Miss Fern Averill of Des Moines, Iowa, an expert trimmer, arrived in the city the last of the week and has accepted a position in the Miss Grace Dedrick millinery parlor.

John L. Christian shipped four cars of stock to Kansas City on Sunday. John chaperoned the shipment and spent a few days at that place looking after business matters and seeing the sights.

Do you notice that J. H. Bailey is making the most of the farm loans? He is sole agent for Trevett, Mattis & Baker, and is offering the best rates, terms and option in the market and that is the reason.

Sylvester Long, who was to have lectured here on Saturday night, and by so doing filling the Fifth Number of the Lecture Course, was unable to reach here owing to the heavy storms of Friday and Saturday.

N. R. Simpson was treated to a surprise dinner on last Saturday the occasion being his 71st birthday. The dinner was prepared by his wife and family, the W. R. C. and G. A. R. and was a feast fit for a king.

Andy Hart has returned from Omaha where he attended the automobile show. Andy was a guest at the Dewey hotel the night it burned but escaped uninjured, due probably to his long experience with asbestos, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ramey's daughter, Mrs. Whitney, died at her home in Cotesfield, Nebraska, last Saturday. She was an estimable young woman, and to the husband and parents who are left to mourn her loss, the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

Governor Morhead has appointed our J. O. Butler, at present county assessor of Webster county, and chief of the Red Cloud fire department, to the position of deputy fire warden. The appointment is a good one and J. O. will no doubt bear the honor with his usual ease.

Harry Huffer and wife, (nee Miss Etta Ferguson of Naponee,) spent last week in Clay Center. We overlooked the item of Harry embarking on the matrimonial sea, which fact occurred on Sunday February 22nd. The newly weds have begun housekeeping on the Crabill farm, northwest of town.

Be patient, dear reader, it has only been two short days since the management of this government was given over to the Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson. You can hardly expect a change, (whereby you shall become the proud possessor of more change) so soon, but we are confident that it is only a question of time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess returned Monday from David City, where they had been for some time past to be with their daughter, Mrs. Earl Danker, who resides at that place, and who had been seriously ill undergoing an operation. They report her getting along as well as could be expected, and that she was able to return to her home on Sunday.

Will "U." C. Crieder, who for the past three years has conducted an up-to-date tailoring establishment in this city, this week sold out to R. G. Hassinger, of Hastings, who comes recommended as an A. No. 1 workman in his chosen line. To the new proprietor The Chief extends the glad hand, and while we have not learned of Mr. Crieder's future plans, we trust that he will remain among us, so that we may forever C. Crieder.

The pupils of Miss Josephine Igou, the accomplished musical instructor, will give a recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Blackledge on Friday evening of this week. There are seventeen numbers on the program and the recital will no doubt be a rare treat to those who tread in the musical circles, and the fact that it is given by Miss Igou, is proof sufficient, of it being of a high order.

Glen Walker, the popular manager of the Red Cloud Auto Company, has returned from Omaha where he attended the automobile show.

Mrs. Geo. W. Lindsey, who has been seriously ill for some time in the sanitarium at Hastings, has returned to her home in this place.

Glen Ralph, a Red Cloud boy, who for the past year has been completing the course in the art of printing on the Benkelman Chronicle, arrived Tuesday morning for a few days visit with the home folks, north east of town. Judging from the fact that this is only the young man's second visit to the old home since he left, and the far away look in his eyes, we are inclined to believe the rumor, "there is a girl in the case."

Wednesday morning Judge Dungan ordered the matting, (which has for years adorned the aisles of the court room, and which long ago served its purpose,) to be taken from the room, and forever left out, condemning it as a menace to health. The Judge spoke in a touching manner of the necessity of the court having to hold forth in such a building. We trust that next time he may condemn the walls, and order them removed, which fact would probably make the necessity of a new court house conspicuous enough to be seen by all.

We understand that Editor Hale refused point blank to fill one of the pulpits Sunday evening. What a shame Bro. Hale, you missed the opportunity of your life. It would have been a great ad for you.—Com-Ad.

We acknowledge receiving the invitation, but it coming at such a time, in such a way, and at such a place, caused us to become a little suspicious, hence we declined. The minister in question had already announced his subject, for this particular evening through the columns of this great advertising medium, and the large congregation which had already assembled, had come expecting to hear the sermon as announced. Even though we had accepted, we would have did so at the risk of the congregation getting our subject confused with the one previously announced; we were not given sufficient time thus allowing us the opportunity to give the matter due publicity, which fact, no doubt, would cause some hard feelings by the hundreds who were not present, and try as hard as we may, cannot help but wonder if the said invitation was only given because of the fact that this said minister had arrived at the conclusion he had announced a subject a trifle "heavy."

Rev. Jarboe and wife will leave Saturday for Juniata to conduct meetings.

The March term of district court convened on Monday, with District Judge Harry S. Dungan, in the big chair. Court Reporter Geo. Baird was also on hand.

Tuck Amack went to Oxford Monday night to see his brother, Charley, who has been ill at that place for some time, and who is reported as not being so well at this writing.

Burden's Millinery Opening Saturday, March 8th. New and attractive ideas in spring styles. Betz's orchestra will furnish music from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Noah McDowell and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson were called to Stella, Nebr., Friday morning by the serious illness of Mrs. Mary Jones. Mrs. Jones is the mother of Mrs. McDowell and Sam Jones and a sister of Mrs. Robinson.

John Yost, whose name has ever been linked with tink sausage and tender meat, is this week fixing to installing a new ice chest, new counters and a new rendering tank. John runs a first-class market and this new equipment will greatly add to the convenience of both proprietor and patrons.

Rev. Tompkins' Sunday school class entertained Mrs. Wullbrandt's and Mrs. Cox's class Tuesday evening in the M. E. church parlors. Amusements consisting of games and guessing contests were played. An oyster supper was served to which all present did justice too. All present reported an enjoyable evening.

Paul Storey, the clothier, is this week having the interior of his store remodeled. He is having a large balcony built in the rear of the room, on the north side, which will give quite an additional amount of floor space. Heretofore he has been required to use a room up-stairs as a store room, which, under the new arrangement will be done away with. New glass cases, with sliding doors are to be installed, in which to hang suits, thus keeping them free from dust, and at the same time greatly adding to the convenience of showing them. Paul is ever on the alert to keep in the front ranks, and these new improvements will make his popular gents' furnishing establishment equal to any to be found in a much larger city.

Carl Rudd this week went back to the simple life, moving out to his farm south of Inavale.
