A number of the suits for unpaid poll-tax are set for a hearing to-day.

Work is commenced in earnest on Mrs. Mynster's new block on Broadway.

The trustees of the institute for the deaf and dumb had a session yesterday.

James Ferguson and William Hett- rick were each fined $3 and costs yesterday for being drunk.

The new city jail looms up pretty well now, and it really looks as if it was approaching completion.

The Congregationalists are to indulge in a social to-morrow evening at the house of Mrs. Mueller.

The Webster-Wells neighborhood, mixed color war of the races, is to be tried up in court to-morrow.

John Boyd has given A. J. Murphy the contract for building a rendering establish- ment near the big elevator.

Leave to wed was yesterday given J. P. Anderson, of Garner township, and Augusta Frederika Gostafin, of this city.

There was a pleasant private picnic in Palmer's grove yesterday, at which thirty or forty, mostly young folks, had a happy time.

The ground on which Judge Reed discharged Story on a writ of habeas corpus, was that there was not sufficient complaint filed.

Rev. G. W. Woodbury is to lecture at Bloom & Nixon's hall, on Thursday evening, July 19. Subject: "History and Origin of the Negro Race."

Justice Abbott is now to organize a post of the G. A. R. at Sidney, and another at Hamburg, and in the near future still another at Henderson.

It is expected that John Keller will put up a two-story brick building on the lot adjoining the one on which the new Masonic temple is to be erected.

Mrs. Turley has complained of J. Falson for creating a nuisance, by leaving a load of manure in the streets over Sun- day. The case will be heard to-day.

C. Bosen has been given the contract for completing the Hull school house for $935; bonds of $2,000 being required as security for the faithful performance of the contract.

The season of proclamations is now being followed by a season of action. Even Horace Everett has been complained of for allowing an out house in the rear of his block to become a nuisance.

N. E. Tyson has been elected janitor of the high school building at a salary of $65 a month. He is a good selection, and the duties of that position will no doubt be faithfully executed by him.

G. H. Hopkins and L. S. Anderson have commenced suit against a railway for $400, claiming that their hay stacks near the line of the road was burned by a stray spark from a passing locomotive.

J. H. Story, who was arrested on the charge of perjury and recently released, has begun suit against the prosecuting witness, Mr. T. Callison, for $10,000 damages, on account of malicious prosecution.

Council Bluffs Lodge No. 40, K. of P. has been presented with a handsome Bible by H. A. Bolles, P. C. of the Lodge. His presentation speech was responded to by Deputy Grand Chancellor, J. M. Washburn.

Mary Butler has taken steps to secure a divorce from J. M. Butler, to whom she was married in 1866. She claims as the ground for the same that he has struck and abused her until her life has become a burden.

The eighth annual session of the North- western Academy of Medicine will be held in this city Sept. 11 and 12, and neat programmes are now being sent out by Dr. A. P. Henechett, of this city, who is secretary of the organization.

The long, one-story frame building on Bancroft street, formerly occupied by J. C. Bixby, was yesterday being moved a short distance south on that street, and will be used as a storage room in connection with Hattenhauer's new car- riage factory.

The proposed site of the new Masonic temple is to be cleared at once, as the excavation may begin. The building is to be 60 feet front by 100 feet deep, three stories high. The first story is to be sixteen feet. The temple when completed is to be one of the finest buildings of the kind in the west.

Mary Hayes, whose real name appears to be Julia Lanning, the young girl fined for being drunk in the park, is to be taken to the reform school at Mitchell- ville to-day by the sheriff, Judge Reed having made that order yesterday. She is only fifteen years of age, but her relatives say they can do nothing with her.

Thomas McKune, a white man having a respectable name, but a stranger in the city, was found in Low France's colored house when the police pulled it. He was yesterday fined $25 and costs, and not being able to pay was given a chance to work it out. He had a rail- way switch key on his person and is thought to have no business with it, as the clerk of the court retains that in his desk.

Mr. Ward, the architect, yesterday showed us the plans for County Treasurer Bennett's new residence on the corner of Willow avenue and Bluff street. The house will be sixty-five feet long and forty feet wide, and will certainly be one of the handsomest brick residences in the city. Mr. Ward has also the plans for the new Mynster block on Broadway, work on which is already commenced. It is to be a three story brick, 45x80 feet.

Some time ago two fellows named For- ester and Anderson were arrested for burglarizing Mrs. Davis' store, and held to the grand jury. Yesterday Frank Hunter, as attorney for Anderson, suc- ceeded in getting him released on a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Reed being con- vinced that there was an insufficiency of evidence to hold the prisoner. Anderson's real name is said to be McKune, and he has very respectable relatives in Omaha.

A tramp yesterday caused no little commotion by visiting the house of Mrs. Brown, a deaf and dumb lady living on Ninth avenue, corner of Seventh street. The tramp made himself perfectly at home, and ransacked the buttery at leisure, devouring whatever food he chose and tossing things about generally. The woman became afraid, and rushing out of the house, attracted the attention of a neighbor, Mrs. Deitrich, who armed herself with a hatchet and went for the tramp, who fled. Officers Leonard and Brooks were called on, succeeded in finding the fellow hid under some freight cars, and brought him in. He gave his name as Mike Smith, and it is thought is something of a crank.

THE GAMBLING HOUSES.

Probability That Council Bluffs Will Soon Follow Omaha's Example and Open the Doors.

Ever since the gambling houses of this city were closed the prediction has been made that they would not stay closed any great length of time, and it has been a matter of surprise that they have kept shut as long as they have. The an- nouncement that the farobanks in Omaha are again running has renewed these predictions. It has already been noised about that in some of the "closed" gambling places games of poker have been played, and there is little doubt as to there being truth at the bottom of those rumors. The Bee has already given two or three instances where games have been played. Some of those who have been strictly obeying the law naturally object to the officials allowing others to run on the sly, even a poker game. It now remains to be seen whether the city council means business, and is determined to enforce its resolu- tion, or whether it will publicly back down and rescind the resolution, or whether it will take a sly sort of a way of getting around the issue by winking at a few favorites and ousting others. The council is in a place now where it will have to show just what it means, and whether resolutions passed are of any effect.

A Remarkable Tribute.

Sidney Ourchundro, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I have used DR. WM. HALL'S BAL- SAM FOR THE LUNGS many years, with the most gratifying results. The relieving in- fluence of Hall's Balsam is wonderful. The pain and rack of the body, incidental to a tight cough, soon disappear by the use of a spoonful according to directions. My wife frequently sends for Hall's Balsam instead of a physician, and health is speedily restored by its use."

A Reported Shooting.

News of a shooting affray at Minneola was received here last evening. The partic- ulars, so far as learned are to the effect that Mr. Flemont, who was formerly in the postoffice here, and who is now post- master at Minneola, and also keeps a shoe store there, got into some altercation with a man named Deichler. The latter pulled a revolver and fired at Flemont, who in turn tried to defend himself with a knife, but finding this useless, got a shot- gun, and covering Deichler with this, called on a constable to arrest him. The officer hesitated, when Deichler fired again at Flemont, who returned the fire, and neither shot took effect. Deichler fired a third time at Flemont, but instead of hitting him struck a brick-maker named Lamont, wounding him quite seri- ously. The parties concerned are now reported as under arrest.

Demorelle's Determination.

And it is a good quality for luck at a lottery. At 10 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, June 13th, the day after the 157th Monthly and the June Semi-annual Grand Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, Mr. Jas. Demorelle (of Beau- ornelle & Cusack, dealers in building mate- rials) presented also at the Company's office half of ticket No. 23,131, which had won the first capital prize of $150,000, and was promptly paid in full. He is 33 years of age, and has been in business since he was 22 years old. He has been industrious, and has been at the head of three different firms, succeeding in earning a comfortable income. He, his father and grandfather were all born in New Orleans, and is of one of the oldest Creole fam- lies, descendants of Du Vernay, one of the pioneers of the colony founded by Bienville— New Orleans Prose, June 17.

THE BODY FOUND.

The Mysterious Disappearance of an Avoca Man Now Explained.

Temporarily Insane, He Throws Himself into the River.

The strange disappearance of John Coakes, the well known livery man of Avoca, was announced in THE BEE on Saturday morning last, and it was then conjectured that he had committed sui- cide. The conjecture proves to have been well founded, his body having been found in the West Botna about a mile and a half from town. Mr. Coakes was evidently suffering from some mental malady. On the night before he dis- appeared he appeared with his clothes all bedraggled and wet through, and had a very sensational story to tell as to how he came to be in that condition. He said that three men attacked him, threw a sack over his head, went through his pockets, taking eighty cents from him, then dragged him to the river and threw him in, but he had managed to crawl out, and escape. The friends could hardly de- termine how much of this story to credit, it was so strongly improbable, but later developments show that it was wholly a fabrication, either of a diseased imagina- tion or else purposely framed to conceal an unsuccessful attempt at suicide. The next morning at about 7 o'clock, Mr. Coakes was heard to leave the house, but nothing was thought of it, especially un- til as the hours went by he failed to re- turn. Parties carried the search in all directions, dragging the river, and leaving no steps un- dertaken to get at the facts. At last, on the following day his body was found, he having evidently thrown him- self in the river, while temporarily insane.

Mr. Coakes had lived at Avoca for 10 or 12 years and was widely known in this part of the state. His business was that of a liveryman. He leaves two children, a boy and a girl, and other relatives for whom great sympathy is felt throughout this community.
