The work on the new city building is being pushed right along, and it is now expected that both that and the new city jail will be occupied by the 10th of No-vember. It has been thought that the new city jail could not be used until the water works were completed, so as to use the sewerage and drainage, but it is now planned to use it anyway. Those who are too drunk to take care of their own cleanliness, the beastly drunks, will be put in the old calaboose, sobered up there, and then transferred to the new

Yesterday, while two of our naturalists were on their way to dinver, their atten-tion was attracted by an unknown bird in a tree near by. Recognizing it as a for-eign animal, direct from the old world. they resolved upon its capture, cost what it may, and hearing the letest news Having no salt, they conceived the plan of one stealthily climbing the tree and catching it by the legs, while the other stood below and held the bird's attention by wildly waving his arms. It is not known whether this plan would have been successful or not, owing to the appearance of the owner, with the inform acion that they need not exert themselves further in its capture. They think they will know a tame mappie the next time
