Some Try.

Can a man love a woman he's afraid of?—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Before and After.

Before she is married a girl wants to be somebody's darling. Afterward she appears to desire to be somebody's boss.—Exchange.

Giants of Other Days.

While excavating the ruins of St. Piran's oratory, Cornwall, England, many skeletons have been dug up, several of them of human beings seven feet in height.

Cheaper Than a Bridge.

A railroad engineer in Ottawa, Kan., went to a dentist to have a bad tooth treated. The dentist told him that it would be necessary to put in a gold bridge, which cost $25. The railroad man looked in the glass at the departed molar, and then said: "Say, doctor, just put in a concrete culvert and set it up at that."—Topeka Capital.

DICKENS FITTED FOR STAGE

Kate Field, Excellent Judge of Character, Confident He Might Have Been Great Actor.

No one ever paid a much higher tribute to Dickens than did Kate Field. She had the soul of a poet, a discriminating taste in art and literature and wide knowledge of the world. In mentality she was fully as strong as either of her brilliant brothers, David, Dudley, Stephen J. or Cyrus W., and she certainly was as good if not a better judge of character.

She once wrote an appreciation of Dickens in which she declared the world lost its greatest actor when Boz became a writer. She gave a description of one of Dickens readings that was masterly in its vividness of detail. Such versatility as she credited Dickens with displaying as he assumed the character of first one and then another of his creations, the pathos, the humor, the tragedy he put into a tone; the marvelous way in which he stirred the emotions of old and young in his audience, would appear to be a bit extravagant were it not that now and then in later years some old man, looked upon as stern and unemotional, told with faltering voice how he stood in line all one night to buy a ticket to one of Boz' readings, and then went on to talk just about as Miss Field wrote, only before he got as far along in his story the tears were running down his wrinkled cheeks—his old heart strings still attune to the magic of The Master.

Difference in Icebergs.

No two icebergs appear to be exactly alike in size and shape. Some look, for all the world, like Arabs' tents as they glide along, and others like cliffs, castles, cathedrals, yachts, and occasionally they resemble some well known animal. Some of the pinnacles of a large berg rise nearly 1,000 feet above the water, while the base may occupy an area of ten or twelve acres. Seen through a powerful glass, one may detect waterfalls upon these islands of ice, and all kinds of arctic birds, and perhaps a few seals.

Then the colors are almost beyond description. The stately pinnacles glisten in the sun like powdered glass. At times the berg is pure white, at others it looks greenish.—From Harold J. Shepstone's "Icebergs" in St. Nicholas.

"Liked to Be Guiled."

Sir William Gull, the well-known London physician, was once the victim of an amusing piece of repartee on the part of a fellow practitioner. The occasion was a dinner party at which several distinguished medical men were present. The conversation happened to turn upon the subject of quackery, and Sir William Gull expressed his conviction that a certain amount of it was essential to success in practice, adding: "It is an example of the old saying, 'Populus vult decipi' (people like to be deceived). 'Quite so,' said the host; 'now, can any one present give an English equivalent to that?' 'Nothing easier,' dryly remarked a well-known physician of one of the Manchester hospitals. 'The public liked to be guiled.'"

Prosaic "Ghost."

Thinking they had seen a "ghost," a number of Dundee (Scotland) townsfolk, while walking through the cemetery recently, took to their heels and summoned the nearest gatekeeper. The "vision" which had aroused their alarm—that of a figure in scanty attire standing behind a gravestone, had vanished when they returned with reinforcements, and all there was to be seen was a large piece of red flannel. It afterwards transpired that the owner being greatly irritated by the flannel, which was next the skin, had gone to the cemetery with the idea of getting rid of it, which he could not do without shedding his garments.

Move to Aid the Poor.

Wanted Relief.
Suffering beneath the razor of an incompetent barber, the customer signaled to the operator to halt. "Yes, sir!" inquired the barber, inclining his head. "Give me gas!" said the customer.

Kind of Him.
"I am going to ask your father for your hand." "Oh, that will be lovely." "You are glad?" "Delighted! I will call and bring you flowers every day until you are able to be out again. I have never seen the inside of a hospital!"

Pig's Costly Banquet.
Pat could neither read nor write, and it appeared that he had always kept his records on potatoes by cutting certain marks in them for certain persons and amounts. One day his pig found his way into the room and made a sumptuous meal from the precious "records."

Stopped Waste of Water.
Water-waste detection has been made a science by the present city engineer of London. By its application he has reduced the daily consumption ten gallons per head of population. This saving is simply enormous. In East London alone it is enough water to meet the wants of a city of 400,000 inhabitants.

Breeders Attention
I will keep my Stallions and Jacks during the season of 1912 at the Old Day Barn, South Elm Street, where I shall be pleased to have both my new and old customers call and see me.

Bald Heads Not Wanted

Baldness is too generally considered a sign of advanced age

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 percent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and give satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test. We want every one in Red Cloud who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Red Cloud, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The H. E. GRIESE Drug Co.
