A BEAUTIFUL BADGE.

The Marksmanship Medal Won By Licutesant Merriam,

Licutenant Merriam has arrived in the city from Fort Leavenworth, where he covered himself with glory at the rifle competition of the division of the Missouri by taking the first place on the team and the Government gold medal belonging o the position.

Yesterday one of THE BEE staff had a sight at this medal, which is a solid and handsome piece of work, worth no less than one hundred dollars, and cost in gold at the Philadelphia mint.

On the reverse, surrounded by a wreath, is the inscription, "Division of the Missouri, won by First Lieut. L. Merriam, Co. F. Fourth Infantry, October, 1883," and then on the front, "First prize, army division marksmanship," and cavalryman mounted, in bas-relief.

"SIMPLY IMMENSE!"

The Verdict Upon Calender's Minstrels by Those There.

As the crowd filed down into the street from the opera house last night the exclamation "simply immense" was heard on all side, and this remark, the phrase of the day, applied very snugly to Callender's minstre! festival. The audience had been promised something new in the overture and were not disap-The scene was quite gorgeous and the singing in all parts good, es-pecially the tenor of Wallace King, who has such a remarkably high and at the same time sweet voice. The "circus" scene was a clever takeoff but one of the most pleasing extras was the drill of the black Zouaves, exact and thrilling. The Hyers sisters were good as ever, but only appeared once and an encore. The audience would liked to have seen more of them. Bob Mack and his rooster had to be excused on account of a cold. The whole perance ended with a funny representa tion of plantation life.

GETTING TO WORK.

The Republican County Convention Organized at the Court House.

Speeches by Chairman Hascall and Others to Fill In Time.

The Republican county convention met at the Court House at 2 p. m. yesterday, was called to order by Mr. I. S. Hancall, chairman of the county central committee, who was chosen as temporary chairman and Wm. H. Clark, of Waterloo, as secretary.

The first business in order was the appointment of a committee on credentials, which consisted of John Sahler, Thomas Pierronnet, Fred Behm, J. B. Furay, and Messrs. Barber, Thomas and Reed.

Mr. Specht moved that while the convention was awaiting the report of the committee, Mr. Hascall regale them with a speech, which he proceeded to do.

Mr. Hascall said that the success of the work to be done by this convention depended on the judgment and discretion used in making nominations. The public vesterday at the Catholic church, Chas. Will demanded good, honest, business men. on yesterday's train, and only two Pallman coaches.

SLINGER'S TICKER.

How the Advertising Man Traded Watches With the Reporter.

And Convinced Him That He Should Treat the Boys All Around.

The following was overheard at the office of The Watchman by our keyhole reporter:

"And that reminds me-you're speak ing of personal reformation, of something that came under my observation not long ago," said the temperance editor, as he told the boy with the druggists bill to call next month.

"Young Slinger of the reportorial staff had one great fault, he was a habitual, and in some instances, an excessive drinker. He was one of the brightest men on the force and was a favorite with his chief who, either overlooked his short comings or did not see them at all.

One afternoon when young Slinger had been pretty thoroughly muddled for at the reporter's table for a moment, and saw Slinger's watch lying quietly beside the pastepot, ticking away for dear life, that the girl had given her the slip and as if bent on putting in as much time as possible before it's master's return. Now this same advertising man was a great joker, so he detached his own watch from the guard in a twinkling, laid it on the table and put Slinger's watch in its stead. This done the man of advertisements door, just as I am now ply the woman told her story.
