

THE DAILY BEE.

Saturday Morning, June 11.

Saicide.

About three o'clock this morning a stranger rushed into the Davenport house yelling that some one was pursuing him. He gesticulated for a moment, then pulled a pistol and shot himself through the head. The wound is a frightful one and may prove fatal. It is reported the man's name is Capt. Cool.

-THE BEE has been favored with a complimentary ticket to the Red Oak Driving Park association meeting to be held on July 1st, 2nd and 4th.
-Some evil minded person sawed nearly in two the doubletree of a fine carriage, to which was harnessed a spirited team, while hitched in front of a residence in this city yesterday. The turnout belonged to Homan, the liverman.
-Attempted Suicide.
J. P. Metzbaum, of Cleveland, Ohio, a guest at the house of Mr. Levy, at Thirteenth and Jones streets, attempted suicide by taking a dose of laudanum Friday. He was restored to consciousness under immediate medical attention from Dr. E. L. Higgins, and will recover.
-Pleasant Entertainers.
After the concert Thursday night the members of the several Sængerbunds adjourned to the Tivoli upon the invitation of the St. Joe Maennerchor, extended through its president, Mr. E. Padberg. There the guests gave themselves up to the pleasures of the hour. The St. Joe band was present and discoursed music between times while the members of the visiting band exerted themselves to extend their hospitalities. Songs were sung and various other features to the German "commerse" enacted. Altogether a jolly party was present and a very pleasant time spent. As entertainers the St. Joe men are successful.
-A Serenade.
The combined Union Pacific and Atlantic bands tendered THE BEE office a very enjoyable serenade yesterday. The Badger State quickstep was given in elaborate style. Some time ago when the Union Pacific band visited Iowa they were the guests of the Atlantic band, and in turn they to-day were the entertainers of the Iowans. Both bands wear the same style of uniforms and the happy idea to-day struck them to pool their issues and appear as a single band. This they did with fine effect and furnished some of the best music heard at the parade.
-A Serenade.
At about 9:30 last evening a fight occurred in a disreputable house on Twelfth street, between Dodge and Douglas streets. As near as could be learned an American became jealous of an Italian and beat him about the head with a bottle or beer glass, cutting several deep gashes from which the blood flowed, bleeding his face, and saturating his clothing to an extent which made the victim a frightful looking object. Both parties were lodged in jail to await trial to-day.
-Senator Van Wyck.
Senator Van Wyck left for his home last evening where he will remain until July. It is the Senator's intention to go east in order to superintend the erection of a fine residence which he is having built in Washington City.

THE CLOSING CONCERT.

It Proves to Be the Most Successful of the Series.

Largest Audience Ever Gathered in Saenger Hall.

Arrangements for the Ball this Evening.

The last of the series of concerts given under the auspices of the Saengerfest last evening was even more successful than the previous evening. Notwithstanding that the elements seemed to conspire against it, the attendance was larger than at any entertainment during the week. The ladies were out in full force although a drizzling shower seemed one of the possibilities a couple of hours before the concert was to take place. As usual it was a representative audience. It was excessively hot during the greater portion of the evening. To facilitate matters Prof. Walther's grand chorus were seated upon the stage in order to more quickly group them when they were called upon to sing. The programme was quite as lengthy as on the previous evening, but the entertainment was concluded much sooner.
The introductory overture "Marianita," was begun promptly by the grand orchestra under Prof. Steinhauser. This fine composition is by Wallace and in it the roaring of the sea, and the humming of the wind in an ocean storm are worked out with realistic effect.
Kuntze's "Germania" afforded fine scope to Prof. Walther's grand orchestra to exhibit their metal and training. The immense chorus sang in excellent time and with admirable force. The production is a very pretty one and was done ample justice to.
When the programme announced "Von Bree's Chorus of Men," by the Omaha Glee Club, something in the tip-top order of excellence was expected. The audience was not disappointed. The club was accompanied on the piano by Miss Kennedy, and F. S. Smith led. The entire make-up of the organization is far above the average. There are no weak parts in the chorus. Every voice is up to the standard. The club was given a very hearty reception, and being encored responded with "Baby Taylor," which was even better suited to display the universal strength of the club than the first.
Bendelari's well-known production, "Vivat the Laugh," was the first piece in which Miss Mabella appeared. The song was admirably suited to develop Miss Mabella's greatest strength. It required no great expansion of voice, and was confined almost entirely to the lower registers. Miss Mabella had an able accompanist in Mr. Martin Cahm, who presided at the piano. Miss Mabella was called upon to respond to an encore, which she did in a very pretty air, entitled, "Welcome Pretty Primrose."
The Lyran society, under the leadership of Prof. Hoffman, sang a piece which they called "Naturam of Hjertat." It did not call into requisition a very extended compass of vocal powers, but showed the society to be in excellent training. An encore was called for and given.
A brief interlude followed the rendition of the allegro and finale of Beethoven's Fifth symphony and the entrance of Lohengrin, by the grand orchestra, "Der Saenger-Ed." by Prof. Walther's grand chorus, followed, after which Miss Mabella made her second appearance. The song she had chosen was the "Three Fishers," by Hullah, which has a very taking laughing chorus. It was enthusiastically applauded. In answer to a recall Miss Mabella sang a Scotch ballad, "Oh, Whistle and I'll come to You."
The Leavenworth Maenner Gesangverein made its first appearance to sing Waecker's "De Wold," which was satisfactorily rendered.
Prof. J. Strauser followed in De Heriot's seventh concert for the violin. The performance was a very artistic bit of work and received a well-deserved encore.
The Columbus Maennerchor followed in a selection from Bechmitt which was nicely rendered. They were heartily encored.
The next event of the evening, the appearance of Miss Kattie Lowe, was looked forward to with anticipations of considerable pleasure by the audience. The piece which the young lady had selected to sing was Abt's song entitled "Embarrassment." It was given in a very pretty style and secured a recall.
The entertainment closed with the introductory to "William Tell," rendered by the orchestra.
After the concert, members of the Saengerbund and a large party of invited guests remained in the hall to participate in the "commerse."
This evening the grand ball takes place. Great preparations have been made for the event by the committee of arrangements, consisting of Messrs. Julius Meyer, John Erk, A. B. Hubermann, E. Wirth and L. Helborn. Prof. Steinhauser's full orchestra will furnish the music. The following is THE PROGRAMME.
1. Polonaise "Colosseum" F. M. Steinhauser.
2. Walzes "A Tof" Waldteufel.
3. Lancers "Bocaccio" Suppe.
4. Schottische "Max Meyer & Bros" Steinhauser.
5. Galop "Hajo" Strauss.
6. Walzer Quadrille "To our Guests" Steinhauser.
7. Polka "Standard Club" Steinhauser.
8. Walzer "Freudenkranz" Steinhauser.
9. Quadrille "Swim for Glory" Rose.

The Nonpareil of June 9th had an item in regard to the consolidated hand in which item they gave the praise to the Muscatine tenor drummer for some solo playing, which in reality was done by Major Clark of the Atlantic opera B. Clark is the champion drummer of Iowa and doubtless of the entire west. He has repeatedly challenged the Muscatine drummer to play him and been refused each time. The public in general decided that the U. P. and Atlantic consolidation played better than the former consolidation.

S. P. MORSE & Co. 1319 Farnham Street.

Among the attractions of our city is the store of this firm, situated in the heart of business (near the corner of Fourteenth and Farnham) and having in their building the largest stock of dry goods carried by any retail house west of Chicago. Messrs. Morse & Co. may verily be styled our representative store. The first and second floors of their building, 22x132 feet, are used exclusively for retail dry goods. The third story contains their wholesale and surplus stock; making theirs the largest dry goods store in our state. Thirty-two employees attend to the wants of customers. A branch store of Morse & Co., situated at 522 and 524 South Tenth street, corner of Jackson, and three blocks north of the Union Pacific depot, supplies the wants of residents of South Omaha. Visitors will be welcome and receive every attention at either of Morse & Co.'s stores. Their advertisement occupies the right hand corner of our local page.

Messrs. A. Cruickshank & Co. extend a cordial invitation to all strangers visiting Omaha to call and examine their magnificent establishment, and have detailed two of their clerks to show visitors all through the store. This store is one of the sights of Omaha. It is the largest retail Dry Goods House in Nebraska, and acknowledged by all to be the finest and best arranged store west of Chicago, arranged on three floors, having fifteen departments and forty-five employees, and retailing nearly a quarter of a million worth of Dry Goods. A trade so immense as this could only be achieved by good goods at low prices, and strangers cannot do better than price a few of their goods as they pass through, and see the extraordinary difference that can be made by merchants that go for a large trade at moderate prices. Amongst a few of the noticeable things they offer are a splendid line of Gents' Half Hose, at 25c a pair. These goods are excellent quality and really worth 50 cents. A splendid line of Ties at 50c, worth $1.25, and those beautiful white dress shirts, unlaundried, the very best quality, at 75c. This is almost incredible, but they ask strangers to call and examine for themselves.

Their line of Silks, Cashmeres and Fancy Dry Goods is simply superb, all offered at New York and Chicago prices. Their stock of Parasols and Sunshades comprise an assortment not to be met with outside of New York, arranged in a line of glass cases so that purchasers can see at a glance every style in stock.

Do not fail to visit this store even if you have only time to spend a few minutes. j6-8-4t
