Be Wise and Happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring your self and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-all, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. —[Press.] al-al

Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend patent medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend to all.—[Ex. Sold at 50 cents a bottle. Ish & McMahon.]

A CROOKED CLERK.

He Bleeds His Employer Out of Four Hundred Dollars.

Dohle, the Farnham street shoe dealer, has been the victim of misplaced confidence in one of his clerks. For a month or six weeks past, he has been missing goods from his store and lately has suspected one of his clerks named Wells. This man has been in Dohle's employ about four months, having come here a stranger from Pennsylvania. Since he has been in Omaha it is said that Wells has led a rather profligate life. He carried the only key to the store, and was in the habit of opening and closing the establishment. For six weeks past, it is charged, he has been taking daily more or less goods from the store. The goods selected have all been of the best quality. Over $400 worth of boots and shoes were thus purloined. Wells was assisted in the thefts by a man named Crock. The past week more than the usual quantity were taken out and Dohle's suspicions were so well defined that he determined to charge Wells with stealing them. Accordingly he called Wells to one side yesterday and accused him of taking goods from him. At first Wells declared his innocence of anything of the kind, but Dohle's persistent accusations were too much for him, and he confessed. He said that he had been taking goods from the store for about six weeks and had secreted them in his own room and the room of Crock. He also stated that it had been his intention, when he had stolen a large enough quantity of goods to go over into Iowa and start a store of his own. He begged piteously for mercy and finally touched Dohle, who promised that he would not prosecute him in the courts.

A search developed that a trunk full of boots and shoes and also a large box well filled were stored in Crock's room on the corner of Sixteenth and Chicago streets. Wells' room, at Tenth and Douglas streets, was also visited and two trunks well filled up with goods were discovered. Wells departed for Iowa yesterday afternoon.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY.

Omaha Rapidly Becoming a Manufacturing Centre.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday for the Turner Windmill and Agricultural company of Omaha. The incorporators are W. Turner, James E. Boyd, Ezra Willard, Webster Snyder, C. F. Goodman, Max Meyer, Dr. O. S. Wood, F. D. Cooper and E. F. Test. The capital stock of the company is placed at $60,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $200,000. About two months ago it was learned that Mr. Turner, who comes from abroad, was looking about for a suitable location in this vicinity for the establishment of a wind-mill manufactory. Several public spirited citizens at once entered into correspondence with Mr. Turner in regard to the matter, and received a promise that he would canvass the availability of Omaha before locating elsewhere. When he came here he concluded that Omaha was eminently adapted for the purpose and received sufficient substantial encouragement from the gentleman named in the articles of incorporation to warrant him in deciding in favor of this city. It is understood that Mr. Turner himself advanced $30,000 of the amount. A foundry will be run in connection with the manufactory.
