A Few Hints to Visitors from Abroad,

There were many evidences about the city mate on Nebraska corn this year. About yesterday of the fact that something unusual seven and a half million bushels of last year's was going on, and even a stranger must have guessed at the nature of the eyent. Instead of the usual quiet which reigns in Omaha on the Sabbath, it was astir everywhere. The hotels began filling up the latter part of the week, and their offices now resound with the hum of voices, backs are kept busy running to and fro, and the streets and sidewalks are covered with vehicles and visitors. bly be roofed this week. When completed this will be one of the finest blocks in the city.

The little Michigan champions, the Port Huron base ball club, will play the Union Pacifics every afternoon this week, except Monday, on the grounds of the Union Pacific club. The games will be called at 4 o'clock.

The bulk of the stuff was of the heavier class, The bulk of the stuff was of the heavier class, such as agricultural implements and machinery, while the lighter goods will be taken out early this morning. There was also heavy arrivals of stock of all kinds in addition to that already on the grounds. Hundreds of people visited the place and not only was the attendance larger than on the first day of prevolus fairs but the managers admitted that the display was also finer and that they were puzzled to accommodate all.

OUTSIDE THE GATES a small village of beer stands and booths, newly constructed, faces the grounds from the east, and some of them were already open and doing a good business. The number is greater than it was last year, and the line is extending down toward the city as the city is extending toward it

Shortly before midnight last night a fire broke out on Dodge street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth, in Hine's music and book store, is the very center where the scene was a busy one, and it was evidently anything but a day of rest for exhibitors. Several great improvements have lately been made by the board, and the first notable one is the removal of the mandsome little building erected last year by the B. & M. folks to a place alongside the headquarters of the officers, at the right of the main entrance, where the two buildings have been joined into one another turned in an alarm of fire from box 15.

This is a new and admirable feature.

NEWSPAPER ROW is not yet taken up, and it is doubtful if the is not yes taken up, and it is doubtful if the city papers will have so many tents up this year as last. Several foreign papers have made application for space for tents, one of these being "The Racine Manufacturer and Agriculturalist." Mr. W. C. B. Allen, of the "Rural Nebraska," will put up a large tent at the right of the entrance, fit it with tables and

THE SHPEP PENS are filling up, a great display of Cotawolds and Oxfords being made by C. H. Ballinger, of Plum Creek, and a fine and large drove of Merinos belonging to a New York man.

THE CATTLE STALLS, which were all taken a week ago, are which were all taken a week ago, are filling up fast and fifty more were constructed yesterday, which will every one be taken. Among the herds already in are those of John Borland, of Stanton county; R. Daniels, of Sarpy county, and of the State Agricultural College farm. In the Daniels herd is a flour year old steer weighing 2,850 pounds and believed to be the finest for its age in the United States. A three-year-old in the same herd promises to be nearly as good. The state farm sends a herd of twenty polled black Angus cattle, and to be the coming breed of And the Display the Finest Ever Angus cattle, said to be the coming breed of cattle for this country, and yearly growing in favor. A few Jerseys and Devons complete the college lierd. Several trains of cattle arrived late in the afternoon and were unloaded too late to be seen. A BIG POW-WOW.

Judge Shannon, of Dakota, Talks the Indian Commission.

And Asserts that the Sioux Treaty was Honestly Made.

Boys Said to Have Signed the Treaty at Hinman's Order.

The arrival of the Sioux Indian commission Friday night, has already been announced, and a notice made of their ton, to listen to the statement of Judge Shannon, of Dakota, Senator Dawes presiding, and a stenographer being pres-ent to take down the testimony. To make the matter clear, a little statement is necessary. It seems that a year ago the secretary of the interior appointed a committee to visit the various agencies of the Sioux nation, consisting of Edmunds, Shannon and Hinman, whose business it should be to make a treaty with the Indians to cede part of their land to the government. The treaty was made, but it is now claimed that it was only brought about by misrepresentation to the Indians, and that they now protest against its terms.

It was for the purpose of examining nto this trouble that the senate committee was appointed consisting of Senators each month. Dawes, Cameron, Logan, Vest and Morgan of Alabama, with Representatives McGinnis, Hascall and Rice invited to accompany them. Messrs. Vest and Rice are now acting as a sub-committee to visit the Indians of northern Montana. A reporter of THE BEE was reliably informed Saturday that wherever the commission went they had found the GREATEST DISSATISFACTION expressed by the Indians at the treaty of which they had so blindly signed. Thir-teen thousand acres of Indian land were, by this treaty, to be ceded to the United States for twenty-five thousand cows and one thousand bulls, which, valuing the cows at $35 and the bulls at $50 would make the land sold at about three-fourths of a cent an acre! There has been much scandal about this. One sharp old Indian, who realized that twenty-five thousand cows meant about one cow to each man, told a member of the commission that one old cow had been brought around always, to trade, until they were tired of it.

JUDGE SHANNON in his statement Saturday described the tour of the reservation which he and his colleagues had made, and explained the relation of the Santees to the other Sioux and the interest they had in the land, being part of the Sioux confedration and so considered in the treaty of '68. The committee had visited Rosebud and Pine Ridge agency and the Indians had willingly and gladly signed the treaty when Dr. Hinman explained to them what they was that they the extent of the territory was that they were giving away, all the land between the White and the Chevenne river and west of the 101st meridian. Dr. Himman did the talking because of the illiteracy of the agency interpreters who were always, by law, half breeds. Judge Shannon said that at Pin of the Episcopal church, who warmly agreed with the terms of the treaty, and he had also received a letter, which he read to the commission, from Bishop Martin, of the Catholic church, expressing astonishment that Shannon and his associates should have been accused of having compelled the Indians to sign the treaty. He thought it was the best thing that had ever been done for the Dakotas. Mr. Shannon agreed with the members of the commission, however, that the secretary of the interior had no right to instruct Mr. Hinman to secure additional signatures. The commission held a long session at the same place, in the afternoon, and listened to able arguments from Messrs. Moody, Caulfield and Kellum, of the Dakota commission, in favor of opening up the Sioux reservation, and alleging that the Sioux commissioners were guilty of gross irregularities. They urg-ed particularly the necessity of removing the Indians as a vital step to the perfect prosperity of the territory. The commission took the whole matter under advisement and left for Chicago in their special car yesterday afternoon via the C. M. & St. P. R. R., having previously been driven to the smelting works, barracks and state fair grounds.

The Dakota delegation left for home is the evening via the S. C. & P. feeling able impression on the senators.

Asphalt An Antidote to Cholera. The following interesting item is taken from The Edinburgh Courant, Wednes-

d sy, August 22, 4883: SIR-At a time when sanitary inspecing of asphalt throughout the town of Port of Spain, worked wonders in stayng the disease, and acted as an antidote

o the cholera poison, The local government caused asphalt to be burned around the town at thirtytwo points of the compass, night and day, and the first day after the fires were lit there was a marked and material de-crease in the death rate, although previ-ously the registered mortality amounted to one hundred per day in the Port of Spain, with a population of only about 15,000. In all premises which had the ground floor paved with asphalt there was not a single death from cholera, and houses enjoyed an immunity from an attack of the pestilence. At La Brea, where the asphalt lake is situated, there was not a single case of cholera, although the district is surrounded by swamps. A imilar result from burning asphalt throughout the town was experienced luring the smallpox epidemic in 1869.
