P. and B. & M. boys played a match game of base ball on Saturday evening. It was witnessed by a large audience. At the end of the seventh inning they mutually cried quits, owing to the intense heat. The score then stood eleven to six in favor of the U. P. club.

THE LODGES.

The Morgan Mystery Again Revamped.

Reports from the Brethren of the Triple Link—Miscellaneous Items.

THE FREE MASONS.

THE MORGAN MYSTERY. B. P. Shillaber (Mrs. Partington) writes from Boston to The Hartford Evening Post in regard to the Morgan mystery as follows: "The revival of the subject after fifty years affords me the opportunity of stating a theory regarding the fate of Morgan entertained by a venerable lady of Boston, just deceased, which is as reasonable as any advanced. She and her husband were fellow passengers in a Boston ship, bound for Smyrna, with a very mysterious individual who was under constant surveillance, by two men, night and day. He was kept aloof from all on board, and communicated only with his attendants. He appeared restless and uneasy under the restraint until the ship arrived at Smyrna, when he was taken off in a boat at night, but few knowing of his departure. The two men disappeared at the same time, regarding whom the captain knew nothing beyond the securing of their passage on board his ship and the payment of their money therefor. A short time thereafter, while visiting some wild tribes quite a distance inland, they saw the same man with out his attendants, who shunned them and disappeared. The presumption of all on board the ship was that the mysterious passenger was William Morgan, under charge of political agents for getting him out of the way until 'after election.'"

GOAT HAIRS. The grand lodge of Colorado conducted the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new court house and Masonic temple at Canon City last Saturday.

The excessive heat has caused a general suspension of work throughout the eastern lodges, and few candidates have been initiated, passed or raised during the past week. St. John's lodge, of this city, braved the heat on Thursday evening and as usual succeeded in obtaining a good attendance when working the F. C. With this exception no Masonic work has been done in Omaha during the week.

THE TRIPLE LINK.

INDIANA'S GRAND LODGE. The report of the grand lodge of Indiana, which is now ready for distribution, shows a healthy and prosperous condition of the order in that jurisdiction, under the incumbency of Will Cumback, grand master. It is a neat and handsomely printed document, and contains much valuable information and some wise suggestions. The report of the grand secretary, B. F. Foster, gives the number of active lodges as 535. The grand lodge of Indiana holds semi-annual sessions, and the representation from subordinates is very large, so large, in fact, that the body is becoming somewhat unwieldy as well as expensive, and there is evidently a disposition to accept the recommendation of the grand master, to hold annual sessions, and reduce the number of representatives. The number of members in the state is 25,341. The past grand number 8,098. There have been during the year which ended with May, 1881, 697 initiations, and 263 ladies admitted into the Daughters of Rebekah lodges. The resources of the lodges amount to $1,302,050, and the expense of maintaining them amounts to $45,035. The orphan fund is valued at $320,254.

LINKS. The annual report of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, which has just been issued, shows the total membership of the state at present to be 28,008, with 595 active working lodges. The total revenue amounts to $252,866. During the year $40,358 have been paid for the relief of members, and $6,247 for the benefit of widowed families; for burying the dead $12,251, and for special charities $3,890 have been expended. For the education of orphans $216.

The New York Grand Lodge appointed a special committee to consider and report some method to prevent dissatisfied members from dragging lodges into civil courts and exhausting their funds in litigation.

The Odd Fellows, of Chicago at a meeting held on Monday formed an association for commemorating annually the 5,000 Odd Fellows of Chicago, by burying the dead $12,251, and for special charities $3,890 have been expended. For the education of orphans $216.

WHEREAS, We representatives of the 5,000 Odd Fellows of Chicago, in public meeting assembled, have learned of the dastardly and outrageous assault upon the Chief Magistrate by the hand of a cowardly assassin, therefore, Resolved, That we tender to the estimable James A. Garfield, and his estimable wife, our heartfelt sympathy and condolence upon this occasion, and sincerely desire and trust that he may be speedily restored to his devoted family and to a sorrowing nation. Adjourned.

The Odd Fellows' hall of Evansville, is advertised to be sold at public auction on July 23. It was finished at a cost of $65,000. Efforts are being made to relieve the embarrassment of the lodges to enable them to retain the halls of the building for meeting purposes.

At the meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge at Fremont Friday evening the following officers were elected: Chas. Saenz, N. G.; Geo. L. Loomis, V. G.; H. H. Pratt, secretary; J. C. Lee, representative to grand lodge.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Among the causes of death among the United Workmen of California during the past few months, twelve were the result of accident, four of murder, four of suicide and four of excessive drink. Out of a total of eighty-three deaths, twenty were from unnatural causes. California must be a dreadfully healthy state when it becomes necessary to resort to unnatural methods to shuffle off the mortal coil.

California has a membership of over 5,000 Knights of Honor and is still increasing.

The Red Men are increasing their membership in Massachusetts.

THE CITY'S CONDITION.

A Favorable Showing—A few Holes to be Filled.

An editorial appeared in The Republican this morning denouncing the entire city government, from mayor to policeman, and calling attention to the "fearful condition" of the city. The following official document will show what amount of truth it contained:

OMAHA, July 5, 1881.

Gentlemen of the City Council: I am pleased to report the improved condition of our streets and alleys, under the management of Policeman Maurice Sullivan. There is still, however, much room for improvement. I would again urge the necessity of draining or filling the ponds at 13th and Leavenworth, 20th and Farnham, 18th and Harney, 23rd and Cass and 25th street, and St. Mary's avenue. If these points are attended to, and a few persons compelled to abate nuisances on their premises that have been already reported as such, our city will be in a pretty good sanitary condition. Respectfully,

P. S. LEIBENBERG, City Physician.

In addition to this Mayor Boyd gives it his opinion that the alleys of the city are much cleaner now than they have been. There are several disagreeable pools of water in vacant lots that council will attend to at the next meeting.

THE BLUFFS BATCH.

Being the Usual Record From Across the River.

Usual Supply of Notable Happenings.

The trustees of the Presbyterian church have sold the old church bell to the school trustees for the clock tower of the Bloomer building. This bell has a remarkably fine tone and can be heard a great distance. It will answer the purpose of a public clock bell admirably.

Saturday's BEE in speaking of Edgar H. Scott's graduation gave the institution as Grinnell college. It should have been Cornell.

There was considerable larceny displayed by one of the employes of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad on Friday evening last. It seems that after a freight train had been switched on to a side track, the switch was not reversed and a passenger train following had nearly reached the switch when one of the section hands leaped and caught it just in time to prevent a collision and probably save human life.

A large steamer passed up the river Friday evening, loaded down with merchandise for the towns along the upper Missouri.

H. H. Judson recently placed palm leaf fans in all the pews of the Presbyterian church. It is rather a nice thing to find a large palm leaf in the church pews these hot Sundays.

Clouds and a brisk breeze tempered old Sols forvancy yesterday and rendered the day very pleasant and comfortable. The churches were well filled.

J. N. Cassidy has had the trees in front of his residence on Oakland avenue all neatly trimmed. It makes a wonderful improvement in the appearance of the property.

Street improvement has been progressing finely during the brief respite from rain.

Col. Chapman says the change of climate and increase of rainfall in this western country is largely due to extensive cultivation of the soil. He supports his theory by some strong arguments founded upon observation and experience.

Finest street is the driveway to the new driving park and is being improved and put in excellent condition throughout its entire length, preparatory to the formal opening of the park and the August meeting of the association.

Rev. John Chamberlain, of New York city, filled the pulpit at the Episcopal church yesterday.

The report of the daring train robbery reached here before the published reports and secured a good deal of interest on the streets.

A young man from Sioux Falls, accidentally shot himself through the hand while fooling with a revolver at Mrs. Dorland's boarding house on Saturday.

The thermometer was reported to indicate 136° in the sun on Saturday. It was undoubtedly the hottest day of the season so far.

The St. Joe & Council Bluffs road now sends a passenger train out from this city on Sunday morning, instead of Saturday evening, as formerly.

Rev. Able Randall, of Avoca, one of the old pioneers, died at his residence on Friday, at the mature age of 77. He came to this country in 1850, 31 years ago.

Mrs. Geo. T. helps, in company with her friends, Mrs. McConnell and Mrs. Harbison, of St. Paul, left yesterday by a special car over the U. P. for the Laramie plains in search of pleasure and a cooler climate.

Miss Fannie Kellogg, the noted opera singer, is now in the city, the guest of Mrs. General Dodge. Council Bluffs enjoys the honor of having been Miss Kellogg's former home.

St. Joe Herald has this to say of waterworks: "Before the water-works were built the people were in constant apprehension of a sweeping conflagration. We had absolutely no protection after a ten minutes fire. Nobody thinks of such a thing now; everybody sleeps soundly; nobody gets very much excited when the bells sound an alarm. Everybody knows that we can put out a fire; it is extinguished before we can get there. There is certainly no greater blessing within the confines of a city than a bountiful supply of good pure water. The Herald is right and that is just the reason why the people of Council Bluffs are so anxious to see the dirt flying in connection with the building of the proposed waterworks."

The Nonpareil is after the street railway with a sharp stick. Possibly the editor of The Nonpareil, like the writer, has nearly had a buggy wheel torn off a few times, or had his recent dinner turned topsy turvy by those abominably high irons.

Possibly Vennor's cyclone might have gotten along yesterday, but then the weather wasn't very favorable. That makes all the difference. People here are never disturbed any more with Vennor's predictions. He evidently tries to predict too far ahead and gets beyond his compass.

Alderman Dawson introduced an ordinance at the late meeting of the city council for regulating the street railway. If there is any reliance to be placed upon the numerous complaints heard, the street railway needs regulating and the ordinance is timely.

Young Man Drowned.

A Dane named Chris Thompson was drowned in the river Friday night. About 8 o'clock he accompanied a party of young men to a point opposite the packing house for the purpose of having a swim. Thompson was an expert swimmer and after spending some time near the shore, ventured out a considerable distance into the stream, against the advice of his companions. Some distance out he met with a swirling eddy. He was seen to pitch up his hands suddenly above his head, and a moment thereafter to sink beneath the water. He was seen a second time but was too far out for any relief to reach him. The body had not been removed.

Thompson has only been in the country a short time. His relatives still live in Denmark. He boarded at Joe Valetta's, 708 Eighth street.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

A Young Man Who Attempts to Rob a Money Drawer.

Saturday evening last at about dusk, a young man attempted to steal the contents of Irwin & Ellis' money drawer. All the clerks, save one, were sitting on the sidewalk in front of the store, and the one clerk, Mr. Eddy, was waiting upon three customers. After the three men had made their purchases and gone out Eddy was about to join his companions, when he noticed a person stealthily creep into the office and take out the contents of the drawer, amounting to about five dollars and put it in his pocket. The office is in the rear part of the store and partitioned off into a room by itself. Eddy made for the fellow who, finding himself detected, dropped the money he had taken and started out the rear way. In his haste he left one of his shoes, which he had taken off upon entering the building. He was followed and soon caught by John McCaffrey, the barkeeper of a saloon at the corner of the alley on fourteenth street. He was held until a policeman was called and then taken to the city jail. The young man's name is Charlie Yorick. He is a well appearing person of honest demeanor, about nineteen years old. When arrested he was somewhat under the influence of liquor. At one time he had been employed in the cracker factory of Smith & McClure in this city. While working there he always bore a good character for honesty and sobriety. He says that he recently came from Kansas City and was out of money, and rather than beg or starve he made up his mind to steal.

THE DUST AGAIN.

Still no Provision Made for Its Laying.

As intimated a few days ago in THE BEE that it would be, the subject of street sprinkling is a problem once more. Citizens and property holders want the streets sprinkled, and have but little sympathy for the petty quibbling of council and committee. A few of the city business men have taken the matter in their own hands Saturday and cooled the atmosphere considerably in front of their establishments. Among these might be mentioned Edholm & Erickson and Wm. Bushman. Those who passed near these stores probably took considerable cheap comfort. Mr. Bushman has some peculiar ideas in the matter of sprinkling, and if the council have in view any one they desire to have instructed in the art they might send him around to Mr. Bushman for a few points. The heat is intolerable in itself without the additional inconvenience of the dust, and council should take this into consideration.
