

PLATTSMOUTH POINTS. Things of Interest Occurring in that Town. The Business and Political Outlook.

Correspondence of this Bee. PLATTSMOUTH, July 26.—The river improvement at this point is progressing finely to spend the thirty thousand dollars appropriated to the best advantage for all individuals interested.

Your reporter was not satisfied with his own judgment as to these rail means for turning the freaky Missouri, and so asked the B. & M. and city engineers.

The B. & M. corporation has its main repair and machine shops for over one thousand miles of road at this point. The shops and material yards occupy fifteen acres.

The shops being erected are the round-house, of twenty stalls, eighty-eight feet deep; car shops of twelve stalls; wood work shops, 60x150 feet, and store and oil house, 50x175 feet.

It would take a whole column to itemize the buildings going up here. A few good business houses will be completed this season.

Every line of business is prospering. All dealers are making money and the air of good times is the marked feature of every business man.

Mayor O'Rourke is building a fine residence. Ex-County Treasurer Cummins is soon to move to town, and is building a fine house for that purpose.

Rev. Young, a Baptist minister, is soon to locate here, and is visiting the city for that purpose.

McMurphy, of the Plattsmouth Herald, owns "Lady Mack" and takes great pride in her triumphs and prize money.

SAINT JACOB CATH. MORMON MISSIONARY, held services in the Baptist church several nights last week. The trustees must be broad gauge.

GLENWOOD GLEANINGS. Notes from the County Seat of Mills County, Iowa.

This beautifully located and flourishing little city has been in a flurry of excitement for some weeks, over the prospective building boom, which was expected to develop this season.

Property owners on the north side of the square have been joined by other capitalists, and formed a stock company to be known as the "Glenwood Hotel Co."

Politics are liable to be very lively in Mills county this fall, and although there has not been many announcements made by aspirants for office, the strikers are awarming and work has begun on both sides.

The officers of the county agricultural society are expecting to have a very interesting fair this fall, and have published a fine premium list.

There were three running races on the track last Thursday, made up from home stock. The races were good, and drew out a fair attendance.

Henderson, a Mills county town, has been having a sensational scandal, and it resulted in a free fight last week between Ed. Lewis and his brother William, on one side, and Samuel Bodyfelt and one Parnley, on the other.

Ed. Lewis is a well-to-do farmer, and a divorce suit is pending. Bodyfelt was put in jail here on Friday. Since "Ranger" was here, I notice quite a number of Bks's flying around, but they are not so numerous yet as I expect to see them after their virtue and true inwardness are found out by our citizens.

Newport Amusements. Susan Coolidge describes as follows, in the Midsummer Scribner, some of the amusements of Newport:

"The amusements of Newport, in the season, are many and various. First and foremost should be named the Casino, a new feature, but already a most important one. This charming place, which is both like and unlike the conversation halls, which in Europe, bear the same name, is built on the Avenue not far from the Ocean House. Its aspect from the street is that of a low, picturesque facade, two stories in height, in the old English style, of brick and olive-painted wood, quaintly shingled and oddly carved, with wide casement windows, and here and there a touch of gilding.

Major O'Rourke is building a fine residence. Ex-County Treasurer Cummins is soon to move to town, and is building a fine house for that purpose.

Rev. Young, a Baptist minister, is soon to locate here, and is visiting the city for that purpose.

there are days when the hounds are forced—faute de mieux—to follow a trail of anise-seed, instead of their more legitimate scent. But the pace, the jumping, the change of broken bones are equally good; and as Reynard does not complain, and no baby, in act of being scooped of its infant ailment by the mild infusion which does duty as scent, has as yet fallen a prey to the mistaken ferocity of the pack there seems no reason to cavil. Ladies often join in the sport.

The art music is another bi-weekly pleasure, inasmuch as it does the pretty drive round the southernmost curve of the bay, with the villacrowned slopes of Halidon Hill on one hand, and on the other the wide outlook of blue water, broken by many islands. Close by is the tiny rock with its time-washed light-house, where dwells the brave Ida Lewis, heroine of so much daring adventure, and beyond stretches the long point of Brenton's reef, surmounted by the casemates and smooth glacis of Fort Adams. In the deep point of the inner cove lie the wrecks of two ships, one of them an abandoned slaver, drifted many years since into this quiet harbor, and gradually breaking to pieces under the slow, untrailing touches of wind and tide.

"Beside the fashionable Bellevue Avenue, and the celebrated ocean drive, which for nine miles follows the sinuosities of the shore from Bailey's Beach to Brenton's Cove, there are other less famous, but no less enjoyable: The drive over the two beaches, for example, and out to the long end of Sachuet Point, through gorges in stone walls and across fields of grain, by overgrown tracks, where wild flowers and tall nodding grass half bury the wheels; or the drive to Goddington's Cove, to the Glen, to Lawton's Valley, or along the shore of the eastern passage. These inland drives afford constant characteristic glimpses."

Stanton and Greeley. Washington Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.

The following curious dispatches, printed for the first time in the Washington dispatches of The New York Times to-day, are of interest at this time. They were sent by Mr. Stanton to the Hon. Edwards Pierpont about a month after the assassination of Mr. Lincoln. They are interesting as evidence of a very different phase of excitement in Washington at that time from any which has been caused by the attempt on the life of President Garfield.

"WAR DEPARTMENT, 'May 12, 1865—10:05 p. m.' 'To the Hon. Edwards Pierpont, New York: I have written to-night to retain you and Cutting and Brady, or any one else you may desire to have associated with you to prosecute Horace Greeley and the owners of The Tribune for Greeley's persistent efforts the last four weeks to incite assassins to finish their work by murdering me. Please give the matter your immediate attention on receiving the letter, and secure copies of all The Tribune printed since the night of the president's murder, and get the names of the owners. I propose to prosecute criminally, and also by civil suit, for I shall not allow them to have me murdered and escape responsibility without a struggle for life on my part.' 'EDWIN M. STANTON, 'WAR DEPARTMENT, 'May 13, 5:20 p. m.'

"To the Hon. Edwards Pierpont and the Hon. F. L. Cutting, New York. 'I have proof of express personal malice against me by Greeley, and I believe that I can establish combination between him and others which may end in accomplishing my death, as it did against Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Seward. This is my reason for distinguishing his case from others of general vituperation. EDWIN M. STANTON. The second telegram was sent in reply to one which contained information that it might be at least indiscreet to make such an arrest as the one suggested by Mr. Stanton.

Frank Bardal, North Bennett Street, Buffalo, says: 'I have tried your SPRING WASHING MACHINE, and have never come across anything better in good in so short a time in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and derangement of the stomach; I strongly recommend it.' Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10c.

A Lady Correspondent. MR. EDITOR.—In a recent issue of your paper "Daisy B." writes to know what to do when she has the "blues."

Now, I have been troubled with that very unpleasant and essentially feminine complaint in the past, and I am quite sure my experience will help her. I don't believe those indigestion feelings come because things don't go right around us, but because matters don't go right within us. Every lady understands this and knows the cause. For years I have suffered terribly, and I now see that I might have avoided it all had I known what I do to-day. I tried taking Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure as an experiment, and it did for me more than I could ever have dreamed it possible to do for any woman. I would not be without it for the world, and I earnestly advise Daisy B. or any lady troubled as she was to use the means which I did and I am sure it will have the same effect. eod-1w
