THE STATE FAIR.

Exciting Races and Matters Generally Interesting.

The third day of the Nebraska state fair was an unqualified success, and at least 10,000 people were in attendance. The entries in all departments were closed although a few persons brought their goods in about 5 o'clock. It is the universal opinion ance with law. that no state fair has had greater attractions in the way of agricultural produce and agricultural implements than this one. These displays were early on the ground and the board were ready to receive visitors yesterday.

Sherman avenne and other approaches to the main driveway to the grounds had been well sprinkled and the dust laid, so that it did not offer the trouble to visitors usually experienced from dust.

The crowd assembled early and were amused in the usual way by the various side shows, etc., while a good business was done at the numberless booths and refreshment stands scattered about the grounds.

At 1 o'clock the Musical Union brass and string band arrived and promptly at 2 o'clock the races began. The first of these was the 2:45 class, trotting, in which there were three entries as follows: Little Tom, owned by A. H. Aylesworth, of Omaha; Kitty Stader, owned by S. Giddings, of Des Moines, and Annie Lou, owned by Peter Wood, of Milwukee.

The next race was the pacing race, free-forall, purse $400. This was the most exciting race of the day, five heats being run before any victory was obtained by either horse.

of a disastrous collision on the Union Pacific about eight miles west of Omaha, between a special fair excursion train on the Missouri Pacific and a freight train on the O. & R. V. branch.

There were many exaggerated reports flying about, but a BEE reporter obtained mostly all the facts from two passengers who came in on the Missouri Pacific train and who arrived on a special about 11 o'clock.

As nearly as can be ascertained the wreck was one for which the crews of neither train can be held responsible. Five Hundred Dollars For Dresses For The Missouri Pacific special consisting of an engine and three coaches, with about 200 passengers, left Gilmore at 8:56 a. m. and Dr. G. D. Sitzer, both of Weeping Water, say that they were sitting in the forward part of the rear coach and the first they knew of anything wrong was when, about half way to Sum-mit siding, and in a small cut just this the most violent, matter of fact style, the four grays, driven by Mr. McDonald, winning by half a head difference, time 1:01j.

This comprised the races of the day, which, all in all, were quite exciting.

Among the race for a superficient way to Suminity and in a small cut just this side of the curve, they felt the air brakes being applied suddenly, and the train slowing up. A moment later the shock came, the seats of the coach were smashed and the occupants hurled en massa to the front area for the curve. the front end of the car. The train at once began to back slowly down grade being forced to do so by the superior weight of its opponent in the collison. Many of the passengers had arisen from their seats and were either standing up or rushing down the aisle. The noise of escaping steam and visions of accidents in which death had come from scalding, caused many to seek egress from the coach by the nearest route.

The water from the tank of the Missouri Pacific engine deluged the ground for 25 feet on either side.

It is stated that immediately after the wreck the two engineers compared their orders and found that neither had made any mistake.

A special was sent out from Omaha and a portion of the passengers were brought in about 11 o'clock, the wounded men coming with them. The brakeman who had his oot injured was taken home after Dr. Sitzer had given him a strong powder to keep him up. He was a plucky fellow and did not complain at

U. P. train No. 2, from the west was three hours late and her passengers had to be transferred around the wreck. It was a notable fact and one that should be noted by travelers as it is always found to be borne out, that none of those who kept their seats were injured, but nearly all who jumped up and tried to escape were more or less hurt.

As the wreck occurred this side of the nearest telegraph station, it was impossible to send for medical help, but two physicians who chanced to be on board, did what they could, and as soon as the depot by surgeons of the Union Pacific, and those who were injured attended to. The following is a correct list:

a Beatrice Girl's Doll.

From a Philadelphia paper we learn some interesting items in regard to a doll's wardrobe being made for a little miss in Nebraska. When Mrs. Judge Higley, of Cincinnati, returned from Arteketa, Nebraska, she brought with her a commission from a friend-a rich ranchman, of Beatrice, Neb., who is preparing a delightful surprise for his little ten year-old daughter, whose birthday falls early in September. The surprise takes the shape of a doll, almost as big as the little lady herself. The preparation of a wardrobe for it was entrusted to an artistic dress-maker of Cincinnati. The artist
