THE RACES.

All the Entries for the Meeting Across the River.

First List of Any Kind That Has Yet Been Published.

The trotting races which begin in Council Bluffs on Tuesday next and last for five days promise to be quite an event. About sixty running horses have already arrived there and more than that number of other horses. The list of entries so far as made will prove of great interest to Omaha people, and as they have not been published on either side of the river The Bee takes pleasure in presenting them.

Settling Differences. Quite a lively scene occurred at the depot yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, in connection with a Farnham street marital misunderstanding. It appears from the statements made by witnesses to the affair that the wife went down to the depot to induce her husband to come to some amicable settlement. He appeared unwilling to

HOTTER THAN HOTTEST.

That is What the Thermometers Indicate for Yesterday.

The Fallacy of Simply Sprinkling Main Thoroughfares.

Yesterday was the hottest yet experienced this year. While there was a brisk wind blowing at the rate of twenty miles per hour, it was nevertheless like the breath of the Sirocco. There has been no business done or labor performed by Omaha people except that which was imperative. On Tenth street the dust, which lies to a depth of four inches, was raised by the wind in clouds which completely obscured everything in the street. People in carriages and street cars suffered as much from the dust as from the heat. At various places about town thermometers took upward shoots at a very early hour yesterday. The signal service at 5:45 a. m. showed 79°, and at 9:45 it had gone up to 91°. This has been the first time that it has indicated so high a temperature at this early hour in the day. At half-past one o'clock it reached the highest point it has at any similar hour in the day this season, viz.: slightly over 100°.

Max Meyer's thermometer, at 7 o'clock a. m., showed 79°; at 10 o'clock, 95°; at 12 m., 100°; and at 2 p. m., 102°.

Other Side of the Story.

Mr. Schutt, a justice of the peace in Douglas precinct, called at Tax Bex office yesterday in regard to a charge of assault and battery preferred against him by Edward Augustus, which was tried before Justice Brandes yesterday. He denied the statement made by Augustus that he had fired at him and a party of friends. Schutt says he was getting home from a little hunting trip and these parties insulted him but he paid no heed to them. He went to his own house, withdrew the shot from his gun and discharged the powder to clean it out. That was all that was in the matter. Justice Brandes was seen yesterday in regard to his disposition of the case. He said the weather was too hot to gather his brains together, so he wouldn't give a decision for a few days.

POLICE COURT.

Justice Meted Out to Small Offenders.

A suspicious character claiming to hail from Lincoln, who was arrested by Officer Donohue Thursday appeared before the police court and pleaded guilty to certain specific charges made against him. The principal witness in the case was a little boy of ten years of age. Judge Benke gave the fellow, who refused to tell his name, the fullest penalty of the law. He was fined $5 and costs and sent to jail for a period of sixty days. Cora Jones and Minnie Ross had a pitched battle at the corner of Twelfth and Douglas streets Thursday. Both looked considerably dilapidated when they appeared before Judge Benke yesterday. After listening to the stories, the court fined Cora Jones $3 and costs, and Minnie Ross $2 and costs. John M. Cowin was fined $3 and cost for disturbing the peace. As mentioned in Thursday's issue a Swede named J. Ross was arrested for threatening to kill his wife and little child. Judge Benke yesterday sent the man to jail for twenty days.

RELIGIOUS.

Mr. Moody goes to England next month. There are 824 Baptist churches, with about 20,000 members, in Florida, connected with which are 600 Sunday schools. Bishop Hurst says that Methodism in Iowa is creating a new religion. The state of Iowa has a membership of about 80,000. A wealthy German Baptist has bought an old convent on the island of Capri, Italy, and a small Baptist church has been organized there. The First Congregational church at Denver, Col., has just completed its new edifice at a cost of $49,500, and dedicated it entirely free from debt. Henry Ward Beecher's vacation this year lasts from July 18 to October 2, and he is spending the most of it at the Twin mountain house, North Conway. Statistics from eleven states show that thirty-two churches have been organized in Michigan in the last two years. The board of foreign missions of the Reformed (Dutch) church will hold a general missionary conference in Albany, October 12 and 13. The Reformed church in Michigan is celebrating the fiftyeth year of the work of the church in the Michigan territory. Rev. O. W. Frothingham, who has spent two years in the south of Europe, is now in Scotland. He has recovered his health. In September he will call for New York, where he will engage in literary work, beginning with a biography of George Ripley. Many of the church papers of England are calling for the re-establishment of the see of Westminster, which was one of the six new sees founded by Henry VIII., and subsequently suppressed in the reign of Edward VI., when nearly all its endowments were transferred to the bishop of London. Most of the Lutherans in the Baltic provinces, in Russia, have preaching in the German; but there used to be a congregation of Lutherans in the Russian tongue in their worship and schools. The solemn and impressive ceremony of the consecration of the Rev. Kilian Flisch, as bishop of La Crosse, took place August 24 at Po Nona college. There was a very large attendance of church dignitaries present, there being no less than eleven representatives of the episcopate, including the Most Rev. Archbishop Heiss, coadjutor of the diocese of Milwaukee; Bishop Grace of Minnesota, Diocesan of Fort Wayne; Krausbauer of Green Bay, O'Connor of Omaha, Hennessey of Dubuque, McCullen of Davenport, Verden of Marquette, Seidenbach of St. John, Mitchell of Edgemoor, principal of the Minnesota Benedictine order, and about two hundred and fifty visiting and resident clergy. The elevation of a priest to the episcopal dignity is at all times one of the grandest and most imposing ceremonies of the Catholic hierarchy. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Heiss, assisted by Bishops Grace, of St. Paul, and Krausbauer, of Green Bay.

HOSPITAL ADDITION.

Ten Thousand Dollars to be Raised to Build it.

The committee appointed to devise ways and means for raising a fund sufficient to build the addition to St. Joseph's hospital met last evening at Hon. J. M. Woolworth's office. Mr. Woolworth suggested that a committee be appointed to raise $7,000 for the erection of the building. Mr. Webster Snyder thought that inasmuch as estimates on the construction of a building always fell short of the real cost, that $10,000 be raised instead of $7,000. Mr. Frank Murphy looked at the matter in the same light, and made a motion to the effect that the amount be changed from $7,000 to $10,000, and that a committee be appointed to raise the latter amount. Mr. Snyder then moved that Judge Woolworth, the chairman of the committee, be empowered to select the necessary committees to solicit subscriptions in the city. The resolution was adopted. The hospital will be an addition to the present St. Joseph's hospital and will receive patients without regard to religious connections. Any person who desires the attendance of a minister other than of the Catholic faith can have one of any denomination he may desire. All persons will be treated whether able to pay for medical services or not.

The Merchants and Manufacturers Union to-day issued the following: To whom it may concern: In accordance with a resolution adopted, the members of the Merchants and Manufacturers Union of Nebraska, are hereby requested to abstain from doing any business on Sunday. All members of the union who shall violate this resolution in that regard will be expelled from the union. And all such persons, who shall violate the existing Sunday laws to be found in section 241, criminal code of Nebraska, will be prosecuted. By order of the union. P. E. LEBE, CHAS.
