-Few Votes Are Cast

in Mexico.

Mexico City .- At the close of the election Sunday the indications were that not sufficient votes had been cast to constitute a legal choice for the presidency to succeed General Victoriano Huerta. No official report has been made and it is estimated, judging from the results in the capital, where it was expected that the vote would be up to the average, that less than 80,000 eligible voters in the republic went to the polls. There are said to be more than 3,000,000 eligible voters in the republic. It would be no surprise if congress, the members of which were also voted for, declared the election void when the body is organized and revises the returns.
