How Can Council Bluffs be Properly Seweraged.

The sewerage question, which has been talked about on the corners and is being grappled by the board of trade and city council, is as perplexing as it is important. It seems pretty well settled that Indian creek cannot be used as a general sewer, and even if it could it would not answer only for a small portion of the city. The dead level of the long stretch the next station, "How many agents have to the river renders it almost impossible you got that don't wear shirts and panta-Iowa. to get a gravity system to connect with home, and where are they located?

A plan has been suggested for having a reservoir on the bluffa, and then by letting water through the main sewer force it clean, but the pressure world be so great that a wonderful strength would have to be put into the sewer building. Then there bad condition, of a very dark color, and impregnated would be a great expense. It has been with a heavy red brick-dust deposit, and very offensuggested that a great cosspool be made, and this pumped into the river. This would also be a great undertaking, and periencing any relief. Fortunately about this time would involve a large expense annually, but by many it is deemed the most feasible plan of any. DR. H. WAGNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condenn him for making this class of diseases a speciality, but he is happy to know that with most persons of refinement and intelligence a mere enlightened view is taken of the subject, and that the physician who dovotes himself to relieving the afflicted and saving them from worse than death, is no less a philanthropist and benefactor to his race than the surjector or physician who by close application excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately on humanity, the day is dawning when the false philanthrophy that condemned the victims of folly or crime, like the lepers under the jewish law, to die uncared for has passed away.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this natter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through their example, may be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely enslaves the victim. Mental and norvous addictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dejection or irrascibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Laseivious dreams, emissions and eruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idiocy before, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this dangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fall, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and consequence at some turned underside to fill the duties enjoined by wellock is alarmingly lar
