About Silo And Ensilage

For thirty years the talk of silos and ensilage has been going on and it is surprising how little has been done in this direction. The great waste of rough feed keeps on, only here and there the wise man builds himself a "food safe," because that is certainly the proper name. Every farm ought to have a 100-ton silo and it would pay for itself each year.

They say that silos increase in number in direct proportion with the increase in the price of land. There is a reason for this. Three acres of pasture are about the average in farming communities for one dairy cow. But three acres of land in an average year in Nebraska will return about thirty tons of corn silage. This is silage enough for five or six dairy cows for a year. The advantage of the silo in this case is apparent. In some older dairy countries when the price of land has become very high the pasture has practically disappeared.

Yes, the silo has come to stay. It is an economical building. It saves space time money and worry. Well preserved silage makes good, cheap milk, pork, beef, mutton and eggs. The hen is one of the saving graces of farm life and she likes silage and expresses her appreciation in more eggs for the market basket. In limited quantities it is an excellent feed and tonic for horses. But a good dairy cow with six tons of silage and two tons of alfalfa in front of her for her year's menu is the greatest promise of permanent prosperity that we know of.

Then, too, beef cattle feeders have proved the value of silage for putting on beef. A feeder reports a gain of four pounds a day for thirty-seven days on one hundred steers with a ration of twenty-pounds chop, twenty pounds silage, five pounds alfalfa. That is going some. J. W. Ayr, Nebraska, March 4th. —Hastings Democrat.

A Temperance Man

A gentleman took the pledge, but somehow his abstinence from moderate quantity of wine he was accustomed to drink did not agree with him. His doctor was sent for, who recommended a slight alcoholic stimulant. "How can I," said the sick man, "violate my vow? I have forbidden my servants the beer which they love so well, and I am going to preside at a blue ribbon meeting next week." "All I can say," said the doctor, "is that a stimulant is necessary for your health. You had better get a bottle of whisky and hide it away and when your shaving water comes up just mix yourself a tumbler of whiskey and water." The doctor departed, and meeting the patient's servant a week afterward, he asked him how his master was getting on. "Oh very well as to bodily health," was the reply; "but between you and me, sir, I think he has gone wrong in his head—he has taken to shaving himself six times a day."

How it Worked.

"How did that assembled car of yours work, Slithers?" asked Bildad. "Oh, like a good many other assemblies—when we got out on the road with it there'd always be some kind of a deadlock, and we couldn't pass anything." said Slithers.—Harper's Weekly.

Degrees of Opinion.

Let us not say to ourselves that the best truth always lies in moderation. In the recent average. . . . At the time of the Spanish Inquisition the opinion of good sense and of the just medium was certainly that people ought not to burn too large a number of heretics; extreme and unreasonable opinion demanded that they should burn none at all.—Maceterlinck

Boy Scouts Form Organization

The Council of the Boy Scouts met last Monday evening and perfected an organization as follows:

- B. W. Stewart, President.
J. C. Mitchell, Vice President.
E. G. Caldwell, Secretary.
D. H. Kaley, Treasurer.
L. H. Blackledge, Scout Commissioner.
R. D. Moritz, Dr. D. D. Sanderson and the above officers, Executive Com.
E. J. Overring, Scout Master.
Messrs. Cather, Gilham, B. Saunders, D. W. Turnure, F. W. Cowden, Finance Committee.
Rev. Byron Tompkins, Cole, Bates and Father Fitzgerald, Court of Honor Committee.

A charter will be obtained and the Scout Master commissioned and active work will be begun at once. This movement is to be conducted independent of any organization, the boys will be put on their honor and their progress will depend upon their conduct and qualifications. Much interest is being shown by our boys and good results are expected. The Council was increased to the number of thirty, and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the President.

Early New England Money

The first settlers of New England found wampumpeage, sometimes called wampum and sometimes peege, in use among the aborigines, as an article of adornment and a medium of exchange. It consisted of beads made from the inner whorls of certain shells found in sea water. The beads were polished and strung together in belts or sashes. They were of two colors, black and white, the black being double the value of the white. The early settlers of New England finding that the fur trade with the Indians could be carried on with wampum, easily fell into the habit of using it as money. It was practically redeemable in beaver skins, which were in constant demand in Europe. The unit of wampum money was the fathom, consisting of 300 white beads worth sixty pence the fathom. In 1648 Connecticut decreed that wampum should be "strung suitably and not small and great uncomely and disorderly mix as it formerly hath been." Four white beads passed as the equivalent of a penny in Connecticut, although six were usually required in Massachusetts and sometimes eight. In the latter colony wampum was at first made legal tender to the amount of twelve pence only. In 1641 the legal tender limit was raised to ten pounds, but only for two years. It was reduced to forty shillings. It was not receivable for taxes in Massachusetts. The use of wampum money extended northward as far as Virginia.—Banking Reform.

Recently the baseball editor of a metropolitan paper was sent to report the sermon of a new minister as the religious editor was ill. This is the copy he turned in: "Quite a bunch was present last Sunday evening at the church owing to the presence of a new star and the box of boosters was anxious for a line on his work. Rev. — is certainly there with the goods and performed to the satisfaction of all present. Owing to the fact that this was his first appearance on the local grounds he was a little nervous the first inning. Encouraged by the coaches in the 'Amen corner' he let himself loose and had the game well in hand from then on. His new Jerusalem slow ball is a peach and when he turned loose on eternal punishment his speed was terrific. As this was his first workout it is too early to try to predict a future for him, but if he can keep up the gait he has started with it's him for the big league next season."

Don't Be Bald

Nearly Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair

We have a remedy that has aided to grow hair and prevented baldness in 93 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c and $1. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, The H. E. Gries Drug Co.

The Real Estate and Farm Loan Department in the Chief office has for sale a large list of Webster and Franklin county farms, the best and cheapest all-purpose farms to be found. This part of the Republican Valley country is the heart of the Corn and Alfalfa Belt, and is unexcelled for easy, thrifty farming. The soil is fertile and produces bountiful crops of corn, wheat and alfalfa, and this is one of the best districts in which to raise grain, hay and hogs, and feed cattle. Among their list are a number of farms that will pay good interest on the investment; several that can be purchased on easy payments and special deals; and many that will pay their way and grow in value. The prices vary according to quality, location and improvements. This country has good schools, rural mails, telephones, good roads, convenient markets and shipping facilities, and every qualification necessary to profitable grain and stock farms, dairy farms and feeding stations. Land values, prices and terms that should interest any land-buyer or homeseeker. Also a number of desirable City Properties listed and several good local farm trades. Correspondence solicited.

Build a Home In 1912 and Rejoice

every anniversary thereafter like a lot of your friends do who gave up the chase for elusive riches long ago and started to build their fortunes in the good old substantial way of our Pilgrim Fathers. Remember, "A rolling stone gathers no moss," and nothing will stop a family from rolling quicker than a comfortable home. It gives husband, wife and children something to work for and once you get such a union of action from the whole family, success is bound to crown your efforts. We've been preparing for a lot of home building here this year and have a stock of lumber that outclasses in quality even that which your grandfather used when he built his home sixty years ago, and you know that's "going some." Come in and see it.
