The Baptist church, presented a most pleasing appearance Sunday. The building had been freshly papered and painted and the windows stained. As soon as one enters the church he experiences a restful agreeable feeling "which steals over his consciousness ere he is aware". The room is bright and cheerful and in itself expresses a cordial welcome to all comers. The ladies of the church were instrumental in securing the necessary materials and Rev. Cole performed the labor. The church officially expressed thanks to Rev. Cole for this work and also for the beautiful individual communion set which he presented them.

The Baptist Sunday school will observe Children's Day next Sunday at the hour of morning service; the exercises were deferred on account of painting the church, but will occur next Sunday, without fail. Cordial invitation is given to all.

I. W. ENSON, Supt.

Dr. E. A. Creighton has had his farm adjoining this city on the west surveyed and laid off into lots which he will offer for sale in a short time. These lots are conveniently located and will make excellent homes for many people. We understand that the Doctor has reserved a few acres for himself and that he will erect a handsome residence there as soon as he can perfect his plans.

The new firm of Weesner Perry & Co has assumed charge of the store which was recently purchased of W. A. Smith and is now ready for business. Besides all the fresh and nice groceries this new firm will carry a full line of dependable dry-goods and will make a specialty of ladies ready-to-wear garments. This firm has the confidence of the people of this community and we extend to them the glad hand and believe that their association with the public will be mutually profitable.

It was hardly dreamed, when the M. E. church building was erected that it would prove too small to accommodate the audiences. Sunday evening many were unable to enter the church because of its crowded condition. The exercises were unusually attractive, it being Children's Day. But the ordinary Sunday evening audience fairly fills the seating capacity of the church. Rev. Tompkins seems to be very fortunate in his ability to enlist the interest and activity of the young. His services are attended by young men and women in numbers greater, probably, than all the other protestant churches combined.
