BE ON THE SAFE SIDE

It is true that you are not likely to lose your savings if deposited in any good bank—but you are ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN NOT to lose them when you deposit where you have the additional protection of the State Guaranty Law. Such protection is offered you here.

It is surely "good business" to deposit where you get absolutely guaranteed protection, in preference to placing money in a bank that guarantees nothing.

The State Guaranty Law is behind every dollar deposited in this bank, and when you open an account here, you are ON THE SAFE SIDE.

Harry Brown Dies Suddenly

Harry Brown succumbed to a acute attack of heart trouble yesterday afternoon, while working in the shop of Chas. Strong. He was engaged in mending door or window screens, when without any warning, with his hammer in his hand and his pipe in his mouth, he fell over upon the screen, and not withstanding the efforts of Drs. Mitchell and Creighton who were immediately called to revive him, death took place without any restoration of consciousness. Between the time of falling and the giving him up but a few minutes intervened. Mr. Brown grew from childhood in this city. His brother Horace is the only relative here, Mrs. J. L. Miller, who formerly lived here, was an elder sister. Harry was very popular with the young men of this vicinity, a leader in their games, of good habits, industrious and capable.

The coroner's jury returned the verdict that the deceased came to his death at about 4 o'clock on the 28th day of May 1913, of heart failure.

Resolutions

Since in his wise providence our Heavenly Father has taken from our midst our beloved sister in temperance work Mrs. Savilla Rife—we the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Red Cloud wish to take this opportunity to express to her family our deepest sympathy in their heavy loss.

She had the greatest interest in our work and was always present whenever possible at our meetings. We shall all miss her very much. May the God of all comfort and bless you in your sorrow is the prayer of your friends the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Grandma Sherwood Laid To Rest

Grandma Sherwood was buried Sunday afternoon, from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. P. Albright. Mrs. Sherwood, with her husband, John Sherwood came to this city soon after the building of the railway into our midst. The family immediately took its place as one of the leading families of the city, a position which has been maintained for the past thirty years. The husband, John Sherwood, first went into business as a merchant, subsequently becoming the principal local stockholder of the Red Cloud National Bank. Of their children, Eugenia, Mrs. Albright, and Walter, the cashier of the People's Bank still reside here. Another son Homer is in Utah. Three daughters died two of them after marriage, and one was unmarried.

Mrs. Sherwood was always closely identified with the M. E. church, of which she was an active member until advancing age compelled a gradual cessation of her activities. At the time of her death she passed the four score mark by a number of years, and Rev. Tompkins who conducted the funeral services appropriately took for his text the subject the death of the righteous, and desirability of righteous living. Mrs. Sherwood came to this vicinity from Mineral Point, Wisconsin, where her husband had been engaged in the mercantile business for a number of years. Grandma Sherwood was 81 years of age, and has left vacant a place which can never be filled.

To Automobile Owners

The Old Soldiers and the ladies of the Relief Corps so appreciated the kindness of the automobile owners when they tendered the use of their machines on Decoration Day the past two years that we believe it would be a real act of kindness if the owners would do the same thing this year. It is a long trip to the cemetery for many of the old soldiers and unless conveyance is provided some of them will have to stay at home. So be on hand with your car at 1 o'clock sharp.

Henry Gilham Receives Relic

Henry Gilham this week received a letter from S. L. Rule of Shullburg, Wisconsin, and also a copy of a weekly newspaper, "The Pick and Gad," which was published at that place on December 7, 1833.

The paper, indeed, is a rare old relic, and though beginning to turn yellow from age, is very well preserved. We note that it is made up in much the same style as the newspaper of today, as regards to the news matter, but contains some very unique ads. It seems as though the Pick and Gad office burned about a year ago and that a few copies of the first number were found in the ruins. Mr. Rule, being somewhat of a relic hunter, lately came into possession of a few copies, and says he has been asked several times to sell them to the State Historical Society, as they are not alone a rare relic, but contain accounts of several very important events which taken place in that state in this early day.

In reading over Mr. Rule's letter, which Henry permitted us to do, we note that Henry sent Mr. Rule a copy of this great advertising medium, and can't refrain from speaking of the pleasing sensation it gave us to read where Mr. Rule compliments us on turning out a highly creditable sheet, and also shows himself to be a very broad minded man, as he requests that we be informed of his opinion of The Chief, saying "publishers never get too many compliments."

In all, the paper and letter was a rare treat, and we can say that the only thing about them which caused us any pain was to learn that Mr. Rule was not a believer in dear old Democracy. In fact, he goes so far as to make the statement that he trusts that Henry and the other boys here not become "tainted" from living in the same state which Wm. J. Bryan calls home.

Sorry, indeed we are sorry, to think that Mr. Rule, after exhibiting such good judgment in judging a real newspaper, could go so far wrong in a political way, and we shall try hard to believe that it perhaps is all due to the Republican atmosphere of Wisconsin. But be this as it may, he has our sincere thanks for the brotherly feeling displayed, and we also feel indebted to Henry for permitting us to look over the said paper and letter.

Notice

All parties interested are requested to be at the Wagoner cemetery, Thursday, June 5, at 1 o'clock sharp for the purpose of burning off the old grass and cleaning up in general. A business meeting will be called at 4 o'clock.

By order of trustees,
Wm. Wolf,
Wm. Lippincott,
W. B. Wagoner.

Claims That Are Backed By Quality

The man who does the most talking doesn't necessarily have the most enthusiastic listeners. The business men who make the strongest claims are not necessarily the leaders in their line. We make strong claims but we back them up with the right kind of jewelry. It is easy to match our prices, but it's hard to match our quality.

Our stock of fine jewelry affords a wide choice for beautiful remembrances such as good taste dictates. Rare conceptions out of the common—designs from art workers in gold and silver who have left the impress of a skill that stands for real merit. Gifts of pearls, diamonds, sapphires, rubies, opals. Gifts to be put to practical use. Gifts for the home beautiful.

Last Count Next Wednesday

Contest Closes Saturday, June 14, at 6 p. m.

The votes in the Chief big automobile contest will be counted next week for the last time until the judges make the final count after the contest closes. This will mean that during the last ten days of the contest there will be no information given out as to the standing of the contestants and no one will know how many votes it will require to win the grand prize. Even at this time it is impossible to tell just how the contestants stand as some of the contestants may be holding back votes that do not show in the count published in the paper. During the last few weeks the contestants have had the right to turn in subscriptions and reserve the votes to turn in at a later date and it is hard to tell how many some may be holding back. Only the final count will bring out the true standing, therefore the contestant wishing to become the owner of the automobile should do as much work as possible and have as many votes in the ballot box as she can when the closing hour comes. The contest will close at 6 p. m. on Saturday, June 14. All subscriptions must be in by that time, as 6 p. m. will not mean five minutes after that time, but that it will close promptly at the time announced. As soon as the
