The horses were started up Douglas street on the dead run, and, when near McCaffrey's corner, they suddenly collided with a waron which had been left standing there in the street. One of the horses fell down, and while George and his companion were trying to get a lantern to see the extent of the damage, the animal got on its feet and the team whirled around and ran down the street to Ninth, where they left the hack a total wreck. As this was clearly caused by an unwarranted obstruction of the street it is likely another suit will be instituted

-There was a row in a well known restau rant near Douglas street Monday night which nearly resulted in some shooting being done. The facts are given here and their truth vouched for even at the risk of being received with incredulity. A cow-boy entered and called for three dozen hard boiled eggs and six dozen fried oysters. He ate the whole lot, much to the surprise of those present, paid for them like a man, out of a big roll of greenbacks, and then asked to have the order duplicated. The proprietor, who is a humanitarian and a member of S. P. C. A., refused and issues were joined. The cow-boy insisted on his order being filled and the restaurant man persistently declined to fill it. A policeman and a block watchmen fortunately arrived on the scene and summarily ejected the voracious will not Delay His Work Much.

The fire which occurred at a late hour Monday night was reported briefly in yesterday's BEE. The work of the fire companies of desirable acre property west of town platted, ing which had been done in front of the place. The hydrant in the court house yard could not be used, and a stream had the fire under, although it had grasped in its red arms great piles of lumber and shavings and light material. Mr. Coots fire boys. The scene of the fire was visited yestermorning by a reporter. The engine-house is the only structure which will have to be completely rebuilt. The engine, which badly damaged and the belt wheel cracked in three places. The whole extent of the loss cannot yet be told. The lumber in the next shed, black walnut, cherry and butter-nut, was damaged to the amount of $500. There was $2,000 worth piled up here which had been on the other side of the yard, and insured, but the removal vitiated the insurance.

Mr. Coots says this will not delay very creatly the work on the Court house as he main carpenter work had not yet commenced, He would give $2,000 strong suspicion of incendiarism, as the loors to the coal house were found open received for $56,000 paving bonds of dis-upon careful e ammation yest d y tricts No. 8 and 9. The session of 1883-4 of the Omaha Medical College, now entering upon the cost Mr. Coots $2,500 in Erie, is very fourth year of its existence, was formally opened last night at their elegant buil 4ing on Mason street, the exercises being $1,600. held in the second story lecture room. The attendance was quite large, the seats being nearly all filled, and the large number of ladies present being quite notices ble. Among the visitors from abroad were Dr. Somers, U. S. A.; Dr. Stone, surgeon general N. G. S. M.; Dr. H. P. Mathewson, of the insane asylum; Dr. lowever, to be put back as he was, in Harvey Link, of Millard; Mr. Watson, shape, Monday afternoon, There was of Herman; Mrs. Dr. A. S. V. Mansfelde; Dr. Donald Macrae, of Council Bluffs, and others. THE EXERCISES were opened by Dr. Coffman, president of the board of trustees, who made a brief statement of what the requirements for admission and graduation at the colege were. He then introduced as the lecturer of the evening

DR. A. S. V MANSFELDE, of Ashland, who delivered a very interesting lecture upon "The Outermost Rim of Nebraska's Field of Medicine." The lecture was an able and interesting one, and we regret that we have not space for its publication this morning. We shall however, publish it in full, or give a synopsis of it in our next issue. At the conclusion of the address, Dr. Coffman made the announcements for today's lectures, which begin the active work of the students, and the audience withdrew.

THE OMAHA MEDICAL COLDEGE, which was organized here three years ago, is now in a most flourishing condition, and is a credit to its founders.

The college buildings, located upon grounds owned by the college association, have been constructed especially with . view to the convenience and comfort of both teachers and students. They are pleasantly situated on the southwest corner of Mason and Eleventh streets. They contain two large and well ventilated lecture rooms-Laboratory for practical chemistry, library and museum rooms,
