thing else, if we would understand and know how to treat them properly.

DR. H. WAGNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condemn him for making this class of diseases a specialty, but he knappy to know that with most persons of refinement and intelligence a mere enlightened view is taken of the subject, and that the physician who devotes himself to relieving the afflicted and saving them from worse than death, is no less a philanthropist and benefactor to his race than the surgeon or physician who by close application excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately for humanity, the day is dawning when the false philanthrophy that condemned the victims of folly or crime, like the lepers under the Jewish law, to die uncared for has passed away.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.
