A new time schedule will take effect on the U. P. next Sunday. No important change is made in the time of passenger trains.

These are beautiful, bright, moonlight nights. The man who led the recent successful raid on the safe at Wahoo, and who was tracked to St. Joe, was brought to this city last night by Sheriff Miller, on a requisition, and lodged in the county jail.

This made the robbers somewhat careless about their movements, and the police soon learned enough to convince them that Gleason and Carroll were not only connected with this affair, but also with the McGuckin safe robbery.

No pains will be spared to make the Sioux City route excursion to Spirit lake on the 17th one of pleasure throughout. A good agent can be secured. Law office of J. T. Dillon, room 12, Creighton block.

The University regents met Wednesday at Lincoln. Nothing was done in regard to Prof. Aughey's case. Now is the time to buy furniture. Charles Shiverick is advertising sweeping reductions in all kinds of furniture, to continue through August.

Ferdinand Sauer was married to Miss Maggie Gahler Sunday afternoon at the office of Police Judge Anderson in the presence of a number of friends. May life be joyous.

The man with the iron jaw in the museum was robbed of all his clothes and his watch Wednesday night while performing. He had only his lights left. The clothes were taken from a dressing room.

A special car of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad is side-tracked at the depot. It brought Vice-President Touzalin to this city. Mr. Touzalin is here simply on private business.

The Wabash train from St. Louis arrived three hours late Wednesday night. It was running slow through certain Missouri points where the officials had been warned train robbers awaited them. The train bore a load of armed men and the passengers got out their revolvers, but no attack was made.

J. W. Flannery, a poor printer, who was discovered in an insane condition when taken out to the poor house last Wednesday night. As soon as the typographical union learned of it they sent for the body and if they do not hear from friends, will give it decent interment.

Two Suspected Safe Blowers Under Arrest.

One of Whom is an Old Time Crook.

McGuckin's Robbery and Cooney's Slugging Avenged.

Two weeks ago last Sunday morning the saloon of Councilman McGuckin on 10th street, between Farnam and Harney, was broken into and robbed, one of the thieves being captured by officer Powers.

On the following Sunday morning the same place was entered, the safe blown open, and about $200 in cash carried off. Last evening two men were arrested, one of whom, at least, is suspected of being one of the safe blowers, while the other is by no means an innocent party to crime.

The two men are Jack Gleason, alias Hall, and Wm. Carroll, and they were arrested at Curry's saloon on Tenth street, by officers Sigwart and Armour, who have good reason to know that they are the men who blew up McGuckin's safe.

Three or four days after the safe robbery a man named John Cooney, from Eastport, Iowa, who was just returning from Bismarck, Dak., fell in with a party who deceived him out to the woods on Seventeenth street and there tried to down him for his pile.

Cooney proved too much for him and got away and started to town, when another individual suddenly rose up out of the bushes, slugged him and carried off his watch and about $170 in cash. An ex-Union Pacific brakeman was suspected and was subsequently arrested and locked up in jail on the charge of drunkenness, but it now turns out that he had nothing to do with the robbery and that Gleason was the principal party to the same.

Cooney was sent out in the country to work for a farmer and the rumor was spread about that he had left the country. This made the robbers somewhat careless about their movements, and the police soon learned enough to convince them that Gleason and Carroll were not only connected with this affair, but also with the McGuckin safe robbery.

The arrest was accordingly made last evening. On the way to jail Gleason offered Sigwart his "bundle," consisting of $112, to let him escape, and tried to get away, but the officer pulled his gun and made him take back his money. No more resistance was offered, and both men were soon lodged in the county jail, being deemed too hard citizens to be trusted in the city jail.

The officers seem to be certain that these are the right men wanted for both cases mentioned, and if so the arrest is a very important one. John Cooney will be brought back from the country, and it is believed will be able to identify Gleason as one of his assailants. Carroll claims that he had nothing to do with the Cooney affair, but information received by the police leaves little doubt of his connection with the blowing up of McGuckin's safe.

Gleason is said to be an ex-convict of the Wisconsin penitentiary, and a notorious crook. He has visited Omaha quite often in days past, and was here during the time of Canada Bill, the three-card monte man. For the past three weeks he has been living out near Koch's garden, and it is said had planned the burglary of a safe containing $5,000 or $6,000. McGuckin's safe was merely robbed to pass away the time, and was the man's gall that he went into the saloon next morning, took a drink, and remarked that the job was evidently that of an expert.

Both men had revolvers on their persons when arrested, and circumstances are all against them. Bucken's Armica Salve. The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancers, Piles, Glands, Corns, Fetter, Chapped hands, and all skin eruptions, guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. 25 cents per box.

STRIKERS SQUABBLING.

The First Violent Outbreak in Omaha.

An Operator Who Went to Work Under Difficulties.

Since the telegraphers' strike began nothing but peace and quiet have reigned in their ranks in this city. If the telegraph reports and commercial business have been somewhat interrupted, it has been known only to the newspaper men and the telegraph company's officials. No violence has been offered, and no necessity for calling out the militia has existed.

The first infringement on this rule was day before yesterday, when one of the strikers, named Clute, announced his intention of going to work again. Clute is a married man, and has a family. He has drawn his regular allowance from the fund provided by the Trades Assembly, and it was supposed would feel in honor bound to be loyal to them.

Recently he began to demand more money, beginning with small sums, and at last boldly calling for $20, which he said he must have or go back to work. The demand was extraordinary in view of what he had previously been given, but the amount was made up by individual members of the Brotherhood, and it was supposed that would settle it. On Wednesday, however, Clute actually went back and resumed work at the Western Union office. His cousin met him in the afternoon and remonstrated with him for his action, finally slapping him in the face with his open hand.

Clute made his escape and is now at work, but a warrant was sworn out against his cousin, who was at once transferred to another field of action to avoid arrest. MILITARY MATTERS. The Latest Orders From the Headquarters Department of the Platte.

CALLING WITH DIFFICULTY.

A Man Goes to See His Girl, But Making a Disturbance,

Is Chased Twelve Blocks by the Landlord with a Winchester.

An amusing case appeared in the police court yesterday, that made Judge Anderson laugh until his sides shook like jelly. Frank Blaser is the name of a young man who sometimes takes too much, and when he does he is imprudent. Wednesday evening he was in his comely's have-a-good-time conditions and wandered out Sixth street to the neighborhood of Cuming, where lives a young-fair one with whom he has been on will-you-take-ice-cream-or-strawberries terms for some time. Arriving

IN THE VICINITY, no light form bounded forth with joy and a Mother-Hubbard dress to meet him. This made him suspicious. He approached an open window. He saw nothing. He stretched himself further, lost his balance and fell backwards onto a chunk of wood, and as he explained the occurrence to His Honor he felt sure that another fellow was in the room paying attention to his girl. Maddened and desperate he seized the ponderous chunk and hurled it with through-aim-without-change-of-cars velocity right into the aforesaid drawing room.

THIS FIXED HIM. It started the man from the room, but not a rival love. It was the landlord of the place and as he came out of the door armed with a double-buck-action-self-adjusting Winchester, Mr. Blaser thought his day had come, forgot all about the other man, forgot all about the girl he left behind him, and made for North Omaha on limited express time, the landlord after him. The race was lively. After twelve blocks had run the landlord cornered his man, whom he had taken for a burglar, in a creek-bed, and marched him down to jail. Yesterday morning he wanted to make COMPLAINTS OF BURGLARY against him, but Judge Anderson being doubtful about that, listened to the prisoner's pitiful tale and sent for the girl. Her story matched her lover's, and both were made happy by his release on ten dollars and costs, and the man swears that when they're married Judge Anderson shall do the splicing. Some smaller matters came up. Nellie Hobbs, Nellie Mott and Chas. G. Burke were brought up as inmates of houses of prostitution. The man charged with the same was fined, but the woman demanded a trial. Dick Grandin and John Tanner (no relation to the Doctor) paid $3 each for disturbing the quiet of the metropolis, and Tom Murphy, a genuine loafer, who wouldn't work if he could, went up for twenty days.

Enterprising local agents wanted in this town for an article that is sure to sell. Live druggists and grocers preferred. Address Humiston Food Preservative Co., 72 Kilby street, Boston. m&c&win
