

OUR CARD BASKET.

Re-Organization of the Sans Ceremonie Club for the Approaching Season.

A Lawn Party in Honor of the Founding of Trinity Cathedral.

The Value of a Fine Art Exhibit at the State Fair.

THREE LASSIES.

Three lassies went sailing along the aisle Along the aisle as they sat down;

Three gentlemen sat in the gallery front, And looked at the ladies as they sat down;

Whom's a cynic or else a clown? For men must admire and women look sweet,

Though the poor papa keeps groaning.

Three couples went out when church was o'er, And slowly wended their homeward way,

For men must flit, and men, 'tis said; But the sooner it's over, the sooner to wed,

With goodbye to papa and his groaning.

This week brings the state fair with its accompanying sights--the rush of excursionists, the side-shows, the fine cattle, the blooded horses, the races, the display of fruits and vegetables, sixteenth street packed with hurrying teams and the thirty acres comprising in our limited park grounds covered with bewildered humanity--all the incidents, in fact, agreeable and disagreeable, that are comprehended in an exposition of this nature.

It is their particular duty to aid the art department, as the city prides itself not a little on its attainments in this direction.

We find a card in our basket asking us to call attention to the fact that the premiums offered in class eleven, lot two, have been considerably increased, and diplomas are now given for many articles, such as painted panels, that were not mentioned last year.

Four dollars premium is given for the best painted dinner set of twelve pieces; the same for the best collection of water colors.

Three dollars is given for the best painted tea-set, twelve pieces; three dollars for the best china plaque; two dollars for the best painted tile, or pitcher, or vase, or tin plaque, or dozen individual butter plates.

Entries can be made up to Tuesday noon, and ladies can take their exhibits out Monday or Tuesday, if they desire, and enter them at the secretary's office on the grounds.

Mr. W. H. Remington is superintendent. Mr. and Mrs. Woolworth will give a lawn party at their residence, Cortlandt place, on Wednesday evening, September 12th, from 7 to 10, in honor of the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of Trinity Cathedral church.

The invitations are accompanied by a card which requests the recipient "to bring or send one silver dollar to be applied to the final payment upon the new cathedral." It is expected that this slip and the dollar will be presented at the gate of the grounds.

The regimental band of the Fourth infantry has been engaged for the evening.

Mr. James Chambers and Miss Jeanette Jewett were married Wednesday afternoon at half-past one by Rt. Rev. R. H. Clarkson, at the residence of J. L. C. Jewett, Burt and Twenty-third street.

The rooms were prettily decorated and the lunch table was a mass of flowers, banked to the center, allowing only a small margin for the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers left after Boston, N. S. P. road that afternoon for Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

THE POOR FARM.

It is Invaded by a Squad of Newspaper Men.

Contemplated Improvements Which Have Become Necessary.

Saturday quartette of newspaper men, representing The Bee, Watchman, Republican and Herald, paid a visit to the poor house and county farm in company with Commissioner Corliss and Superintendent Pierce.

A thorough inspection of this important public institution was made and some of the necessary improvements demanded by the recent acquisition of sixteen incurably insane persons were pointed out.

Douglas county has always had more than its quota at the asylum, and last spring such persons as were deemed hopelessly insane were sent back to be cared for by the county.

Others have since been received, making sixteen patients in all. The county house was already crowded, and there are no accommodations for the new arrivals, except among the others, and as they are more or less dangerous, it is a constant risk to leave them thus at large.

Now that the new court house is progressing toward completion it is proposed by the commissioners to sell the old court house and the site on which it was built and to devote a portion of the proceeds to adding a new wing to the poor house and the rest to the purchase of furniture for the new court house, for which no appropriation was voted.

There is also a great need for a guard at the farm to watch the insane patients and such an officer will probably be appointed at once by the commissioners.

There are now 45 patients at the farm, where the usual number is 30 in the summer season, and winter will probably send out at least 30 more. The commissioners are now feeding thirty families in the city beside those at the county house.

NOT A PAUPER. An Incident Connected With a New Law.

The Medical Authorities Refused the Body of Joseph Pott.

The Bee has on several occasions referred to the act passed by the last legislature, under which the bodies of paupers were to be turned over to medical colleges and surgeons for scientific purposes.

This law requires the application to be filed with the county clerk, together with a bond in the sum of $500 that the body will only be used for dissection in the interest of science and that the public shall not in any way be offended thereby.

Thus far but one body has been thus disposed of, and it was that of a man named Kennedy, who died recently at St. Joseph's hospital. The next application filed was for the remains of Joseph Pott, who was taken sick at the county jail and removed to the hospital, where he subsequently died.

This application was filed in due form, with a bond signed by the Omaha Medical Association and Joseph Ewing, and there being some doubt as to whether the case came under the provisions of the act, it was referred to Hon. J. C. Cowin, the county attorney, who decided that it did not, and that the medical authorities were not entitled to it.

Gen. Cowin says, in his written opinion, that the deceased cannot be considered as a pauper but as a stranger who came to Omaha sick, was provided for until death and must be given a decent burial, according to the requirements of section 14, pages 467 and 474, revised statutes of Nebraska. It is also stated that the man has an estate in Sweden which will amply provide for all funeral expenses.

DOWN GRADE TO DEATH. Frightful Wreck of a Mountain Train Running Wild.

DENVER, September 9.--Two serious accidents occurred yesterday afternoon at Kenosha mountains, South Park road, in which seven employes were injured, three thought fatally. Conductor Livingstone's freight was being made into two sections to come down the hill. The first section made the grade successfully, but at its base ran into a construction train, injuring four men, but none fatally. Section second was even less fortunate. Just at the top of an immense grade, while running at the usual speed, the engine jumped the track and eight cars back of it were telescoped down the embankment. E. S. Foster, engineer; Edward Dake, head brak man and Conductor G. E. Swingstone were injured, probably fatally. The wreck was a terrible one. The wounded men were rescued and the engine left the track completely wrecked, the whole train. That any escaped instant death is almost miraculous.

Snow fell at Argentine Pass Thursday evening.
