Pa.—One of the most historical places in eastern Pennsylvania is the Henry gun factory about three miles northeast of here. It was here that the Henrys manufactured rifles, muskets and pistols for the war of 1812, for the Civil War and for the North American Fur company, of which John Jacob Astor was at one time president.

Ever since the Henrys came to America from England, they have been identified more or less with government service, either as soldier, statesman or manufacturer of arms. The first of the Henrys in this country was Hon. William Henry of Lancaster. There he established a factory for the making of firearms in 1752. His muskets and rifles were in demand during the Revolutionary war, and he could hardly make them fast enough. He was in charge of small arms during the Braddock and Forbes expeditions in the French and Indian wars. He was present at the attack of Fort Duquesne. During the battle he saved the life of the Delaware Indian chief, Killbuck. According to an Indian custom, Henry and the chief exchanged names. It is said that to this very day the Killbuck family retain the name of Henry as the middle name, both male and female. William Henry was also active in the Revolution as deputy quartermaster general and superintendent of arms and military accoutrements. When Gen. "Mad" Anthony Wayne was contemplating the attack on Stony Point, he sent word to William Henry to "hurry up those guns." In 1784 and 1785 Henry was also a congressman.

His son, William Henry, Jr., came to Nazareth in 1780 and entered into a contract with the state of Pennsylvania and the United States government for the manufacture of muskets. He built a small factory at Nazareth, but the water power was poor and the demand for muskets much greater than the supply. It was to facilitate this work that he built the Henry gun factory at Bolton, about three miles northeast of Nazareth. It is situated in one of the most delightful spots along the Bushkill creek, formerly known by the Indian name, Lehitcon. This was in 1812, when the government was pressing the factory with orders for the war then waging. A few years later the works passed into the hands of his sons, William Henry third and John Joseph Henry. They jointly conducted the business till 1823, when the latter became the sole owner.

The fame of the Henry rifle had spread along the whole frontier, and when John Jacob Astor organized the North American Fur company he ordered all his supply of rifles from the Henry factory. The rifles were to be of a certain style and the Henrys had the only factory at that time that could furnish them. Ramsey Crooks, afterwards president of the North American Fur company, was sent there by Astor to order the supply and personally compliment the gun manufacturers upon the satisfaction given by these rifles.

The manufacture of these rifles ceased when the fur trade died out and the North American company went out of existence. During these years, many rifles and pistols were manufactured by the Henrys for the militia of the south and west and figured very prominently in the Civil war.

RABBIT SWALLOWS A SNAKE

Hunter Finds a Colorado Cottontail That Has Taken to Strange Food.

Grass Valley, Colo.—While out hunting, Harry Seymour shot and killed a young cottontail rabbit. When he was about to pick up the dead animal Seymour noticed something protruding from its mouth. Upon investigation he discovered that it was a portion of a small bullsnake. Seymour removed the piece of snake, which was several inches in length, and threw it away. After cutting the rabbit open other portions of the snake were found in its stomach. The snake was at least a foot long. This is the first instance of the kind known.

LOST 20 POUNDS.

In Bed Seven Weeks With Terrible Kidney Trouble.

A. Dearth, Main St., Camden, O., says: "I was in bed seven weeks with kidney trouble and grew worse in spite of all the doctor could do. Kidney secretions were in terrible condition. If left standing they thickened like glue and had to be removed with a knife. My own doctor gave me up. I then called in a specialist who said I was beyond recovery. I had lost over 20 pounds and was but a shadow of my former self. I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and soon felt better. Continuing, I was cured and have not had the slightest trouble since."

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try It Free

Simple Way for Any Family to Retain the Good Health of All Its Members.

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, has the best claim to attention from constipated people.

Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, water, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mrs. John Graveline of 12 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich.; Mr. J. A. Vernon of Omaha City and thousands of others. It can be obtained any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first, a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.
