The track team of the high school made an excellent showing against the academy and high school team at Franklin last Friday scoring 16 1/4 points. This was the boys first work out and was indeed a good showing. And at the big inter state school meet at Hastings this month we look for our boys to hold their own.

Montgomery Doty while discing on the Throne farm several weeks ago recovered a gold watch that had been lost eight years ago this spring. The watch was lost by Geo. J. Warren while listing corn at the time, he owned the farm. The watch with stood all the elements of the weather for over eight years and after being examined by a jeweler will again be in running condition by a few dollars expense.

The Wolfe Patrol of the Boy Scouts liked to Franklin last Thursday so as to attend the track meet there Friday. Some unique experiences overtook them and slumber in an old musty meat market at Riverton, and the soft downy mattress of a cement ridge intermingled with the pleasant melodious notes of one of the scout musicians caused Captain Saunders to lead his men over the hill into Franklin where a peaceful repose awaited them and for further details ask the members of the patrol.

Mrs. Bell Clark Hughes, state organizer of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, was present at the regular meeting of Chapter Y, May 6th., at the home of sister Tompkins. Mrs. Hughes is quite a talented reader and gave two or three readings. At the conclusion of the chapter work a two course lunch was served. Mrs. Hughes organized a chapter in Franklin last night. Chapter Y being invited to assist in the organization twelve members of this city accompanied her to Franklin.

R. F. Orchard, a former resident of the county is making a brief visit in the city. Mr. Orchard was for many years a resident of Inavale. Originally a British sailor, in his youth he took part in the battles about Sevastopol in the Crimean war. A few years ago the old gentleman concluded to try the boasted climate of California and located at Artesia in the southern part of that state. While pleased with his new location, Mr. Orchard does not claim absolute perfection for the Pacific slope, and is willing to tell the exact truth about the soil, the climate and social conditions to anyone who cares to inquire.

Prepare For Big Encampment

Mr. H. C. Wolf commandant of Garfield Post No. 80 of the G. A. R., has received notice that the 36th annual encampment of the Nebraska department of the Grand Army and Relief Corps will be held in Beatrice this year, May 14, 15 and 16.

Extensive preparations have been made to insure the success of this meeting. Generals Sickles and Black and Hon. Church Howe and other notables are on the program, and the people of Beatrice are planning to make the encampment the best ever held by these patriotic organizations.

The fact that the ranks of the veterans of '61 to '65 are rapidly thinning emphasizes the importance of each gathering of the survivors, and a large attendance at this year's encampment at Beatrice is being worked for.

Harvey J. Graham

Harvey J. Graham, one of the old residents of the part of Kansas tributary to this city, was killed Thursday morning by accident. Just how he came to his death is not entirely clear. He was alone. His body was found at the foot of the windmill tower, from which he had been apparently swept off. There was some talk, at first, of suicide, but that explanation has been given up and public opinion has settled that he was the victim of accident. The dead man was nearly sixty seven years old. For the past twenty-five years he has made his home with his brother Frank just across the line in Kansas. A brother, Hugh, and a sister, Mrs. Hattie A. Hamill, of Grandview, Iowa, also survive him. The funeral services were conducted from the Mount Hope church and the body was interred in the cemetery nearby. Rev. Hummel officiated.
