Friends of Judge Lake state positively that he can under no consideration be prevailed upon to be his own successor on the supreme bench. He has, it is said, completed arrangements with a company of capitalists to be their attorney and financial agent, at a salary double that of a judge of the supreme court, and he does not feel that he would be justified under the circumstarces, in consentin to a re-election. The judge's fine judicial mind, and extensive legal learning are such that he has given excellent satisfaction as a judge of the supreme court, and his reti ement will be viewed with universal regret by the bar of the state. THE OLD CREEK.

How the Vicinity has Changed in the Last Six Months.

The old South Omaha creek is no more. The work of the grader and the sewercontractor has completely transformed it, and its locality, consequently, the value of property has risen and a better class of buildings are appearing. Eleventh street is being graded and the dirt taken from between Howard and Jackson is dumped into the old creek bed at Jones street, so only one more pool of stagnant water remains to be filled. Krug's new malt house is to be put up here and piles are being driven to get a new foundation. Jones will soon be a different street. Up near Dr. Peabody's residence the hill is being cut down and filling is going on lower down. South Thirteenth street there is also much change taking place, especially between Howard and Jackson. The handsome double brick stores of Lorenzen and of Manning, one at each corner of Howard, and the row of three-story stores by Dennis Cunningham, will improve the appearance of that street very much. It is a busy scene down that

TWO CENT STAMPS.

What Postmaster Contant Has to Say of Their Introduction Here.

Some Figures Regarding Business in the Omaha Postoffice.

"When will you take orders for printng stamped envelopes?" inquired a business man of the city this morning in the postmaster's room at the postoffice.

"About September first," answered Postmaster Coutant.

"Well, I want to get off my order as soon as possible, because I want a large for abusing his mother, and will be duly cared lot," said the business man, as he hurried out. This interested a reporter of THE A. Russell, Wyo., August 10, 1883, is hereby extended ten (10) days. of items.

"Do you have much business in the ing return envelopes," said Mr. Coutant. 'I will show you some of the figures," and he took from the safe an account book. "January is the heaviest month; you see the sales amounted to $22,121. One of our banks here ordered ten thousand thre-cent envelopes; one of the rail- tions. road offices ordered thirteen thousand of the same.

The postmaster then took the trouble to add up the columns of printed envelopes ordered each month, as follows: January, 42,000; February, 37,500; March, 16,000; April, 15,500; May, 25,500; June, 15,500; July, 19,000.

"This is just one item of the business," continued Mr. Coutant, "for the gross receipts of this office don't vary far now the growth of the city." "Are you curtailing your supplies of three-cent stamps and envelopes preparatory to the introduction of the two-cent stamps?" inquired the reporter.

"Yes, three-cent stamps will be little used after the first of October, so postmasters are instructed to limit their requisitions for that denomination to quantities that will last only to that date. If we should underestimate we will have to se'l two's and one's together for a few days. No three-cent stamps will be issued to us by the department unless accompanied by a statement from the postmaster that the stamps are needed for immediate use." "Have any arrangements been made for the redemption of three-cent stamps and envelopes in the hands of postmasters | the Metropolitan last night.

or private parties?" "No, not yet; so postmasters will not make exchanges for the public or return stock on their hands until further orders. Stamped envelopes spoiled in directing Harry Deuell, 14th and Farnam St. aug10-tf. will, however, continue to be redeemed at postage value. The department will be ready to issue the new two-cent stamps on the 15th of September, but they are in all kinds of furniture, to continue through not to be placed on sale before the first of October.'

"THE DROP-LETTER RATE

remains the same, I suppose?" "The drop-letter rate of postage,' says remain the same as now; that is, two cents | and Mrs. Spence, of St. Joe, and James H. this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Y. M. per half ounce or fraction thereof at free- McCord and wife, of Pueblo, were guests of C. A. rooms. All members are requested to delivery offices, and one cent at the other the Paxton house last night. offices; and no changes are made in the rates of postage on second, third and fourth class matter.

"What are the new designs?" "The new two cent stamp," said Mr. Contant, "has been pretty extensively described. It will be sively described. It will be printed in metallic red, having the head of Washington in profile, from Houdon's bust, on a plain tablet; above the oval are the words "United States Postage," and underneath, "Two Cents." The empossed stamp on the envelopes will also bear the head of Washington. A four cent stamp and envelope to cover double postage will have the head of Jackson.' "Will the present designs remain

"Yes, they will be accepted as postage whenever offered in appropriate amounts. The three-cent stamps may be used in combination with others or letters requiring more than one rate and in parcels of third and fourth class matter.

SNOW WHITE FLEECE.

Some Fine Specimens of Nebraska Grown Wool.

A remarkably pretty exhibit of Nebraska grown wool was made at the Paxton House last evening by Mr. S. N. Barker, of Silver Creek, a member of the board of agriculture and the owner of a large sheep ranch at the point named.

There were fifty-six samples in all, every one scoured until they were as white as white could be. They were all fastened on a background of black velvet, and that mounted on a board, so that the arrangement was literally "as pretty

This handsome exhibit was prepared for the Nebraska state fair, while two similar ones were made, one for the Na-tional Wool Growers' association at Boston, and one for the Denver exposition. They were prepared by Mr. Barker himself, who was engaged by Land Commis-sioner Burnham, of the Union Pacific railway, to do the work Mr. Barker states that, in his opinion, Nebraska is one of the best States in the Union for sheep raising and wool growing. He estimates the present number of sheep in the state at one million, and the actual census will be taken by this gentleman during the coming winter. Enterprising local agents wanted in this town for an article that is sure to sell. Live druggists and grocers preferred. Address Humiston Food Preservative Co., 72 Kilby street, Boston. m&e&w1m

SOUTH-WEST PRESBYTER. IAN CHURCH.

Ordination and Installation Next sabbath.

The services of next Sabbath will mark a new era in the history of the S. W. Presbyterian church on Leavenworth street, corner of Twenty-first. The organization began as a mission Sunday school, and stood on the corner of Major C. C. Sniffen, paymaster, and Captain W. I. Reed, Seventh infantry, will proceed to Fort Laramie, Wyo., and bad repair could be obtained. At some cost this was enlarged and the building was moved lower down the street.

Mr. F. H. Hayes was ther sent to the assistance of the few had gathered about the Sabbath school and a church organization was started on October 4th, 1882. The membership grew, and after a year's faithful work Mr. Hays felt he could now leave it in other hands, and compelled by the necessities of his health, which had been poor, he resigned, The home board then at the request of the session sent Rev. Mr. Hall, who has since then supplied the pulpit. Some months ago rent series from these headquarters, is the church purchased a lot on Twentyfirst street, and the moving and somewhat enlarging the building has just been completed.

A unanimous call will be extended at the meeting of Presbytery next Friday to

Mr. Harsha's church, the 2nd Presbyterian on Dodge St. and at 8 p. m. in the Southwest church. A hopeful and good spirit prevails in the church, and as a power for usefulness in a neglected part of our city it will be hailed with thankfulness by those who have the true interests of our ever increasing population at heart.

Dr. John Hall, the father of the new pastor, is in charge of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York, where he has labored now over fifteen years. This will not be his first visit to the west nor even to Omaha, but it will be his first stay in our city. Those who have the arrangements in charge, hold out hopes of a service in the afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Dodge street building, as it is stated that Dr. Hall rarely preaches less than three times a day on Sabbath home. Our issue of Saturday will have ample notice of any such service.

Many times you want to keep meat or fish for several days. Lay it in a solution of Rex Magnus over night, and you can keep it for weeks. You can also keep
