WASHINGTON, August 19.—The Post has information that Judge Jere Black died at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

New York, August 19.—Judge Jere Black died at ten minutes past 2 o'clock this afternoon. Though not unexpected, his death was a sudden shock to the community.

The funeral will take place Tuesday at 5 p. m. The remains will be interred at Prospect Hill cemetery.

Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife, "How can I fear to cross the dark river, when my father waits for me on the other shore," and added, "would I were as comfortable as all I leave behind."

A RIFLE OF EXCITEMENT.

The Recent Tragedy at Beatrice and the Probable Consequences.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE. BEATRICE, Neb., August 19.—There has been much excitement here the past four days over the shooting of Mr. Miller, proprietor of the leading meat market of the town.

A young man named Rifle, a painter by trade, who has been in town about two months, was visiting at Miller's house last Tuesday evening, and was quite profuse in his attentions to one of the butcher's daughters.

The wound was necessarily a fatal one, and Miller died Saturday. Previous to his death he made a statement to the district attorney, to be used on the trial.

Rifle is a hard looking customer, and is said to have pulled his gun on citizens more than once. He is said to have "killed his man in Ohio."
