Not until the end of the week, if all goes well, with the physicians be prehis physicians said he was by no pared to say that their patient is iut of danger. The intervening period will be required to determine whether blood poisoning or other complications are to be feared.

> Chicago.—Theodore Roosevelt was not merely superficially wounded by the bullet fired into his breast in Milwaukee by John Schrank. After an examination and consultation the phy sicians definitely described the injury as "a serious wound in the chest," and not "a mere flesh wound."

> The physicians asserted, however, that it is not now necessary to probe for or move the bullet. Even this action was thought undesirable and the patient will be kept as calm as his nature will allow for a few days.

> The bullet, as shown by the X-ray photographs brought from Milwaukee by Dr. J. D. Jannsen and corroborated by others taken in Mercy hospital, lies not far from the breast bone on the right side, and probably five inches below the collar bone. The missile did not get inside the ribs, but ploughed upward and inward for a distance of some five inches from where it entered.

> The colonel's concern is not apparently for himself, but for those whom he feared might be too fearful for his condition. He read a few of the hundreds of telegrams that poured into his room, and was particularly delighted with several from men of note whom he met while abroad.

HIS MIND UP IN THE CLOUDS

Professor Imagined Appeal Was From Fido, and the Situation Became Embarrassing.

A great lover of animals, Professor Dryasdust was much given to having his pet dog sitting beside him at meal times eating tidbits from his own litthe plate.

The other evening he was at a dinner party, and his partner was a very great lady, who was proud of her deposit in Lincoln banks $20,000 which title. But the professor paid absolutely no attention to her. His mind had switched off on to some abstruse point and he was lost to the world over the problem.

The duchess did not approve of this, and presently, to attract his attention, she pulled him gently by the sleeve. Then the professor woke up. Grabbing a half-picked chicken bone from his plate, he thrust it under her startled nose. "Don't bother just now, Fido!" he said curtly. "Here, take this and go and eat it on the mat, like a good dog-
