Many people in this city thoughtlessly persist in throwing their ashes into the streets. This practice costs the automobile owners a great many dollars in the course of a year. When an auto runs over a nail the tire picks it up. The nail goes thru the outer covering and penetrates the inner tube and nearly always tears this in such a way that it is ruined. This costs from three to four dollars which is very expensive. Throwing ashes in the street is in most cases done with out thought but it acts very detrimentally on the owners of autos and has the same effect as the some one has deliberately robbed them of three or four dollars as the case may be. There is an ordinance against the practice and the law abiding citizens will strictly comply with the law.

The Chief does not desire to curtail any fun that the boys of this city may enjoy but it does wish to sound the note of warning against some forms of fun that were practiced Hollowe'en night. We allude to the breaking in of the Washington school building. Before the Superintendent and Janitor left the building that evening every window was closed and firmly nailed down. During the night some boys pried a window open and entered the building. Many a man has been sentenced to a term in the state penitentiary for during no more than this. The law calls acts of this kind burglary and surely our boys do not wish to lay themselves liable to criminal prosecution. That the building was a school house makes no difference and we caution the young men to think the matter over very seriously before they ever again indulge in a prank of this sort.

Wanderlust.
"I'm going to take a long ocean voyage, to nobody knows where, and come back, nobody knows when. I shall sit down by the wayside wherever I please and play with the children of the street, the little brown babies of the Orient, perhaps, or the little blue-eyed Saxons, who knows? It's great to go as you please and come as you please, with no telegrams to send, no stress of meeting friends and missing friends, and all that."—New York Times.

Doctors Hold Session.

Disease received an awful jolt in this vicinity last week. The Doctors of the Republican Valley Medical Association met in convention in this city, not to discuss the subject of fees and compensation, but to compare notes on the best modes of relieving their patients, not of their cash, but of their ill, how to fill their veins with healthy blood, build up a vivid tissue and restore diminished vitality. There were forty physicians present, and during their stay among us the grim demon of sickness discreetly retired to his hiding place in the tall timber. In addition to the members of the association, Drs. Palmer Findley of Omaha and E. H. Everett of Lincoln, were present and gave their latest results from the city hospitals and practice on their specialties.

The Commercial Club extended the privilege of their handsome and convenient rooms which were occupied by the doctors in medical discussions and clinics during the day, while the ladies were preparing an appropriate banquet for the evening in the Masonic rooms. The physicians who attended felt themselves repaid in the wider outlook gained, and in the specific information received.

The city was pleased with the visitors, who made a favorable impression as a body of intelligent, earnest men equipped and equipping themselves to be the most possible service to humanity.

The banquet in the evening was a great success, in which it was a question whether the choice viands that delighted the palate were more appreciated than the delicacies of wit and wisdom which were served up to the fancy and understanding. The following is the program—
Scarlet Fever—Dr. J. A. Boren, Cowles
The Treatment of Hay Fever with Vaccines—Dr. J. N. Campbell.

What Your Money Buys Here

Whatever you buy here, be it a Wooltex coat or suit, an article of fur, a dress, waist or skirt--it represents in actual intrinsic value the full worth of your money.

Comparison with similar articles sold elsewhere in this city will invariable prove that our prices, when values are considered, are the lowest obtainable.

Then there is the additional advantage of selecting here the very latest word in style, for certainly there is no other style organization producing such authoritative garments as Wooltex.

For this wonderful styling ability we make no extra charge, and yet when your friends see you in a Wooltex coat or suit they give you credit for having paid many times more for it than you really paid.

Fulton-Hall

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's uncle Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fulton at 7:30 Wednesday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Mildred Fulton, daughter of V. B. Fulton, and Mr. Earl Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hall. Rev. W. F. Cole of Genoa was the officiating clergyman who tied the nuptial knot pronouncing the ceremony which united the lives of these estimable young people of our city. The wedding was a quite one, only witnessed by the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk serge and the groom the conventional black. After the congratulations nice refreshments were served, after an evening of most pleasantly passed in a social manner, the groom took his prize to the home he had furnished throughout and which needed only her to complete it.
The Chief along with the many friends extend congratulations.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.
