

THE DALY BEE.

Saturday Morning, Sept. 29.

Weather Indications. For the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, rising temperature, lower barometer, generally fair weather, variable winds, generally from east to south.

LOCAL BREVITIALS.

A new city directory is soon to appear. The city needs one. The first number of The Western Celt appeared Thursday. The road is being put on the new third story to Williams' block. The District Court fall session begins Monday with both courts on the bench.

The "Omaha" medal was won by Sergeant Gray, but he hasn't seen it yet. There's a stay somewhere. Safe for Sale—A medium sized Mosler, Rahman & Co. Mfg., nearly new, at a bargain. Inquire at this office.

Twenty deeds were filed Thursday in the county clerk's office and the transfers still continue, notwithstanding the approach of winter. The grading of lower Dodge street goes briskly on and things are all torn up down there.

The places for the primaries in the Third ward for the judicial and county elections is the northwest corner of Twelfth and Harmony.

S. A. Orchard has bought Mrs. Dean's interest in the carpet business of Orchard & Dean, and hereafter expects to conduct the business in his own name.

Two hundred fire alarm poles are being fixed up at No. 3 engine house. The boys are busy pointing and tipping them, and make the chips fly.

Don't forget the Danes given by the Prairie Guard (Camping Club) every Sat. eve. at Matthews & Gaynor's Danes' Academy, SW cor. 14 & Dodge. Admission 50c. #235

The funeral of J. T. Livingston, the bricklayer who fell from Brown's block, occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday, the remains being conveyed to the train by the Bricklayer's Union and sent to Mound City, Missouri.

In the police court yesterday two colored women complained that one Van Dixon had threatened them, and he was fined for disturbing the peace. The bondsmen of Nettie Howard are withdrawing since Forbes has been ordered to leave town as a vagrant, because it is expected that he will follow him.

The asphalt pavement on Harney is open from 9th to 10th streets and the work is progressing further along. A double street car track is being laid across Harney street on Thirtieth in prospect of the new line on Thirtieth. The grading considerably lowers Thirtieth at the crossing.

Hourly races will begin running between Omaha and Council Bluffs next Monday, fare 25 cents, children 15 cents. Fare between Transfer and Broadway depot 10 cents. Those who do not buy tickets will have to pay 60 cents to cross the bridge.

Mr. George C. Miller and Miss Jennie Deter were married in this city, on the evening of September 27th, at the residence of the bride's mother, Rev. C. W. Savidge, officiating.

The plat of "Kensington," a new suburb in the northwest part of the county, in the vicinity of Florence, has been filed by Higgs and Hill in the county clerk's office. It consists of 32 lots, and the streets are North, Center, South, Broadway, Grand and County road.

The funeral of Simon Robinson, one of the men working for Contractor Cooks at the court house, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence on Leavenworth between Fifteenth and Sixteenth. Mr. Robinson was aged 30 years and died of meningitis. It is a particularly sad case, as he leaves a young wife alone, in Omaha, who came all the way from Leicestershire, England, last spring, to marry him.

The eleven annual ball of the Omaha Fire department is announced for Wednesday evening, October 17, at Crouse's hall. The tickets are only one dollar, and the proceeds will be placed in a fund for the benefit of the volunteers. The tickets are selling rapidly and the boys who "run with the macehoo" will doubtless realize a handsome sum, and give their friends an evening of rare pleasure.

Wide Awake Druggists. C. F. Goodman is always alive in his business and space never fails to get a list of every article in his line. He has secured the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The only certain cure known for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, or any affection of throat and lungs. Sold on a positive guarantee. Trial bottles free. "GET THERE, ELI!"

If You Can't Your County Can.

First Annual Fair at the Pretty Town of Pappio.

A Day Spent in Inspecting the Fruits of Sarpy County's Labor.

Lots of Big Pumpkins and Bushels of Fun.

One of the most gratifying results attending the series of successful State fairs held in Omaha during the past few years has been the institution of county agricultural societies in various parts of the State, and one which may be taken as a model of success is that which has been in progress at the pretty and prosperous little county seat of Sarpy county this week.

Reports of the pleasant time being had on these induced The Bee to send out a representative yesterday, and the visit was well repaid.

PAPPIUM, the locality referred to, is one of the most charmingly located and most promising cities in Eastern Nebraska. Being just 14 1/2 miles from Omaha, its inhabitants enjoy all the advantages and none of the drawbacks incident to metropolitan life.

Four passenger trains and a score of freight trains a day, each way, afford the citizens easy access to this city, and they are not slow to avail themselves of these conveniences, while at the same time the route across the prairie between the two points is a fine one, and exceedingly interesting. Pappium is built on the slopes of two converging hills, and the creek which flows in the same channel, divides a distance in the center, and is picturesque relief from the usual monotony of inland towns.

The county seat of one of the oldest counties in the State, its citizens have well sustained the reputation of the energetic and determined pioneers who settled there years ago, in the midst of hostilities with the Indians and the very borders of the once dreaded great American desert.

A WONDERFUL TRANSFORMATION has taken place here, as elsewhere, and the most convincing fact was in the exhibit made by the citizens of the county at this fair. Then, too, the place is well situated, and contains many fine buildings, which would be a credit to much older places. A substantial court house, a handsome public school building, a capacious grain elevator and several churches, together with a number of elegant private residences, adorn the city, and Pappium is rapidly growing in favor as a suburban residence for some of our sensible citizens. This year the PAPPILUM DRIVING PARK ASSOCIATION, was incorporated and it was upon their grounds that the first annual fair for Sarpy County Agricultural society was held.

The grounds are located about a half a mile southeast of the depot, occupying twenty acres lying on the creek and as level as a floor. Here a convenient and commodious floral hall, offices for the managers and a good quarter-mile track are found and for the past three days they have been a source of attraction to all. Mention was made yesterday of the undertaking, and the large attendance of Thursday with yesterday, was less auspicious for the managers. That dreamy and delicious season of the year known as Indian summer was at hand, and as the reporter rode across the country he could not but notice the way in which the graceful undulations of the great plains, which here begin to stretch out to the west, were softened by the haze which hung over them, and from the faintest blue deepened to a wall of another before it reached the horizon. The sun itself hung a crimson ball in the sky, and a steat could not repress a feeling of enthusiasm as, after driving through fields of waving corn, the town was at length reached, and from one of its sloping hills he saw the beautiful landscape stretch out before him.

THE OPENING OF THE FAIR on Wednesday morning was under the most favorable circumstances and the officers were on the ground and everything possible was done to please the exhibitors and gratify visitors. Many of the citizens and farmers had felt doubtful of the success of the enterprise but the large number of entries soon dispelled all apprehensions on this score and numbers of the best specimens of the various articles even up to yesterday afternoon until all space available was occupied. It would be impossible to convey anything like an accurate idea of the various attractions which were seen on the grounds but a few may be specially mentioned.

FLORAL HALL, a neat and commodious building to the right of the main entrance, was stocked with articles of every description. One of the features of the display was the display of fruits of various kinds, principally apples and grapes, the largest display of the former being by Wm. M. Satterfield, who contributed 47 varieties, and the second largest by A. Holman. The best display was credited to N. P. Lefter and the second best to Wm. Killinger. B. M. Carpenter, Louis Gramlich, John M. Brute, Michael Dunn, Mrs. Zwebel, Jessie Wright, B. Johnson and J. H. Miller all made fine displays of fruit, and Mr. Harmon has in his hall a branch of grapevine on which no less than eighteen enormous clusters of the purple fruit were hanging.

In the north wing corn and sugar cane, small grains and vegetables were to be seen in profusion and all grown to the most exaggerated perfection. In the east wing was a splendid showing of silks and dry goods by Mr. A. H. Sander, the merchant; also an equally good one of stoves; others of furniture, boots and shoes, hats, sewing machines, etc. A. H. Morris, the druggist contributed several fine specimens of the taxidermist's skill, in the shape of well prepared birds and animals. In the south wing was a sight

TO DELIGHT A HOUSEKEEPER. This was an enormous display of such things as cakes, butter, honey, jellies and preserved fruits. In fact, the assortment was the most tempting and creditable we have ever seen coming from a single county.

This portion of the hall was made still further attractive by a couple of fine crayon portraits, including one of Mrs. A. Hoop, Jr., of this city, by Mr. Jacob Houck. There were also several landscapes in oil, etc.

In the department of embroidery, fine needle work, and the like, was noticed

THE RIFLEMEN'S RECORD.

What the Marksmen Have Done in Previous Years.

The Success of the Competition in 1883.

The recent rifle contests at Fort Omaha have excited no little interest, and the details have been published from day to day by THE BEE.

The following records of the teams last year may be interesting in comparison with this year's record. The total score of the department teams of twelve men firing six days in the division contest at Fort Leavenworth, was: Missouri, 3709; Texas, 2706; Dakota, 2660; Platte, 2651. These are the best and the poorest scores:

Table with columns: Team, Score, Best Shooter. Teams include Missouri, Texas, Dakota, Platte, and Division of Missouri.

The best scores in seven shots were 200 yards, 34; 300 yards, 32; 600 yards, 33. The best individual score in the skirmish match in the Department of Dakota in 1881, in 25 shots, was by Sergeant Unger, 88; Chawton, 87; Werell, 90; Collidge, 85; Newton, 83.

The Platte team last year was composed of Corp. H. W. Gurdon, Ninth infantry; Private J. Seligson, Sixth Co., C. Deane, Fourth; Corp. Ed. Daily, Ninth; Corp. C. Gregory, Fifth Cavalry; Sergt. J. Brandel, Ninth Infantry; Sergt. T. Conlon, Fourth; Sergt. J. A. Teis, Fifth Cavalry; Private L. Kornman, Ninth; Private U. Loveland, Fourth; Private J. M. Lied, Fifth Cavalry; Private C. Dunsel, Ninth.

attending the rifle competition this season has been remarkable, saving two or three disagreeable rainy days. Much, if not all of the credit of the management, is due Captain Coolidge of the Seventh infantry, who has been indefatigable in his exertions as officer in charge. He assured a reporter of THE BEE that every year showed steady improvement in the knowledge and use of the Springfield rifle by our soldiers, and that the benefit to the army could not be estimated. The soldier of ten years ago could not do as good work at 200 yards as to-day's soldier can at 600. In the modern method of making war, by the skirmish line, accurate shots are imperative. Not only is the soldier made intimate with his weapon, during the year at his post and at these contests, but he is taught to estimate distances with such astonishing accuracy that when men are stationed at different intervals, 200, 300 and 600 yards, the private of to-day can tell by the appearance of the butters in their coats how far away they may be. War is becoming, if not already, an exact science.

AMONG THE HORSES was a magnificent two-year-old Belgian stallion, owned by Jacob Sutter, a three year-old black stallion, owned by John Patterson, and a beautiful gray Norman stallion, the property of John Zimmerman, and there were others deserving special mention.

The exhibition of swine was very full and the quality of the stock first-class. The display of farming implements and utensils was good and highly creditable, attracting much attention.

THE AMUSEMENTS of the day included a foot race by boys under 13 years, won by Ben Hilberg, Charles Patterson second, George Dixon third.

A backward race by boys, blindfolded, was won by Will Welsh, Jim Spearman second, George Nowdes third.

A "bell" race, in which a score of boys, blindfolded, took part, was won by Bert Wilcox, George Nowdes second, Ruby Sprague third.

A very amusing sack race was run, but the names of the winners were not learned.

ON THE TRACK. The first race was a running race, won by Rocky Mountain Dan, Frank second, Dick third.

There were four entries in the free-for-all trotting race, viz: "Joe," "Eli," Clark's horse, "Ned K," "Get there, Eli," and "Springfield Maid." Much to the gratification and surprise of all, "Joe" laid a walk - say, winning two straight heats, time 3:08 and 3:05, the other horses coming in in the order named.

The started appearance on the track of Mr. Selby Beniger Knapp, formerly pilot of the steamer Nolla Belle, and for seventeen years agent of the U. P. road, behind his fiery steed Lady Gould, drew forth much enthusiasm.

NOTES. The Musical Union orchestra furnished fine music and lots of it. The managers state that the fair has been a financial success and that they can pay all premiums in full and all expenses.

Tom Daguid and Fred Stroch engaged in a foot race early in the morning for a private purse and Tom was an easy winner. Time not taken.

THE JUDGES. In the above races were H. L. Carpenter, Mr. Fox and E. J. Laffler. O. Frost, time keeper.

THE TIMES. The live paper conducted by Harry Carpenter, issued a daily edition during the entire fair week, a good stroke of journalistic enterprise.

VISITORS. Among the familiar faces from Omaha were noticed F. J. Housh and wife, Fred Stubbendorf, Fred Krug, Messrs. Chas. Henry and Ed. Kaufman, Henry Doble, Wm. Weichbach, Alvin Deamon, Wm. Segelke, F. W. Smith and others, who drove out across the country. Also Mr. Henry Marquard, a brother-in-law of the Messrs. Kaufman, and a prominent dry goods merchant of Chicago.

HONOR TO WHOM IT IS DUE. The officers of the society, one and all, deserve much credit for their work and for their splendid results, especially, however, are the secretary, Wm. Sander, the treasurer, Hon. A. W. Clarke, and the general superintendent, O. Frost, to be congratulated, and they are receiving the warmest commendation on every side.

A LITTLE FEELING. Talked from the breast, ejected from the bottle, words will soon be all that is left. Household blighting blasts in awful flight. All that is left is a pile of sticks and a light was hidden a light CASTORIA! When colds, coughs, croup, and whooping cough, all said their prayers and shot like thunder.

PERSONAL. Hon. James K. Boyd returned last night from a trip through Kansas.

C. A. Ringer returned from the east last night.

First Sergeant Frank Zipp, of company G, Ninth infantry, stationed at Fort Bridger, Wyo., has been sent with a prisoner and is now on his way back to his company.

Thousands Say So. Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without this wonderful medicine. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by C. W. Hooper.
