An exchange gives the following rules on how to kill a town in short order. "Glory in the downfall of a man who has done much to build up your town. Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people. If a stranger comes to town tell him everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the near future. Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city papers. If you are a merchant, don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the editor to go elsewhere for advertisement, and how like a sore head because he does so. Buy a rubber stamp and use it. It may save you a few dimes and make your letter-heads look as though you were doing business in a one-horse town. If you are a farmer, curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your neighbors and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property much less valuable, but you don't care."—Shaffer's Alma Record.

Henry C. Richmond deserves a big endorsement at the polls next month by the people of Webster County. The Chief believes that he will receive a handsome majority here. He is a Webster county product. He obtained his start in this county and we feel that he is still one of us. Since leaving us he has made good in the larger fields of work. He has been entrusted with responsible and difficult tasks and he has always performed them with credit to himself and the people of this county. He is well qualified for the office of Auditor of State and if elected to that office he will perform the duties required accurately and precisely. Of this all may be certain, if Henry C. Richmond occupies the office of Auditor of State, every person in the state will be accorded a cordial, affable, gentlemanly reception. Vote for Henry C. Richmond for state Auditor.

Henry B. Simons

Henry B. Simons was buried last Wednesday afternoon from his home in this city, under the conduct of the G. A. R. post, Rev. Cole officiating as clergyman. Mr. Simons was born in Pennsylvania, in Wetmoreland county, April 17th, 1843, and was, therefore, in his seventieth year when he died. Mr. Simons was a boy of eighteen when Lincoln made his first call for volunteers, and he responded to the call with patriotic ardor. His first enlistment was in Co. I, 88th. Reg't. Pa. Vols., for three months. He re-enlisted for nine months in Co. G., 135th, Reg't, and renewed his service in 1864 for three years in Co. C. 4th Pa. Cavalry. He was mustered out, July 1st., 1865 at Lynchburg, Pa.

Six years afterwards he married Mary A. Kaley at Millroy, Pennsylvania, who with their only son, Elmer, survive him. Following the lead of H. S. and C. W. Kaley, their nephews Mr. and Mrs. Simons removed to Red Cloud in 1878, and have made their home in this county ever since. Here, also, their son Elmer has always resided.

Mr. Simons was a man of unusually large physical proportions, but his gigantic size was never made the occasion of imposing on his fellows. As peaceable and modest as if he were a smaller man, no body ever complained that he used his giant strength to the disadvantage of men of less stature and strength.

In politics, he was a staunch republican until the populist movement of 1890, since which time he generally cast his influence with the people's party.

Respected by his fellow citizens, his death diminishes the ranks of the surviving veterans of the war, and lessens the number of the old settlers, who will all miss him while they cherish his memory.

Hon. Rhoderic Dhu Sutherland

Rhoderic Dhu Sutherland of Nelson, Nuckolls county, is one of, if not the biggest man (morally, legally, intellectually and politically) in the Fifth congressional district, and as a candidate for congressional honors, stands without a peer in Nebraska. He is a Democrat of the progressive type, and one too who, when in the thickest of battle has never wavered, neither has he deserted the call "to arms," nor shown his back to the enemy.

Rhoderic Dhu Sutherland is a patriot of the "1776 brand."

For the past quarter of a century he has been marching side by side (figuratively and literally speaking) of William Jennings Bryan, the fearless and peerless leader of America's Democracy and that because of his popularity, loyalty and efficiency, he will be the elective choice of the voters in the Big Fifth.—Shield's Tamora Lyre.

FRED E. MAURER

County Attorney

Candidate For Second Term

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Attorney for second term, Democrat and Peoples Independent parties, subject to the will of the voters at the November election.

If elected I will not ask or accept the nomination for a third term.

During my present term I have tried to conduct the office in an economical, non-partizan, business-like way.

Not a dollar of county money has been spent for extra attorney fee, outside my salary. No appeals have been taken from the decisions of the County Commissioners and no expensive litigation indulged in at the expense of the county, yet no effort has been spared to punish crime. I have tried to be a prosecutor but not persecutor.

If elected I will give the office the same attention I do my individual business.

A Mighty Safe Place To Trade

First Number of Lecture FRIDAY OCTOBER 18.

Opera House Red Cloud POPULAR BOTH AS SINGER AND READER

Miss Fisher Shipp Praised by Press and Public.

Miss Fisher Shipp is among the elect of the lyceum artists. The people have chosen and applauded her from coast to coast. She is praised in the highest terms by public and press both as reader and singer. It is doubtful in which branch of art she is most popular. She takes the leading part also in a musical and dramatic sketch, ably supported by members of her company, and the audience is convinced that she might become a most successful actress.

Her accomplishments are of such merit that it is difficult to secure assisting artists whose work will not seem commonplace by comparison and be unappreciated, but in this respect there is a contrast only in the nature of their work and not in the quality. It is in every respect a well-balanced and harmonious company that renders programs to be long remembered with pleasure.

The personnel consist of Miss Fisher Shipp, reader and soprano; Miss Pauline Harrington, alto; Miss Marjion Barry, violinist; Lloyd A. Loar, mandolin, mando-viola, piano and manager.

Claims November 8th., Sale Date.

H. B. Miner, of Guide Rock, Nebr., claims November 8 as date for his sale of 50 thoroughbred Duroc males and gilts. Mr. Miner has one of the best herds in Nebraska or Kansas, and the blood is known far and near. His herd this year is in better condition than ever. If you want red hogs, you can have them, you don't need to buy any other kind. Remember the date, November 8th. More particulars later.

ALBERT SMITH & SONS THIRTEENTH ANNUAL

THOROUGHbred POLAND CHINA HOG SALE

To be held at the Farm 9 miles northeast of Superior, Nebr., and 2 miles southeast of Cadams, Nebr.,

Wednesday, October 30, 1912

The offering consists of 40 boars, 5 spring gilts and 2 matured sows with 15 fall pigs at side. The big pigs are not over fat but are well grown out. They are a splendid lot with plenty of bone, good length, fine coats, good head and ears, very heavy hammed, with very fine top lines. They are all early farrow and will have all the size you want. The gilts are the equals of the boars only not so well developed. The sows are 2 of the best young sows in the herd. One has 8 pigs and one 7. Buy one of these sows and you will be in the hog business.

We do not claim to have the biggest hogs in the corn belt but we do claim to have them as big as any one that has hogs that will mature in time to be any good to the farmer as a paying proposition.

If you are looking for a good herd boar come and see these pigs for we know they will suit you. We have a new line of breeding so our old customers can be supplied.

We are always glad to meet you on sale day whether you need hogs or not. You are welcome.
