ing week in 1882. The exhibit this week is the most favorable one when compared with the corresponding week of last year and denotes a marked improvement in general trade situations and many cities for which months past have shown a decrease in clearings, are now crossing the line and showing gain.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

CHICAGO, October 29.—The improvement in business which board of trade merchants through two months of comparative stagnation have anxiously looked for seems to have fairly begun. The activity characterizing Saturday's trading continued to-day through a strong and at times wildly excited market. Wheat at the close showed an advance of nearly four cents over the ruling prices for Thursday last.
The immediate cause for improvement were an increased export demand, a decrease in the visible supply, rumors of wars, and, above all, the natural reaction of the market from a protracted period of inactivity. Wheat opened strong and about 1@ above Saturday's close, and after declining 1@ to advanced rapidly to nearly 1@ above the opening. The close was very strong, sustained by heavy local and outside buying. Country speculators who never invest in a falling market sent in heavy orders to-day, and the trading from the eastern cities was very large. Altogether business appears to have awakened, and an era of activity entered upon. Interest in wheat overshadowed the other cereals. Corn advanced about 1@ in sympathy with wheat, actual trading in it being limited. Hog products were fairly active, more so than for some time. Prices were confined in a narrow range.
