

I have receiv ed a letter from a young lady, who asks me: "Is the old Peru-na (Ka-tar-no) better than the revised Peru-na?" Either medicine has its adapted for one condition, an. other for anoth er. Ka-tar-no is a better remedy for some conditions than the revised Pe-ru-

S. B. Hartman, M. D. na. On the other hand, the revised Peruna is a better remedy for some conditions than Ka-tar-no. They are both intended as catarrh remedies. They have both done a great work in relieving charrh, chronic and acute. Many hundreds of cases of chronic catarrh have recovered while taking Ka-tar-no and the same is true of the revised Pe-ru-na during the last six years since its revision.

There is a difference, however, in the two remedies. Whenever catarrh is associated with constipation then the revised Pe-ru-na is the best. Indeed, this is exactly why the revision was made, to meet such cases. But where no laxative is needed, where the bowels are regular or inclined to be loose, then the old Pe-ru-na (Ka-tar-no) is the better remedy.

Report of Labor Commissioner. Labor Commissioner Guye has issued a report relative to the operation of the factory inspection law passed at the last session of the state legislature. The report covers investigations for the fiscal year ending October 1 and shows a wide range of industrial activities. The report shows 318 persons have been injured during the past twelve months, fiftyeight of which proved fatal, thus showing that 18.3 per cent of the total number of reported accidents were fatal. The total loss in time occasioned by accidents was 5,676 days, which, based upon an average daily wage of $2.50 makes a total loss of $14,190, thus showing one accident for every working day, with one death for every 5.3 days throughout the entire working year.

Packers Will Obey Law.

State Food Commissioner Niels P. Hansen has just returned from St. Joseph, where he visited candy factories and conferred with jobbers in regard to the branding of dried fruit. Mr. Hansen obtained a promise that raisins in packages would hereafter be branded with the net weight. Up to this time packages of raisins sold in Nebraska have borne a brand showing a certain weight at the time of packing. The fruit is generally in 12 or 16 ounce packages, sealed in such a way that air cannot get in. Mr. Hansen says there is little or no evaporation and he insists on the net weight of the contents of packages being branded on the outside as required by State Pardon Board Meets.

The state pardon board spent three lays at the penitentiary last week listening to applications for pardons and paroles. The board concluded its labors Wednesday afternoon after holding five hearings. More than fifty prisoners got the ear of the board to lay before them their applications. either for a pardon or a parole. Six paroles were granted, but a rule of the board is to the effect that the applications of prisoners for paroles are not made public because if they were those paroled would have no opporlunity to recover lost ground if it should be learned that they had served terms in a penal institution. There are still a number of applications for pardons and paroles pending and the board will hold another session early 'n December.

Although the two new buildings at he state hospital for the insane will be completed within ten days or two weeks, they will stand idle for at least six months because the last legislature failed to make a sufficient appropriation to provide for making water, sewer, steam and lighting connections for the new buildings or for furnishing them. The connections will cost from $6,000 to $10,000 and the furniture about $16,000.

SUCCESS FOLLOWS JUDICIOUS FARMING

IN WESTERN CANADA IT CERTAIN.

The story of the Big Farmer in Western Canada, and the immense profits he has made in the growing of grain, has been told and retold. He has been found in all parts of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. His splendld farm buildings have been pictured, his traction outfits described and his princely sur-roundings, resultant of his success in growing grain, have been portrayed by letter, press and camera. It certainly is not to his discredit that by successfully applying common sense and up-to-date methods to the conditions that climate, a good soil, and splendid market have placed at hand, that he has made the best use of them. He is not too proud to admit that he came to the country a very few years ago handicapped as to money, leaving behind him unpaid mortgages in his old home land (which are now wiped out), and he is still today the same goodhearted fellow he was in the days that he had to work for a neighbor, while the neighbor broke the land on his homestead, which went to make up the settlement duties.

Then, there, too, is the farmer and the farmer's son, already wealthy, who has bought large holdings in Western Canada, in either Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, who has made forty to one hundred per cent, on his investment, whose big grain crops and whose immense cattle herds are helping to improve the country. Health and strength, energy and push, and bull dog grit are as essential in Western Canada as in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, or any of the states from which so many of these people come, and then, when you have added to that a fair amount of means, with which to make a start, the land which is only waiting for the skill of the husbandman will quickly respond.

But there is the smaller farmer, the man who has not made sufficient in four or five years, that he might comfortably retire if he felt like it. There are many of them in all the three Provinces. It is not the less to his credit that he has earned his homestead by the three years residence, that he is free from debt, and has a reasonable bank account. He, too, came to the country handlcapped by debts, and with very little means. He is contented, has a good home, land free of encumbrance, some stock, and with good prospects. One of these writes: "I formerly lived near Dayton, Ohio, on a rented farm, had as good a chance as the average renter. but after ten years of hard work, satisfied myself that if I ever expected to secure a home, I would have to undertake something else. Hearing of Western Canada, I investigated, and seven years ago last Spring settled in a homestead and purchased (on time) an adjoining half section, arriving with a carload of household effects and farm implements, including foar horses and three cows, and $1,800 in money-my ten years' work in Ohio.

"The first year our crops gave us feed, the second year 100 acres of Edson Rich of the Union Pacific | wheat gave us $1,800; no failure of crop since starting here. I have now 22 head of horses, 15 head of cattle, and 35 hogs. We own 1.120 acres of land, and have same all under cultivation. Was offered at one time $35.00 per acre for a half section where we live, and all the other land could be sold today on present market at $30.00 per acre. Should we care to dispose of our holdings, could pay all debts and have over $30,000 to the good, but the question is where could we go to invest our money and get as good returns as here?

"We have equally as good, if not better prospects for crops this year, as we had three years ago, when our wheat reached from 30 to 48 bushels per acre. I never believed such crops could be raised until I saw them my-self. I had 15 acres that year that made 50 bushels to the acre. Our harvest will be ready by the 12th. We have this season in crop 400 acres of wheat, 125 of oats, 90 of flax, and run three binders, with four men to do the stooking.

"We certainly like this country, and the winters, although the winters are cold at times, but we do not suffer as one would think. What we have accomplished here can be duplicated in almost any of the new districts. If anyone doubts anything I have said in this letter, tell them to come here, and I can prove every word I have written."

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 27.

WANDERINGS IN DECAPOLIS.

LESSON TEXT-Mark 7:31-8:10, GOLDEN TEXT-"He bath done all things well: He maketh even the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak."—Mark

Last week we saw our Lord in the region of Tyre and Sidon dealing with the Syrophenician woman. In v 31 (R. V.) we now see him journeying back towards the Sea of Galilee through the border of that section containing ten cities, for that is what the word Decapolls means. 1. JESUS THE HEALER (TV. 31-87). Jesus had gone north seeking rest but he "could not be hid," and now upon his return be continues to meet these sad cases which need healing, and who are brought to him by their intensely interested friends. Jesus does not need beseeching. He whose heart was touched with compassion is ready to hear the faintest cry.

This first section is rich with suggestions. Jesus takes the man apart suggesting the necessity for individual personal dealing with God. Men are not saved en masse but as separate individuals, it could not be otherwise and have a man retain his personality. To work any cure for our sins Jesus demands our individual at-tention. Then Jesus placed his fingers in the man's ears; suggesting the added emphasis that we must come into personal contact with God if we would be healed. We may stop to reason (Isa, 1:18) with him but our sins, that be as scarlet, will not be removed unless we come by personal, individual, experience under the blood, (Eph. 1:7).

Moistening the man's tongue with his own saliva suggests that the source of healing is to be in Jesus' own person. Our salvation is not in the words he spake, nor the life he lived, but the life he gave (Heb. 9:12-14).

Fellowship With God. Jesus also looked to heaven, indicating that we must continue in fellowship with God, and also indicating his own fellowship with the father. Jesus sighed over the wreck of sin. The son of man came to bear our sorrows and to share our griefs. (Isa. 63:9). Attention has been called to the sighs and the tears of Jesus. If our prayers were more accompanied by tears and heartfelt sighs they would be more powerful. (cf. Romans 8:26). It is equally true that if our sighing were accompanied by more prayers we would accomplish more in his kingdom.

After these preliminary and sugge tive acts Jesus spoke the one word "Ephphatha"-Be opened-and deaf ears were opened to words of praise and counsel and to the cry of distress. Loosed was the man's tongue to speak his word of personal testimony and to witness for his healer. Read Isaiah 32:1-4 and 85:4, 5.

II. JESUS THE PROVIDER (VV. 1-10, cf. Matt. 15:32-38.)

The tremendous stir Jesus caused is graphically suggested by Mark in verse one of this section. From far and near they had gathered and now at the end of the third day their small supply of food is exhausted. We are told by John (6:26, 27) why they had followed him, still they were deeply interested in him and considered him to be a prophet (John 6:14). Nevertheless Jesus was moved with a compassion then, even as now he is moved when he beholds us in our unworth-

No Hunger Too Great

The compassion of Jesus is a very active principle, it does not consist of sighs and lamentations, or of investigations and condemnation of conditions. His compassion causes him to act. But the disciples are aghast at his suggestion that he feed this multitude of "about four thousand." "Whence shall one be able to fill these men with bread" (R. V.)? On the other occasion Jesus had asked Philip, who lived in the near-by town of Bethsaids, where they might find bread; but now they are in a desert place. It may seem strange for the disciples to ask such a question. He had fed a larger number with smaller resources.

After taking stock (v. 5) Jesus commands the people to sit down. He received their seven loaves (v. 6) and brake and gave, first to the disciples, and through them to the people. Such as they had, first given to him, responding to his touch, was enough and to spare (v. 8). When we give him our all he will bless, multiply and use.

Our Golden Text (v. 87) is suggestive of a wide application in teaching this lesson. We have in this lesson two incidents as illustrations. In both we can see those principles that govern his life and ministry, vis., unvarying loy-alty to God and unwearying compassion for poor, weak humanity. As has already been suggested, we also see that the methods of Jesus varied, according to the individual need and always with the unswerving purpose of glorifying God. The same lesson of careful conservation of what remained is taught as in the case of the feeding of the five thousand

POLLY VICTIM OF DECEPTION

Bird Realized Perior' Between Its Temporary Oblivions Had Been Materially Cut Short.

The Goodleys have a sailor son, who on one occasion brought home a parrot for the amusement and enlightenment of the family. They kept it for the sake of the donor-on no other account would it have been given house room. Of course, it was a perfectly respectable bird-occasionally; but on Sunday evenings, when young Mr. Saintly paid his regular visit, it was deemed advisable to cover Polly with a cloth.

Recently, however, Mr. S. took advantage of a half-holiday accruing to him, and made an extra call on the Wednesday. As he was ushered in Miss Mary Goodley dextrously threw the cloth over Polly's cage. Greetings over, there ensued the usual awkward pause, which was broken by a squawk from the covered cage.

'Well, I'll be everlastingly blessed," said Polly. "This has been a thundering short week!"

HANDS ITCHED AND BURNED

Abbotsford, Wis .- "My son had eczems on his hands for about one year. The eczema started with a rash. His hands were sore so he could not close them, and when he wet his hands they hurt him so he could hardly wash. His hands itched and burned just terrible and if he would scratch them, they would break out into sores. He could not get any rest or sleep, and his hands looked quite bad.

"We had medicine and salve and it kept getting worse all the time. I got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after washing his hands with the Cuticura Soan and putting some of the Cuticura Ointment on two times a day and tying cloths on them for about six months they got well and have not broken out since. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured him entirely." (Signed) Mrs. Lawrence Kiehl, Feb. 18, For SALE BY DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS
