LORD ROSCOE RESIGNS.

Pent Up Utica Explodes and Startles the Capital.

Senators Conkling and Platt Resign Their Seats in the Senate.

The Greatest Sensation Since the Flood.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.
WASHINGTON, May 16-4 p. m.—The absence of Senator Conkling from the meeting of the committee on judiciary this morning was the first intimation that there was any trouble brewing, but there was no time for conjecture before the announcement of his resignation was made. This coup d'etat is said to be what was prearranged in the senator's famous speech, reported in dispatches to THE BEE, in the caucus a few days ago. It is also believed that the resignation was made in executive session, hence no expression of official opinion can be obtained.

A BOMB SHELL BURST in the senate soon after it was called to order this morning in the shape of the resignation of Senators Roscoe Conkling and Thos. C. Platt, of New York. The communications were in the usual form and were addressed to Vice President Arthur and announced that the resignations had been forwarded the governor of the state of New York, and requested that the announcement of the fact be formally made to the senate. The announcement was received by the senators present with genuine surprise, but the senate immediately proceeded to the transaction of routine business, and at 12:25 o'clock went into executive session.

The following was the brief announcement of the senator:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16. Sir:—Will you announce to the senate that my resignation as senator of the United States from the state of New York, has been forwarded to the governor of that state. I have the honor to be with great respect your obedient servant,

ROS COE CONKLING.

To Chester A. Arthur, Vice President, A BOMB OF SURPRISE.

At once there was a hum of surprise all about the chamber. The democrats looked anxiously at each other and smiled. The republicans tried to be calm, but more than one showed intense interest in what would follow.

The vice-president then handed another communication to the clerk, who read as follows:

SENATE CHAMBER, May 16th.

To the Hon. Chester A. Arthur, Vice-President.

Sir:—I have forwarded to the governor of the state of New York my resignation as a senator of the United States from the state of New York. Will you please announce the fact to the senate. With great respect your obedient servant,

THOMAS C. PLATT.

To add to the sensation of the moment, it gained circulation that the Vice President has also resigned, but this was speedily squashed, that official occupying the chair at the time. Neither Senators Conkling or Platt had been seen at the Capitol to-day and are not now at their residences. Senator Mahone is also absent from the senate. The democrats are hailing the fiasco with delight, but not so much since it leaves them a temporary majority, as that it seems to prearrange an inevitable split in the opposition. What will be done in the senate now cannot be conjectured.

IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

The unopposed nominations are being considered at present, no report having been made on Chandler or Robertson. Senator Pendleton stated just now that he hardly thought the senate would care to finish up the business of the session "without a full body, and that delay might be made by the republicans themselves until action has been taken by the New York legislature. Senator Johnson, of Virginia, said he thought the republicans would try to rush Robertson and Chandler through and adjourn. Reports on these could be forced by the disposition of all other business, and action could be taken as usual. Senator Williams, of Kentucky, thought it looked like transferring the fight to New York, that the country might recognize the Conkling strength at home if it was not apparent abroad. Senator Kellogg, thought that Senator Conkling had taken this method of appealing to his people, and thought it not improbable that the New York legislature, being Conkling, would sustain him and his colleague by returning both.

THE RECORD OF CRIME.

Murders, Mutilations, Shootings, Scrapes, Suicides and Lynchings.

DEBUREAU, May 16.—Peter Martin, the accomplice of Van Hoesling in the McDonald burglary, was sentenced Saturday to five years in the penitentiary.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 16.—Willis E. Ross, who murdered William Drake, in Crawford county, last December, has been sentenced to be hanged at Van Buren July 16.

LACK HATTLE.

VICKSBURG, May 16.—Yesterday, in a colored fight at Looka, Washington, between five negro women, with knives, one was wanted to death.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

PARIS, May 16.—A painful impression has been caused among the American colony in Paris by the attempted suicide of Geo. Boulard, a young painter who, having been loved for some months by a French girl, last cut gashes in his throat and left wrist with a razor while waiting at the rooms of a friend named Woodard. He then pointed the razor at his own head and fired, the ball penetrating his brain and causing death in a few minutes. They have not been living together for about a year.

MEDETERATE LYNCHING.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., May 16.—There is great excitement here caused by a report that an organized body of about two hundred men are on the way to take Albertus Vaskamp, who murdered Hiram H. Coady near Coopersville, out of jail and hang him. Sheriff Vaskamp has been forwarded of meetings being held with that object, and has garmented the jail with a force of officers well armed.

LATER.—A party of three hundred men made their appearance about midnight, and were greatly surprised to find a company of the state militia drawn up in front of the jail. District Attorney McBride made them a speech and invited a few of them inside to inspect the make up of the jail and arrangements for detaining prisoners. After which they concluded they could not get the prisoner without blood being shed, and they returned home at 2 a. m. They were a sober and orderly crowd. On leaving they gave notice that if Vaskamp was not convicted they would surely lynch him.

ROS COE'S RESIGNATION.

It Did Not Represent the Views of His New York Constituents.

And is Considered On All Sides to be Very a Foolish Action.

Views of Several Prominent Men—Newspaper Comments.

National Associated Press.

DID NOT REPRESENT THEIR CONSTITUENTS.

OMAHA, May 17.—The Evening News Washington special says: It has leaked out that the resignation of Conkling and Platt did not represent the sentiment of New York. The resignation of Conkling and Platt, it is said, was made in a very foolish and unwise manner. The resignation of Conkling and Platt, it is said, was made in a very foolish and unwise manner.

It is the cap stone of the Conkling-Platt era. It is the only step they could take with any respect for their constituents. They could not, representing a great state like New York, resign in a humiliating manner. The administration and its organs have cried all along that the great body of republican voters in New York are in the wrong, and that the behavior and action of its senators, Messrs. Conkling and Platt, by directly appealing to their constituents, will be a great mistake. The people of New York are not so stupid as to be misled by the demagogues of the state of New York who will not allow Mr. Conkling to retire. I consider Mr. Conkling the greatest man in the senate to-day, and it is certainly with a great deal of regret that we see him resign. The senators both acted upon the principle that neither were acting for personal ambition. Both followed the precedent that was established with the constitution. They now turn and throw themselves into the arms of their constituents, to find favor or disfavor. Mr. Einstein thought that Governor Cornell would not accept Mr. Conkling's resignation, but in the event Mr. Conkling's resignation was accepted. Collector Merritt and Naval Officer Burt declined to express any opinion.

The Evening Post has the following special dispatch from Washington: An intimate friend of Senator Conkling has just received the following statement as to the reasons for the resignation: "Statements have been made by gentlemen in the cabinet that Senators Conkling and Platt do not represent their constituents in the matter of Robertson; that if the people had known what their position was to be Platt would not have been elected and would not have resigned. Mr. Conkling is wishing to test it. He has tired of having one senator after another resigning, and is weary with the provision market; mired packing, $5 0000; light haul, $5 7000; choice heavy packing and shipping lots, $1 0000; Texas sheep and jacks, $4 0000 40.
