BIRDS HAVE FUN WITH HOGS

Woodpeckers Imitate Owner's Call to Feed and Animals Run Wildly From Tree to Tree.

A traveler down in South Carolina at the approach of twilight came to a farm that had a much more attractive appearance than those he had been passing all day. He concluded this would be a good place to stop for the night and turned into the lane leading up to the house. As he rode along he noticed a fine field of ripening wheat on one side and on the other a large drove of hogs, grazing in a woodland pasture. His attention was attracted by the peculiar action of these animals, which ran pellmell to the foot of a large tree, rooted around it and grunted for a moment, then were off like the wind to another tree, where the same process was repeated again and again.

On arriving at the house the owner of the farm came to the gate and greeted him, taking his horse and giving him a cordial welcome. The traveler referred to the peculiar action of the planter's hogs and asked him if he could explain the reason. He replied: "You see, it is this way, stranger; I had a bad case of bronchitis last fall and got so hoarse I couldn't even whisper. Just naturally had to call my hogs to feed some way and hit on the plan of rapping on the fence with a club. They got used to it and now them gold-darned woodpeckers are just natchally running my hogs to death."—Exchange.

ANXIETY.

Father—What?
 Edith—I said w-would you object to a son-in-law wid red hair?

Perfect Defense.
 The defendant, who was held on the charge of keeping a dog without a license, repeatedly tried to interrupt the evidence, but was hushed each time by the court. Finally the clerk turned to him:
 "Do you wish the court to understand that you refuse to renew your dog license?"
 "Yes, but—"
 "We want no 'buts.' You must renew your license or be fined. You know it expired on January 1."
 "Yes, but so did the dog."—Harper's Weekly.

His Comment.
 "They say that women keep the wheels of commerce going."
 "Maybe so. Here's a woman's programme when she buys anything; (She opens a handbag, takes out a purse and takes out a coin, shuts the purse and opens the handbag, shuts the handbag and adjusts her veil. I think business would slump if a man had to do all that every time he made a 5-cent purchase."

Frame Construction Is Most Preferable

for home building not only on account of its economy, but because of its adaptability to changing conditions. Homes built of wood are easily moved from one location to another; they can be altered or enlarged without injuring their general appearance for the reason that painting will make the old look as good as the new. Instead of painting being considered an expense it should really be held as an improvement because it freshens up the whole appearance of your home, and instead of ultimate decay and deteriorated value as is the case with substitutes that can only be renovated by building a whole new house, your home becomes constantly more valuable. This is only one of the little things to consider when building a home. "Little drops of water, etc., make a mighty ocean." Come in and we'll tell you more about lumber.

FIRE.

THE ALARM is a dreadful thing for the man without insurance. Every time he sees the engines racing along his heart comes up in his throat if the fire is anywhere near his place. What folly, what mistaken economy.

THE COST OF INSURANCE is so small that it need hardly be considered. The freedom from worry alone is worth it many times over. Have us insure you to-day.
