County Commissioner:
District No. 2—W. G. Hoffman

As the campaign proceeds it is very evident that the candidacy of Senator Moorehead for the office of Governor is gaining ground every day. He has his own business an unqualified success and if elected he will give the same painstaking care to the business of the state as he has devoted to his own private interests. He is what is known as a self made man and his life has been one of achievement. This state needs a good careful business administration and Mr. Moorehead is well qualified in every way to give us just that kind of an administration.

Mr. Fred Maurer has made good in his first term in the office of county attorney. He was educated in the Red Cloud high school and in the University of Nebraska. He is a home product having spent his entire life in this county. His conduct of the office has called forth the commendations of persons of all political faith and his services have proven to be of material benefit to this county. He is a man of unblemished moral character and he is thoroughly efficient and painstaking in all his transactions. He is deserving a re-election, his administration merits and endorsement and he should be returned for a second term.

Who levies the taxes on our personal and real estate property? The county commissioner. Who spends our money so raised? The county commissioner. Then the man who fills such an office should be a man of prudence, a man who will carefully safeguard the interests of the county. Mr. W. G. Hoffman is just such a man and he is well equipped to do our business for us in a conservative business like manner. He is a man in whom the entire county has confidence. He is a man of thrift but not of extravagance, a man of economy but not of parsimony, a man of enterprise but not of prodigal expenditures.

One of the most important offices in the state is that of railway commissioner. A man to successfully transact the duties of this office should be a man who has some knowledge of the way rail roads are conducted and how they should be controlled. What better education could a man have for such a position than a traveling salesman? Mr. Harmon has been over practically every mile of road in the state of Nebraska, knows from actual experience how freight is handled, what the merchants and others want and he is just the man for the place. Mr. Harmon is a careful observer, a hard worker and a man of good sound judgment. No one will make any mistake in voting for Clarence Harmon for Railway Commissioner.

Notwithstanding the fact that this a presidential campaign year the people must not overlook the interests that are nearer home. The election of a member of our state legislature is just as important this year as it is during what is called an "off-year." The candidates on the Democratic ticket are men worthy of the support of all voters.

Mr. W. L. Weesner has established himself in this district as a man of sterling worth, of excellent character and a man of good common sense. It can be truthfully said that he is an honest conscientious, intelligent citizen and is capable of doing his own thinking. He served one term in the last legislature and his experience there will be of much benefit to the people of the state if he is intrusted with the office of state senator. He has agreed to vote for the people's choice for United States senator and he believes firmly in the rule of the majority.

Mr. G. W. Lindsey is aspiring to a re-election to the office of county representative can point to his record in the last legislature as a confirmation of his pre election promises. He did just what he said he would do. He redeemed every pledge and the knowledge that he gained of legislative procedure, the ins and outs of things, will make him a more useful member during a second term. We ought to follow the plan of our eastern counties in keeping a good man in the legislature long enough to get the best results from his activities and the Chief believes that it would be poor policy for Webster county to make a change at this time.
