HUERTA'S POWER FAST CRUMBLING

No Peace in Mexico Until Dictator is Eliminated, Says President's Message.

MONEY BILL HELPS FARMER

Need of Legislation That Will Facilitate Getting of Capital for Agricultural Purposes -- Would Choose Presidential Candidates by Primary -Declares Himself for Philippine Independence-Should Let Anti-Trust Law Stand.

Washington, Dec. 2 .-- President Wilson appeared before the joint session of the two houses of congress today and delivered his annual message as follows:

in -pursuance of my constitutional duty to "give to the congress information of the state of the Union," I take the liberty of addressing you on several matters which ought, as it seems to me, particularly to engage the attention of your honorable bodies, as of all who study the welfare of the nation.

Departs From Custom.

I shall ask your indulgence if I venture to depart in some degree from the usual custom of setting before you in formal review the many matters which have engaged the attention and called for the action of the several departments of the government or which look to them for early treatment in the future, because the list is long, very long, and would suffer in the abbreviation to which I should have to subject it. I shall submit to you the reports of the heads of the several departments, in which these subjects are set forth in careful detail, and beg that they may receive the thoughtful attention of your committees and of all members of the congress who may have the leisure to study them. Their obvious importance. as constituting the very substance of the business of the government, makes comment and emphasis on my part unnecessary.

The country, I am thankful to say. is at peace with all the world, and many happy manifestations multiply about us of a growing cordiality and sense of community of interest among the nations, foreshadowing an age of settled peace and good will. More and more readily each decade do the nations manifest their willingness to bind themselves by solemn treaty to the processes of peace, the processes of frankness and fair concession. So far the United States has stood at the front of such negotiations. She will, earnestly hope and confidently be- use. It is to this we should now adlieve, give fresh proof of her sincere dress ourselves. adherence to the cause of international friendship by ratifying the several treaties of arbitration awaiting renewal by the senate. In addition to these, it has been the privilege of the department of state to gain the assent, in principle, of no less than 31 nations, representing four-fifths of the population of the world, to the negotiations of treatles by which it shall be agreed that whenever differences of interest or of policy arise which cannot be resolved by the ordinary processes of diplomacy they shall be publicly analyzed, discussed, and reported upon by a tribunal chosen by the parties before either nation determines its course of action.

aside even the pretense of legal right and declared himself dictator. As a consequence, a condition of affairs now exists in Mexico which has made it doubtful whether even the most elementary and fundamental rights either of her own people or of the citizens of other countries resident within her territory can long be successfully safeguarded, and which threatens, if long continued, to imperil the interests of peace, order and tolerable life in the lands immediately to the south of us. Even if the usurper had succeeded in his purposes, in despite of the constitution of the republic and the rights of its people, he would have set up nothing but a precarious and hateful power, which could have lasted but a little while, and whose eventful downfall would have left the country in a more deplorable condition than ever. But he has not succeeded. He has forfeited the respect and the moral support even of those who were at one time willing to see him succeed. Little by little he has been completely isolated. By a little every day his power and prestige are crumbling and the collapse is not far away. We shall not. I believe, be obliged to alter our polley of watchful waiting. And then, when the end comes, we shall hope to see constitutional order restored in distressed Mexico by the concert and chergy of such of her leaders as prefer the liberty of their people to their own ambitions.

Rush Currency Bill.

I turn to matters of domestic concern. You already have under consideration a bill for the reform of our system of banking and currency, for which the country waits with impatience, as for something fundamental to its whole business life and necessary to set credit free from arbitrary and artificial restraints. I need not say how earnestly I hope for its early enactment into law. I take leave to beg that the whole energy and attention of the senate be concentrated upon it till the matter is successfully disposed of. And yet I feel that the request is not needed-that the members of that great house need no urging in this service to the country.

I present to you, in addition, the urgent necessity that special provision be made, also for facilitating the credits needed by the farmers of the country. The pending currency bill does the farmers a great service. It puts them upon an equal footing with other business men and masters of enterprise, as it should: and upon its passage they will find themselves quit of many of the difficulties which now hamper them in the field of credit. The farmers, of course, ask and should be given no special privilege, such as extending to them the credit of the government itself. What they need and should obtain is legislation which will make their own abundant and substantial credit resources available as a foundation for joint, concerted local action in their own behalf in getting the capital they must

It has, singularly enough, come to

when he will the capital by which to support and expand his business. We lag behind many other great countries of the modern world in attempting to do this. Systems of rural credit have been studied and developed on the other side of the water while we left our farmers to shift for themselves in the ordinary money market. You have but to look about you in any rural district to see the result, the handlcap and embarrassment which have been put upon those who produce our food.

Conscious of this backwardness and neglect on our part, the congress recently authorized the creation of a special commission to study the various systems of rural credit which have been put into operation in Europe, and this commission is already prepared to report. Its report ought to make it easier for us to determine what methods will be best suited to our own farmers. I hope and believe that the committees of the senate and house will address themselves to this matter with the most fruitful results. and I believe that the studies and recently formed plans of the department of agriculture may be made to serve them very greatly in their work of framing appropriate and adequate legislation. It would be indiscreet and presumptuous in anyone to dogmatize upon so great and many-sided a grestion, but I feel confident that common counsel will produce the results we must all desire.

Stop Private Monopoly.

Turn from the farm to the world of business which centers in the city and in the factory, and I think that all thoughtful observers will agree that the immediate service we owe the business communities of the country is to prevent private monopoly more effectually than it has yet been prevented. I think it will be easily agreed that we should let the Sherman antitrust law stand, unaltered, as it is, but that we should as much as possible reduce the area of that debatable ground by further and more explicit legislation; and should also supplement that great act by legislation which will not only clarify it but afso facilitate its administration and make it fairer to all concerned. No doubt we shall all wish, and the country will expect, this to be the central subject of our deliberations during the present session; but it is a subject so many-sided and so deserving of careful and discriminating discussion that I shall take the liberty of addressing you upon it in a special message at a later date than this. It is of capital importance that the business men of this country should be relieved of all uncertainties of law with regard to their enterprises and investments and a clear path indicated which they can travel without anxiety. It is as important that they should be relieved of embarrassment and set free to prosper as that private monopoly should be destroyed. The ways of action should be thrown wide open.

I turn to a subject which I hope can be handled promptly and without serious controversy of any kind. I mean the method of selecting nominees for the presidency of the United States I feel confident that I do not misinterpret the wishes or the expecetations of the country when I urge the prompt enactment of legislation which will provide for primary elections throughout the country at which the voters of the several parties may choose their nominees for the presidency without the intervention of nominating conventions. I venture the suggestion that this legislation should provide for the retention of party conventions, but only for the purpose of declaring and accepting the verdict of the primaries and formulating the platforms of the parties; and I suggest that these conventions should consist not of delegates chosen for the single purpose, but of the nominees for congress, the nominees for vacant seats in the senate of the United States, the senators whose terms have not yet closed, the national committees, and the candidates for the presidency themselves, in order that platforms may be framed by those responsible to the people for carrying them into effect.

ly and easily available and command erous justice toward the people of corded our own citizens in our own territory and our obligations toward the people of Hawaii by perfecting the provisions of self-government already granted them, but in the Philippines we must go further. We must hold steadily in view their ultimate independence, and we must move toward the time of that independence as steadily as the way can be cleared and the foundations thoughtfully and permanently laid.

Acting under the authority conferred upon the president by congress, have already accorded the people of the islands a majority in both houses of their legislative body by appointing five instead of four native citizens to the membership of the commission. I believe that in this way we shall make proof of their capacity in counsel and their sense of the responsibility in the exercise of political power, and that the success of this step will be sure to clear our view for the steps which are to follow. Step by step we should extend and perfect the system of self-government in the islands. making test of them and modifying them as experience discloses their successes and their failures; that we should more and more put under the control of the native citizens of the archipelago the essential instruments of their life, their local instrumentalities of government, their schools, all the provision company was ordered by the common interests of their communities, and so by counsel and experience set up a government which all recent trip to South Omaha the the world will see to be suitable to a canned goods were found to be on people whose affairs are under their own control

Territorial Rights for Alaska.

A duty faces us with regard to Alaska which seems to me very pressing and very imperative; perhaps I should say a double duty, for it concerns both the political and the material development of the territory. The people of Alaska should be given the full territorial form of government, and Alaska, as a storehouse, should be unlocked. One key to it is a system of railways These the government should itself build and administer, and the ports and terminals it should itself centrol in the interest of all who wish to use them for the service and development of the country and its people.

But the construction of railways is only the first step; is only thrusting in the key to the storehouse and throwing back the lock and opening the door. How the tempting resources of the country are to be exploited is another matter, to which I shall take the liberty of from time to time calling your attention, for it is a policy which must be worked out by wellconsidered states, not upon theory, but upon lines of practical expediency. It is part of our general problem of conservation. We have a freer hand in working out the problem in Alaska than in the states of the Union, and yet the principle and object are the same, wherever we touch it. We must use the resources of the country, not lock them up. There need be no conflict or jealousy as between state and federal authorities, for there can be no essential difference of purpose between them. The resources in question must be used, but not destroyed tendent Miller say: "The opposing or wasted; used, but not monopolized litigant says the juvenile court is upon any narrow idea of individual rights as against the abiding interests of communities. That a policy can be worked out by conference and concession which will release these resources where. Contracts have been declared and yet not jeopard or dissipate against public policy. But public polthem, I for one have no doubt; and it can be done on lines of regulation which need be no less acceptable to the people and governments of the states concerned than to the people and government of the nation at large,

UNSATISFACTORY ORDER.

GOSSIP FROM STATE CAPITAL

Items of Interest Gathered from Reliable Sources and Presented In Condensed Form to Our Readers.

Commissioner Harmon's office one day last week was the scene of deadly carnage, and a fight for life that became more and more exciting and tragic as the contest waged, and the slaughter continued. It was a battle of organisms and they tussled among themselves with great vigor in sweet potatoes, which were captured last week in a food inspection trip to the store of a provision company at South Omaha. The potatoes were alive with the little 'unknowns," and magfied through a microscope at 550 diameters the little bodies were watched in their conflict by many interested spectators. According to statements made by the head of the department, an inspector a fortnight ago to take the goods off sale at once. During a sale at reduced prices. The official bought three cans of sweet potatoes and an equal number of cans of sardines. The spuds were full of the organisms, while the small fish were so stale that when the cans were opened the department's employes held their noses when attempting to get portions detached for further inspection with the micrscope. As soon as the state chemist's report on the goods is available Commissioner Harman will likely take the matter up in a legal way with the company.

Accidents Reported to Commissioner. Out of 103 accidents reported to State Labor Commissioner Pool under a new state law, three were fatal. Frenk Leonard of Omaha, employed by an electric light and power company, fell from a pole and died from his injuries. Peter Hock of Omaha, a railway employe, was killed by cars passing over his body. John Knopp, employed in a broom factory in Lincoin, became entangled in a belt and was killed. More accidents were reported among employers of the Omaha Gas and Electric Light company than from any other source. Only a few accidents were reported among railway employes. The reports show that a considerable loss of time was caused by accidents to employes.

Public Policy is Constitutional. Briefs in defense of the juvenile court law which Wilbur F. Bryant of Hartington is attacking in the supreme Expensive Tributes.

"People who once threw bouquets at that man now throw eggs. "With eggs at 50 cents a dozen?" exclaimed young Mrs. Torkins. "My! They must think a lot of him."

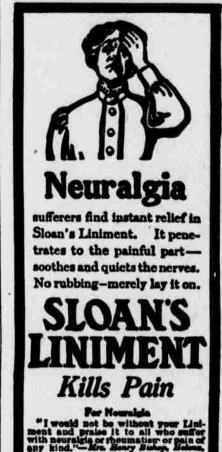

USE ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the Antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoas for Tender, sching feet. It takes the sting out of corns and bunions and makes waiking a delight Soid verys bere, 35c. Refuse substitutes. For Fither trial package, address A. S. Olmated, Le Roy, N. Y. Adv.

A lazy man does less harm than the active man who stirs up unnecessary trouble.

Get Out "of the Rut"

Don't continue day after day, in that half sickly condition-with poor appetite, sallow complexion and clogged bowels. You can help Nature wonderfully in overcoming all Stomach, Liver and Bowel troubles by taking a short course of

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters TRY A BOTTLE TODAY AVOID SUBSTITUTES

RED CLOUD, NEBRASKA, CHIEF

There is only one possible standard by which to determine controversies between the United States and other nations, and that is compounded of these two elements: Our own honor and our obligations to the peace of the world. A test so compounded ought easily to be made to govern both the establishment of new treaty obligations and the interpretation of those already assumed.

Mexico Has No Government.

There is but one cloud upon our horizon. That has shown itself to the south of us, and hangs over Mexico. There can be no certain prospect of peace in America until General Huerta has surrendered his usurged authority in Mexico; until it is understood on all hands, indeed, that such pretended governments will not be countenanced or dealt with by the government of the United States. We are the friends of constitutional government in America; we are more than its friends, we are its champions; because in no other way can our neighbors, to whom we would wish in every way to make proof of our friendship, work out their own development in peace and liberty. Mexico has no government. The attempt to maintain one at the City of Mexico has broken down, and a mere military despotism has been set up which has hardly more than the semblance of national authority. It originated in the usurpation of Victoriano Huerta, who, after a brief attempt to play the part of constitutional president, has at last cast | farmer may make his credit constant-pass that we have allowed the indus try of our farms to lag behind the other activities of the country in its development. I need not stop to tell you how fundamental to the life of the Nation is the production of its food. Our thoughts may ordinarily be concentrated upon the cities and the hives of industry, upon the cries of the crowded market place and the clangor of the factory, but it is from the quiet interspaces of the open valleys and the free hillsides that we draw the sources of life and of prosperity, from the farm and the ranch, from the forest and the mine. Without these every street would be silent, every office deserted, every factory fallen into disrepair. And yet the farmer does not stand upon the same footing with the forester and the miner in the market of credit. He is the servant of the seasons. Nature determines how long he must wait for his crops, and will not be hurrled in her processes. He may give his note, but the season of its maturity depends upon the season when his crop matures, lies at the gates of the market where his products are sold. And the security he gives is of a character not known in the broker's office or as familiarly as it might be on the counter of the banker.

The Farming Interests.

The agricultural department of the government is seeking to assist as never before to make farming an efficient business, of wide co-operative effort, in quick touch with the markets for foodstuffs. The farmers and the government will henceforth work together as real partners in this field, where we now begin to see our way very clearly and where many intelligent plans are already being put into execution. The treasury of the United States has, by a timely and wellconsidered distribution of its deposits, facilitated the moving of the crops in the present season and prevented the scarcity of available funds too often experienced at such times. But we must not allow ourselves to depend upon extraordinary expedients. We must add the means by which the Obligations to Territories.

These are all matters of vital domestic concern, and besides them, outside the charmed circle of our own national life in which our affections command us, as well as our consciences, there stand out our obligations toward our territories over sea. Here we are trustees. Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines, are ours, once regarded as mere possessions, are no longer to be selfishly exploited; they are part of the domain of public conscience and of serviceable and enlightened statesmanship. We must administer them for the people who live in them and with the same sense of responsibility to them as toward our own people in our domestic affairs. No doubt we shall successfully enough bind Porto Rico and the Hawailan islands to ourselves by ties of justice and affection, but the performance of our duty toward the Philippines is a more difficult and debatable matter. We can satisfy the obligations of gen- | expresses and embodies it.

whose heritage these resources are. We must bend our counsels to this end. A common purpose ought to make agreement easy. Three or four matters of special importance and significance I beg that you will permit me to mention in closing.

Our bureau of mines ought to equipped and empowered to render even more effectual service than it renders now in improving the conditions of mine labor and making the mines more economically productive as well as more safe. This is an allimportant part of the work of conservation; and the conservation of human life and energy lies even nearer to our interest than the preservation from waste of our material re

Employers' Liability.

We owe it, in more justice to the railway employes of the country, to provide for them a fair and effective employers' liability act; and a law that we can stand by in this matter will be no less to the advantage of those who administer the railroads of the country than to the advantage of those whom they employ

We ought to devote ourselves meeting pressing demands of plain justice like this as earnestly as to the accomplishment of political and economic reforms. Social justice comes first. Law is the machinery for its realization and is vital only as it court, have been filed with that tri bunal by County Superintendent Miller of Cedar county. In defense of the enactment attorneys for Superinagainst public policy. I have never heard of a law being set aside because it was against public policy. It may have been done sometime and someicy itself is the constitution and the laws. Public policy is but the manifest of the state."

Affects Many Members of W. O. W. Thirty thousand policy holders of the Woowmen of the World are said to be affected by the probable ruling of the state insurance department with regard to continuation of payment on life certificates held by long-time members of the order. The payment is said to have been concluded under the first rules of the order and then afterwards when these certificates were nullified, inquiry arose as to what the policy holders might expect in return. The affairs will finally be adjudicated in the courts, according to the attorney general, instead of being settled by the department's ruling. Action by the department, however, will likely be used as a basis for the litigation.

Thirty-eight countles in Nebraska have applied for farm managers or agricultural demonstrators to avail themselves of the new law authorizing county boards to provide aid when it is asked.

Could Not Use the Title.

After pondering for six weeks the weighty question as to whether a newly organized bank in a town could rightfully use the name of "First State Bank," when there is an older institution in the field, the state banking board has ruled in the negative. It refused to issue a charter to the First State bank of Taylor under that name, because another bank which has been doing business for a good many years objected. The new bank will have to adopt some different title than "First."

The state fire commission, following a lengthy investigation, has brought about the arrest of C. E. Carpenter at Gothenburg. Carpenter is alleged to have set fire to his residence a year ago and to have collected insurance from two companies, this aggregating more than the actual value of the structure.

The state board of control has awarded contracts for improvements at/ the institute for feeble-minded youth at Beatrice. The aggregate of the contracts is $7,443.

hth neuralgie or rheumatistr or pain of Pain All Gene

"I suffered with quite a severe ner sigis headache for 4 months without any relief. I used your Linimont for two or three nights and I haven't so tered with my head since "-Mr. J." Kninger, Louisville, Ky.

tments for Cold and Croup Treatments for Cald and Creap "My little girl, twelve years eld, sught a severe cold, and I gave her hree drops of Sloan's Liniment on segar to going to bed, and she got up in the porning with ne signs of a cold. A lit-te boy next door had croup and I gave he mother the Liniment. Energy him hree drops on going to bed, and he get ip without the croup in the morning." - Mr. W. E. Srunge, Chinge, IL

t all Dealers. Price 25a, 50a and 51.00 Sloan's Book on Horses sont free. Address DR. EARL S. SLOAN, Inc., Benton, II

400,000 Settlers a Year

tion of Canada in-creased during 1913, by the addition of 400,000 new settlers from the United States and Europe. Most of these have gone on farms in the provinces of Mani-tobs, Saskatchewan and Alberta and Alberta. Lord William Percy, an Eng-lish Nobleman, says: "The possibilities and opportuni-lies offered by the Canadian West are so infinitely greater than those which exist in Eng-land, that it seems absurd to think that people should be impeded from soming to the country where they can most easily and certainly improve their position." 1. 27.7

New districts are being on p, which will make a great number of ho

For illustrated literature and re-duced railway rates, apply to Bu-

W. V. BENNETT,

Pain in Back and Rheumatism

are the daily torment of thousands. To effectually cure these troubles you must remove the cause. Foley Kidney Pills begin to work for you from the first dose, and ex-ert so direct and beneficial an action in the kidneys and bladder that the pain and torment of kidney trouble soon disappears.

LADIES Beautify your home, make prett and valuable portions at a sma cost, apare time. D cents for com are Monarch Supply Co., Box Sec. Kansas City, Mo

3,000 Secrets and to the and upward cover, all for 25c. L. B. To

Let Me Start You in the cleaning, dye to BOU weekly. No experte

The Cause. "Louise, I really cannot permit you "I am afraid the young doctor who is courting our daughter may send "But grandmamma, this novel is all in a bill about it." right; it tells about a girl who was "How can he?" engaged to three Episcopal clergymen, "For visits connected with a heart affection."

Where Found. "I notice that you quote the classics quite often."

Sabbath Reading.

to read novels on Sunday."

all at once."-Life.

"Yes. I don't know what I would do if it were not for the back part of my dictionery."

The Difference. "What is the difference between a political gathering and one of a hunt club?" "I know. One is a mass meeting and the other is a meet massing."

He Explains, "Is this milk pasteurized?" asked the city lady. "From the start." said the old farmer. "Instead of grazing our cows in a meadow, as many do, we graze them in a pasture."

"How about being an old man's darling?" "There's no necessity for it. I've found a young man with the price of a bungalow."

my dear?

sources.

Sensible Girl.

An Ingenuous Answer Clergyman-Do you remember me,

Little Girl-I don't 'member your name, but you're the geu'leman mother makes me stay awake an' listen to it church .--- Life.

Wearisome. "Botts tells me he took & long trip

"He rode two blocks on a street ca with Biffels."

this morning." "Where'd he go?"