Only Imagination.

To the Editor of this issue:
PLATTSMOUTH, August 15.—The Watchman of last week contained an item that is calculated to place me in a false position. It states that I told the editor how Judge Sullivan, of Cass county, was making a fool of himself. The fact of the matter is that I never made any observation about the matter to the editor and what he states is merely the result of his own unaided imagination.

CITY COUNCIL.

To Meet Again to Consider the Slocumb Ordinance.

A Scavenger and Poundmaster to be Selected.

Results of a Very Important Session.

When the city council opened its session last evening the chamber was crowded with citizens, all of whom were anxious to learn what disposition was to be made of the Slocumb ordinance. They were not forced to wait long. A communication was read from Mayor Boyd asking that the ordinance be passed embodying the features of the law, and this brought the motion at once before council. Mr. Dunham moved the reference of the ordinance to the finance committee. He explained that his object in so doing was that that committee might inquire into the fund into which money collected in fines was given. At present all these moneys go to the state school fund and is distributed pro rata to the different boards. The city school fund lost $700 in this way last month. There was considerable discussion for and against. Finally the ordinance was submitted to the judiciary committee, in whose hands it has previously been. Mr. Kaufman and others objecting to enter into a contract which might not be carried out until next year. The contract for grading Sixteenth street was filed for a similar reason. Mr. Kaufman moved that bids for erasing and guttering Harney and Sixteenth be advertised for the work to be done before December 1. This motion was gled.

LOTS OF SPORT.

In Store For Those Who Are Inclined to Hunt.

Various Parties That Have Already Started Out.

The season of the year having arrived when certain kinds of game can be lawfully killed the sportsmen have taken out their guns, cleaned them up, loaded a sufficient quantity of ammunition, and started out on the work of destruction. Different parties have started out from last Friday up to the present time. They have taken various routes, but the favorite one appears to be to the northwestern portion of the state. County Treasurer Heins and party started last Friday on a special U. P. car. They will stop along the road wherever they find plenty of game.

B. E. B. Kennedy, J. D. Jones and Dr. Livingston, and Sam Chapman, of Plattsmouth, went to Norfolk. While there they will select a place for the field trial of dogs of the Nebraska sportsmen's association, the meeting of which will be held the latter part of the present month.

Mr. Chapman, who is an enthusiastic sportsman, said that the Plattsmouth gun club had been practicing a good deal lately on glass balls and were in shape now to challenge the Omaha Sportsman's Club to a match. An equal number of each club will participate, and the challenge will soon be made.

A party of young men from Council Bluffs, consisting of Harley Mayne and the sons of Messrs. Officers & Puseys, the bankers, are equipped with a hunting wagon, tent and everything necessary for a good time. They will go up about O'Neill City and stay a month.

G. W. Holdridge, R. Dean, of Chicago; P. S. Eustis, John Knowles and Messrs. Carter and Williams, of St. Joe, went out over the B. & M. road yesterday. They will hunt in the Republican valley.

Geo. I. Hogland and Charles Balbach went to Oakland.

John and Dick Withnell, accompanied by Charles Withnell, will hunt near Oakland.

Hank Hathaway and his family will stay near Oakland.

Charley Deuel, Will Millard and Will Bennett, went out to the Rawhide and Osborn to hunt.

W. H. S. Hughes, Goodley Brooker and Lon Leader went to Oakland.

C. K. Cralle, of the U. P., started out yesterday to Grand Island where he will hunt for a week.

George Arbuthnot, of the W. U. telegraph office, the champion shot, started for Lyons on the Omaha & St. Paul road, and will undoubtedly bring back a carload of game.

Rev. W. J. Harsha and party started yesterday morning.

Judge Thurston, Henry Homan and Mr. Landers left for Albion yesterday. They have good dogs and guns, and will stay out about a week.

Besides those named various other parties have gone out, and the slaughter of game this year will be very great. There is said to be a large number of chickens this year, and the sportsmen will have a fine time in consequence.

Slight Fire.

An alarm from number two called out the truck and number three hose cart to the Eighteenth street bridge last night. Neither of the engines were called. A lamp exploded in a house near the bridge and it was thrown out by a man who happened by. By an accident the lamp was thrown into a load of hay which was standing near at hand. The flame of this lamp immediately caught on the hay, and the alarm of fire was given. The fire was quenched before the department arrived.

The Lady Languers.

The young ladies comprising the land league have been indefatigable in their efforts to make the picnic to be held on Saturday an overwhelming success. The indications now are that it will be the largest picnic held here this season. Irishmen will come from Council Bluffs in a body, a rate of fifty cents for the round trip having been secured. Large delegations will attend from Plattsmouth, Columbus, Norfolk and other points. Bishop O'Connor, appreciating the efforts of the young ladies, gave the president of the society, Miss Sarah Brennan $10 to help them along.

What is Interesting Council Bluffs People.

Business at the Present Circuit Court Session.

An Overflowing Railroad Conductor.

Thin but Successful Confidence Game.

Minor Matters of More or Less Importance.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

ITS SESSION IS OPENED AND IT IS READY FOR BUSINESS.

The circuit court, Judge Loofbrow presiding, convened yesterday. The judge went upon the bench at 9:30 and gave the order for the sheriff to open court. About one hour was consumed in hearing motions and the filing of papers, after which Judge Loofbrow commenced the calling of the calendar. There were in all about fifty cases marked for trial and no doubt more than half of these will be disposed of without trial. After calling the docket the judge called the jury; nearly all responded. The judge then announced that he would hear excuses from any of the jurymen who had them to offer. The excuses were numerous, some claimed they ought to be excused because they were needed on the farm at home; some because their wives were very sick. One man said he ought to be excused because some of his hogs were unwell; another said his wife had a little child too "orphan." The judge refused two of the jurymen whose wives were sick. Another jurymen said it was not fair to keep him because he was strict supervisor, and the judge thought if he insisted just to accommodate him he would excuse him. The judge has had his hair trimmed and is looking unusually careworn. The court adjourned until two o'clock. No case will probably be reached until this morning.

AN OFFICIOUS CONDUCTOR.

HOW HE UNCONSCIOUSLY EJECTED A GENTLEMAN FROM HIS TRAIN.

Mr. Fox, conductor on the Rock Island train yesterday morning, committed an uncalled for and disgraceful act. It seems that our esteemed fellow citizen, Hon. Horace Everett, started for his farm early yesterday morning for home. He went to the depot at Western to purchase a ticket for Council Bluffs, and found the ticket office window closed. He waited at the window until the train on which he was to ride started. He then ran and jumped on the train without having made any purchase of a ticket. After the train left Western, the conductor called upon Mr. Everett for his ticket. Not having one, Mr. Everett handed him thirty cents, the amount of the regular fare to Council Bluffs. The conductor took the thirty cents and demanded ten cents extra. This amount Mr. Everett refused to pay, stating that it was not his fault that he did not purchase a ticket at the Western station. The conductor thereupon, in a very insulting manner, Mr. Everett says, remarked that if he (Mr. Everett) ever tried that game again he would be put off the train. Mr. Everett replied: "You had better try it now." The conductor reached for the bell rope, stopped the train and ordered Mr. Everett to get off. Mr. Everett politely informed the gentleman that he got on the train to go to Council Bluffs and did not propose to get off in a cornfield six or eight miles from home. But the conductor insisted that Mr. Everett should get off the train then and there. Mr. Everett told him in plain English that he would not do so. The conductor then grabbed Mr. Everett and forced him out of the car into the corn-field, and the train moved west. Mr. Everett stopped a few moments to find in what latitude he had been cast and then pulled out across the corn-fields and prairie until he reached the residence of William Garners, where he was not long in finding a farmer to bring him to the city. The conductor of that train should be suspended until he has learned how to treat travelers with more decency, especially those of Mr. Everett's age.

BASE INGRATITUDE.

HOW A COUPLE OF SHARPEERS TOOK IN AN OLD MAN.

An old man fell victim to some confidence sharps, and in such a clumsy way that we almost doubt that it occurred. It seems the old man while sitting in the U. P. depot was accosted by a finely dressed young man who inquired if he was going to Sioux Rapids. The old gentleman replied that such was his intention. The sleek looking chap invited the old man to accompany him up town. The old man consented on the supposition he was to help him fetch his baggage. They walked a distance of over a mile and a half. Then the finely dressed young man pulled out a lock, and they were soon met by another finely dressed young man who wanted to know what kind of a lock it was. The first young man handed the lock to the second and offered to bet $20 that he could not open it. The second sharper opened the lock easily and demanded the amount of the bet. The first sharper, not having a sufficient amount, turned to the old man who had come nearly two miles to assist him in carrying his baggage to the depot and requested him to loan him the balance, about $6.50, saying that as soon as they got up town where the baggage was he would pay him back. After the money was paid over to sharper No. 2, both disappeared and have not since been heard from.

A sign erected in the southern part of the city reads: "Don't hall no rubbish here."

There is such a scramble in Council Bluffs for lots to erect buildings upon that owners of land are obliged to remain at home and watch their property. Were this not the case, Charley Daughan and Junius M. Palmer would take a trip to Europe.

Members of Rescue engine company will please be on hand this morning promptly at 9 o'clock, in uniform, to join the grand parade.

Mrs. A. D. Fisher, wife of our highly respected secretary of the Council Bluffs Insurance company, has come to the Bluffs to make this her future home. She was formerly residing in a small town in the central part of the state called Cedar Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are both delighted with the prospects of a large city here. THE BEE cordially welcomes the new comers.

J. J. Spole, one of Forepaugh's numerous advance agents left yesterday for home. He says if he lives thirty years he will return to his family to Council Bluffs. He says it will not be long before we will number more than one hundred thousand souls.

J. W. Frazier, who has been away on a trip for his health is home again looking badly, although he says he feels somewhat improved.

Sheriff Edwards, of Montgomery county, was in the city Wednesday. He says if we had the waterworks we would grow very much more rapidly and he is right.

Ben Clayton, the big farmer representative, is in the city and has been for a few days trying to exchange promises, and we guess he will "suck seed (flaxseed, we mean). Mr. Clayton has not secured rooms yet at Des Moines.

Mr. Rogers, of bus fame, will run a line to the transfer every day at 4 o'clock.

A. C. Graham, Ira Scofield, F. C. Newell and Arthur Patterson have returned from Spirit Lake after a brief sojourn at that beautiful spot.

James P. Wickham informs THE BEE that instead of its requiring 600,000 bricks for the mammoth building being erected on lower Main street by the Keystone manufacturing company it will require 600,000. We stand corrected.

W. T. Preston, of Duple, Iowa, an extensive stock dealer, stopped in Iowa's metropolis last night. Yesterday he visited the Union Stock Yards. Mr. Preston says we are bound to be the leading shipping point for cattle in the west.

W. N. Ellis, of Utah, who has a family in Tabor in this state, was in Council Bluffs yesterday with his two accomplished daughters who are attending school at Tabor. The party is on route for Utah. Here they purchased tickets of Potter and Palmer.

Junius M. Palmer has purchased the Heffernan property, on Madison street, and offers the same in small or large lots.

The city authorities have ordered the extending of Washington avenue east several blocks, an improvement at the upper end of the city very much needed.

The Burnham & Tulleys building on Main street will be three stories in extent of two. A very large fire proof vault will be built in the second story. Wickham Bros. have contracted for the brick work, and the carpenter work has been let to A. N. Kiddle, who will superintend the construction of the entire building, which will occupy the whole lot from Main to Pearl street, with twenty-five feet front.

The council will meet in regular session next Friday evening. Prepare for a squall.

Justice John J. Frainey has removed his office from Main street to Broadway, into John H. Keatley's office.

Frank Shinn, a practicing attorney at Emerson, came to Iowa's metropolis yesterday.

In all probability if President Garfield continues in as critical condition as the papers report him, our mayor will issue another proclamation.

There were about thirty-five attorneys in attendance on the circuit court yesterday.

PETER HERDIC.

The Inventor of Herdic Coaches in the City.

Peter Herdic, who has recently come into prominence through the invention of the coaches bearing his name, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Withnell house. Mr. Herdic has long been a resident of Williamsport, in the Pennsylvania lumber region, and that city owes whatever it is to his individual efforts in building it up. A few years ago Mr. Herdic was very wealthy and was a power in the financial world. A crash came and his immense fortune was swept away. Many thought this was the last of Herdic and his great enterprises but with indomitable perseverance he set to work and is now probably worth half a million again. In the Herdic coach he probably has a bonanza, and is working it for all it is worth.
