Interest In The Boy Scout Movement Grows Stronger With Each Day

A STRETCHER OF POLES AND COATS Early in the Scout Training Comes "First Aid" Information.

Some have expressed an adverse opinion as to the boys scout movement on the ground that there is too much fun connected with the organization which would interfere with the boy's regular duties. This opinion undoubtedly grows out of a very much mistaken idea of the real work of the scouts. There are few men who can measure up to the requirements of a first class scout. We are informed that there is only one in this state. Just to show what it means to be a scout we give the requirements of the different degrees of scoutcraft.

There are three classes of scouts among the boy scouts of America, the tenderfoot, second-class scout and first-class scout. A tenderfoot is superior to the ordinary boy because of his training. To be a tenderfoot means to occupy the lowest grade in scouting. A tenderfoot on meeting certain requirements may become a second-class scout, and a second class scout on meeting another set of requirements may become a first class scout. The first-class scout may then qualify for the various merit badges which are offered for proficiency in scouting. The requirements of the tenderfoot, second-class scout and first-class scout are as follows:

Tenderfoot—To become a scout a boy must be at least twelve years of age and must be at least twelve years of age and must pass a test in the following: Know the scout law, sign, salute and significance of the badge; know the composition and history of the national flag and the customary forms of respect due to it; tie four out of the following knots: Square or reef, sheet bend, bowline, fisherman's, sheep-shank, clove hitch, timber hitch or two half hitches.

To become a second class scout a tenderfoot must pass to the satisfaction of the recognized local scout authorities, the following tests: At least one month's service as a tenderfoot; elementary first aid and bandaging; know the general directions for first aid for injuries; know treatment for fainting, shock, fractures, bruises, sprains, injuries in which the skin is broken, burns and scalds; demonstrate how to carry injured and the use of the triangular and roller bandages and tourniquet; elementary signaling; know the semaphore, or American Morse or Myer alphabet; track half a mile in twenty five minutes; or, if in town, describe satisfactorily the contents of one store window out of four observed in one minute each; go a mile in twelve minutes at scout's pace—about fifty steps running and fifty walking, alternately; use properly knife or hatchet; prove ability to build a fire in the open, using not more than two matches; cook a quarter of a pound of meat and two potatoes in the open without the ordinary kitchen cooking utensils; earn and deposit at least one dollar in a public bank; know the sixteen principal points of the compass.

To become a first-class scout the second class scout must pass the following: Swim fifty yards; earn and deposit at least two dollars in a public bank; send and receive a message by semaphore, or American Morse or Myer alphabet, sixteen letters per minute; make a round trip alone (or with another scout) to a point at least seven miles away going on foot or rowing boat, and write a satisfactory account of the trip and things observed; advanced first aid; know the methods for panic prevention; what to do in case of fire and ice, electric and gas accidents; how to help in case of runaway horse, mad dog or snake bite, treatment for dislocation, unconsciousness, poisoning, fainting, apoplexy, sunstroke, heat exhaustion and freezing; know treatment for sunburn, ivy poisoning, bites and stings, nosebleed, earache, toothache, inflammation or grit in eye, cramp or stomach ache and chills; demonstrate artificial respiration; prepare and cook satisfactorily, in the open, without regular kitchen utensils, two of the following articles as may be directed: Eggs, bacon, hunter's stew, fish, fowl, game, pancakes, hoe-cake, biscuit, hardtack or a "twist" baked on a stick; explain to another boy the methods followed; the spot, an intelligible rough sketch map, indicating by their proper marks important buildings, roads, trolley lines, main landmarks, principal elevations, etc. Point out a compass direction without the help of the compass; use properly an axe for felling or trimming light timber, or produce an article of carpentry or cabinet making or metal work made by himself. Explain the method followed; judge distance, size, number, height and weight within 25 per cent; describe fully from observation ten species of trees or plants, including poison ivy, by their bark, leaves, flowers, fruit or scent; or six species of wild birds by their plumage, notes, tracks or habits; or six species of native wild animals by their form, color, call, tracks or habits; find the north star and name and describe at least three constellations of stars; furnish satisfactory evidence that he has put into practice in his daily life the principles of the scout oath and law; enlist a boy trained by himself in the requirements of a tenderfoot.

The Villa of Cowles is Booming

The new city of Cowles is coming right to the front. That place was incorporated on the twenty-third of February the new addition was platted by Fox and McBride and the lots were placed on sale last Saturday the sixth of the month. On that day twenty four lots were sold and on Monday thirty-one others were snapped up and at train time on Tuesday thirty-three more lots changed owners. Besides the sale of these lots one twenty acre tract, one eight acre tract and one six acre tract were disposed of. The lots brought an average price of fifty dollars and the land one hundred dollars per acre. If Cowles keeps up this rate she will be the largest city in the state before the season closes.

The Y. P. dance club held forth Tuesday at Potter's hall with an after-ten dance. A good time was reported by all.
