The picnic of the Standard Club, takes place at Hanson's Park on Friday afternoon next. Sand is being hauled to the site of the Grand Central Hotel, and other preparations are being made for the building. The unfortunate accident to the balloon "Ranger" and its consequent failure to make an ascension, leaves Pierce, its owner out of pocket to the extent of about $350. There is a city ordinance against allowing horses to stand untied on the streets that is not enforced is evidenced by the fact that runaways occur almost daily. This matter should be attended to by the city authorities. A fight occurred in the rear of Strang's building yesterday. A driver of a brick wagon was taking his noon-day rest, and trying to keep cool, when a drunken bumper came along and disturbed him. The driver went for the fellow and made short work of him. John B. Morris, a gentleman recently from Kansas, has made all necessary arrangements to start a wholesale flour business in this city. He has rented the second floor of Pycke Bros., building on Farnham street and will put men on the road at once. He intends to deal in flour exclusively. Agnes Horan, infant child of John Horan, died yesterday. She will be buried to-day from the residence of her parents, No. 914 Dodge street, at four p. m. The young people of the Lutheran church will hold their regular meeting Friday evening at the residence of Mr. Robinson, on East Avenue, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets. At a late hour last night it was rumored about the city that J. L. Herrick the man convicted a few days ago of aiding and abetting the crime of arson had made a confession and proposes to turn states evidence. A young woman by the name of Cristina Bittorf living on Howard street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth, was arrested yesterday, and taken before Judge Benke to answer to the charge of using vile and profane language. After hearing the case, although it was a hard one, the judge thought best to dismiss it. Quite a runaway occurred yesterday. A team and wagon belonging to Joe and Sam, the confectioners on Fifteenth street, became frightened and ran away. They ran up the alley between Douglas and Dodge to Eighteenth street, and then down the hill of Dodge street to Fifteenth street, and were stopped at Douglas street. No damage was done. To The Public. When my balloon went to pieces under pressure of the gale I felt that the public would not accept any explanation as a sufficient excuse for my failure to ascend as advertised; but I find that, on the contrary, the people not only exonerate me from blame, but extend sympathy for my losses, and to them I owe a public acknowledgment of the thanks I feel. To those friends who worked so hard and struggled so manfully to hold the balloon against the gale, and assisted me in repairing the numerous rents caused by the force of the wind, I return thanks, and if at any time I can do a favor for the least of those who held a cord on that day, I will consider it a privilege as it will be a pleasure. JOHN H. PENCE. City Market. The local demand for groceries and fruits was never before so great as at the present time. A prominent grocer said to a reporter of The Bee yesterday that new potatoes were still $1.50 per bushel by the wholesale and very scarce. Apples were $6 per barrel and all that could be had were eagerly grabbed. It seems scarcely to be realized by Iowa and Missouri people that Omaha is almost as important a market for early fruit and vegetables as St. Louis and Chicago. Though the express is every day burdened with large supplies the demand is always greater and constantly increasing. Dedication. The new house of worship of the South Tenth Street Methodist church is completed and will be formally dedicated to the object for which it is built on Sunday next. Bishop Hurst will be present and will preach the dedication sermon. A number of the former pastors and guests from abroad are expected. All the other churches of that denomination will suspend services in the morning and attend the dedication of the new South Tenth Street church. Beauty, health, and happiness for ladies in "WINE OF CARDUI". At C. F. Goodman's.

STREETS WILL BE SPRINKLED.

It was decided that the city spend no more than $5,000 on cross-walks. The street commissioner was instructed to notify the B. & M. to make a crossing at the intersection of Ninth and Mason. The same officer was instructed to open Leavenworth street to its full width. It was decided to pay the judgment of Valentine Hipp against the city, amounting to $69.20. A report of the judiciary committee that the ordinance in regard to the city liquor traffic be left in its present shape until the supreme court took some action was adopted. Thomas Swift was awarded the contract for sprinkling the streets at the rate of $220 per week. The finance committee in their report recommended the following tax levy of 1881: For sinking fund, 5 mills; general fund, 12 mills; water tax 2 mills; sewer tax, 1 1/2 mills; library, 1 mill; judgment, 1 mill; school, (general) 7 1/2; school, (sinking) 2; total, 31 mills. THE LIQUOR CASE.

It Will Probably End in a Verdict of Guilty.

All the testimony had been given yesterday in the case of Andrew Plueler, who is being tried before Judge Savage for infringement of the liquor law. After all the evidence was in Gen. Cowin asked that the court instruct the jury to acquit upon the evidence adduced. Judge Savage gave a carefully worded ruling in answer, in which he took the ground that while some of the provisions of the law might be deemed unconstitutional it would have no effect upon the case under consideration, and cited several provisions in point. The main question raised, the court said, was whether the tax was uniform in its character. Judge Savage appeared to regard it rather as a license than a tax. He said he had been guided in his views to a great extent by the fact that the constitutionality of the law had been thoroughly discussed in the legislature which nevertheless passed it. Unless its unconstitutionality was almost self-evident Judge Savage said he did not think it becoming for a nisi prius judge to render a decision in such an important matter before the supreme court had spoken. The next move by the defense was to introduce the old liquor license under which Plueler had sold.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

In the City of Council Bluffs Yesterday.

Brief and Pithy Gossip of General Interest.

A Resume Containing Everything Worth Noting.

Personal Points and Matters and Things.

THE LIQUOR CASE.

It Will Probably End in a Verdict of Guilty.

The bluffs in brief. This office is under obligations to Mr. Sholes, the short-hand reporter and type-writer, for valuable service. Mr. Green, who has the street-sprinkling contract, does his work well. The streets are kept in excellent condition and the atmosphere free from dust, thus adding much to the comfort of our citizens. Dan Keller is adding a porch, new iron fence and other improvements to his residence on Avenue E. When completed it will be a handsome property. Mrs. Fred. Leutzinger and Mrs. D. Keller gave a Fourth of July dinner and supper to friends and neighbors at the residence of Mrs. Leutzinger. A bountiful repast was spread on the lawn, and the participants heartily enjoyed the feast and the delightful breeze. Quite a number of citizens went away to spend the Fourth. About 1,000 copies of THE BEE were sold from the Council Bluffs office on Monday. The Council Bluffs iron works is in a prosperous condition and its business constantly increasing. Don't let it be forgotten that manufacturers to utilize the products are wanted. A casing factory or two would pay well; also a starch and corn starch works. A steam cracker factory would not only pay but is absolutely needed here. A sugar manufactory has already been proposed. Manufacturers of this kind will help to develop the rich lands lying all about the city. Admirably it is adapted to raising fruits and cereals. Keep it before the people. The case of the state of Iowa vs. King, was called in Justice Abbott's court yesterday. The prisoner produced an order for the knives and spoons claimed to have been stolen, which proved to be genuine, and the court discharged him. A man inquired of Morgan, the undertaker, how his business was, and the answer came, "First rate. I sold three yesterday, which considering it was the Fourth, was not bad." There was never so little sickness in Council Bluffs as at the present time, so say the doctors. It is understood that the bottom has dropped out of the postoffice assault and battery case. T. S. Kirkland says that the Council Bluffs loan association is in a very flourishing condition. Hon. J. W. Chapman has gone to Chicago. Fifteen hundred people picnicked at Perry Hill, the grove the Fourth. Those who could hear the speaking pronounced it good. Perry Reel has eleven boarders including the murderer McGee. W. A. Wood has nearly finished his new house on Bancroft street. It will be one of the neatest residences in the city. A splendid view was had of Omaha fire works display from the park residence of Mrs. Maria Myntzer, at Myntzer Springs, and her friends who were assembled there Monday evening enjoyed it. Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, in his prayer Sunday morning, alluded very touchingly to the attempted assassination of President Garfield. Mrs. Swan, of the firm of Swan & Walker, has returned from an extended eastern trip. A female tramp, claiming to be very hungry, called the other day at a Willow avenue and asked for something to eat. The hostess, with pity depicted upon her countenance, retired and soon returned with a plate of fresh bread and butter and tendered it to the tramp, who refused to partake, remarking that would like a cup of hot coffee and some cake. Mr. Taylor, of the enterprising grocery firm of Knox & Taylor, is greatly improving his residence property in Glendale. His partner, Mr. Knox, will soon be in his new house. This is his "push." Prof. Farnham and wife have gone on an extended visit east. C. E. Mayne, commercial editor of The Bee, visited the Bluffs yesterday. By some mistake the Council Bluffs lottery was omitted from THE BEE yesterday. This will not be permitted to occur again. City council met last evening. Full particulars to-morrow. The damage done by the late storm has mostly been repaired. There is a bad washout, however, which needs immediate attention. Another heavy rain will likely carry away a good share of the street at that point. Wm. Hill, an old settler and citizen of Council Bluffs, died at his residence in this city on Tuesday, of paralysis. It is reported that several young men are getting the bicycle fever. It is probable that bicycling is destined to become the popular pastime for young men. Samuel Bowley, of Council Bluffs, won the bicycle race at Omaha on the Fourth. Bluffers are great winners. The plans of the Keystone manufacturing company's building have been submitted to contractors and they are figuring on them yesterday. The work is to be pushed vigorously. Yesterday afternoon two she wolves escaped from Belle Clover's den, situated on lower Broadway, and procuring a team and filling themselves full of whisky, took possession of Broadway. They made day hideous

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

The Nebraska State Suffrage Convention.

The Nebraska Woman's Suffrage Association is now holding a convention in this city.

Mrs. Harriet Brooks, president of the association, stated the object of the convention, as being the consideration of how to best promote the franchise of the women of the state of Nebraska.

Mrs. Bittenbender, of the Osceola Record, as secretary of the association, then read the constitution.

James G. Clark, who was present, was called upon and sang, to music arranged by himself, the poem of Gerald Massey entitled "The Coming."

Mrs. Bittenbender was then introduced to the audience and delivered the address of the evening. Her subject was "The Legal Status of Women," which she handled in a thorough manner, reflecting great credit upon herself as a logical thinker and an earnest speaker.

At the close of the address the president called for volunteer speakers from the audience. Mr. Edward Rosewater, who was present, was loudly called for by the audience, and at length responded by stepping upon the rostrum and stating his views upon the subject of woman's suffrage.

He opposed the movement because he thought it detrimental to the best interests of humanity, and to women in particular. He spoke at some length, relating his personal experience in legislation on the civil rights of women, and gave some very cogent reasons for opposing the proposed amendment to the state constitution.

Mrs. L. C. Colby, who had been taking notes of his remarks, was introduced to the audience, stating the president had granted her the privilege of replying to Mr. Rosewater. She was repeatedly applauded by her hearers.

Dr. McNamee, of Fremont, volunteered some remarks in reply to Mr. Rosewater, and was cheered while so doing.

Gen. Estabrook was also among the volunteer speakers. A resolution expressing sympathy for the wife and mother of President Garfield in their present affliction was presented and passed unanimously and a copy of the same ordered to be forwarded to Mrs. Garfield.

James G. Clark then sang, in a manner which drew forth hearty applause from the audience, "Men of Action Clear the Way," after which the meetings of to-morrow were announced as occurring at 9 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. the evening. The meeting then adjourned.

At 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning the signal office thermometer indicated 76 degrees in the shade; at 9:45 87 degrees, and at 1:45 it showed 94 degrees.
