CRIMSON AND SABLE.

A Pleasant Party Given by the Omaha Socialists.

Extracts From a "Declaration of the Rights of Man."

"Reds" and "Blacks" and the Predicted Result of Their Unity.

A very pleasant and social party was given Sunday at the Tivoli, under the auspices of the Socialist organization of this city, none but the members and their friends being admitted.

The hall was filled with guests, a large proportion being ladies and children, and the hours flew by rapidly under the enjoyment of good music, dancing, etc.

If the Bee reporter understands rightly this organization does not have any permanent president or official of that kind, but the leader and spokesman of the evening was Mr. Henry Ruhe, a well known German citizen.

He declared that the purpose of the organization was to secure the rights of all men to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and the equality of all by birth.

"Liberty is the power which belongs to a man of exercising all his faculties at pleasure. It has justice for its rule; the rights of others for its boundaries, nature for its origin and the law for its safeguard."

"Every individual is entitled to an equal proportionate share of all the accumulated wealth created by past generations, and that wealth should be held by society as the natural heritage in common of all mankind."

"Society can deny to those who do not consent to this system of society any share of the benefits produced by the operation of those who do consent. It is but just that those who will not cooperate should receive none of the benefits of cooperation."

"Debt, profit, interest, rent and the competitive system of industry are hereby formally declared proved instruments of degradation and tyranny, and cancers upon the social body."

"In every just government the law should be above all to defend public and individual liberty against the authority of those that govern. Every institution that does not support the people good and the magistrate corruptible, is vicious."

"Kings, aristocrats, tyrants of every description are beasts dangerous to the welfare of mankind, and against them should be raised the hand of every man."

"The conditions which will establish universal happiness upon earth consist in the free enjoyment of the natural rights of man, combined with the exercise of all his faculties upon the highest plane of mental, moral and physical worth."

"We believe in the fact that the present system of government is a curse to the human race, and that a future revolution, which must either result in a greater and freer condition or will plunge our present civilization back into barbarism."

"We affirm that, believing this, it is our duty to prepare for the impending conflict; to lead it when it shall break upon us, and to bend every energy to so direct it as to secure as its result the establishment of a proper system of governmental co-operation."

"We affirm, furthermore, that all the resources of science should be enlisted in the battle to insure success and the welfare of the people of the world."

"We declare further that action ought to be both international and simultaneous. It will be remembered that in 1872 at the Congress of the International held at the Hague, first arose the dimensions which have since divided our ranks."

"The news of this division which brought to Bismarck provoked from him this historical remark: 'Growned heads, wealth and privilege will tremble should we see again the Black and the Red unite!'"

"The day has come for solidarity. Ho! Reds and Blacks, thy flags are flying side by side! Let the drum beat out defiantly the roll of battle. 'Workingmen of all lands unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains, you have a world to win!'"

"Tremble! oppressor of the world! Not far beyond your purblind sight there dawn the scarlet and sable lights of the JUDGMENT DAY."

Buckley's Arnica Salve. The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancers, Piles, Chliria, Corns, Tetter, Chapped hands, and all skin eruptions. Guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. 25 cents per box.

THE PALACE. The well known billiard hall situated in Solomon's block, on Farnam street, has been refitted and opened up by two well known and highly popular young men of this city, Billy Thompson and Charley Little, both of whom have for some time past been in charge of the Paxton bar.

and magnificently equipped billiard hall in the city, everything being brand new, and obtained by the original proprietor regardless of expense. It is proposed to run it in first-class style in every respect, doing so, and achieving success than Thompson and Little, whose reputation with the public is second to none in this part of the country.

"JOHNNY BULL." She Robs a Man on the Street of a Big Sum.

A German by the name of Michael Rott, who did not speak English very plainly, and who has only been in the city about eight days, made complaint at the police court yesterday that he had been robbed by a woman on the street last night, and from the description he gave of her the police infer that it must be "Johnny Bull," whose real name is Henderson.

He swore out a warrant against this party, and related his story. He was coming around the corner at Turner hall, when he met a woman who asked him where Thirteenth street was. He told her, and she asked him to go home with her, putting her arms part way round him. He refused to go and disentangled himself from his captor, who then disappeared, saying it was too light on the corner.

He immediately missed a wallet which he had in his coat pocket, containing $200 in money, of two $50 bills, $20 and $5 gold pieces.

"Blessing to all Mankind." In these times when our Newspapers are flooded with patent medicine advertisements, it is gratifying to know that to procure that which will certainly cure you, if you are Bilious, blood out of order, Liver inactive, or generally debilitated, there is nothing in the world that will cure you so quickly as Electric Bitters.

They are a blessing to all mankind, and can be had for only fifty cents a bottle of C. F. Good-man's.

THE MAJOR-GENERAL. He Passes Through to Assume Command of the Division.

Major-General J. M. Schofield, of San Francisco, passed through Omaha early yesterday on his way to Chicago, where he assumes command of the division.

He arrived on the morning train from San Francisco accompanied by his wife, son and daughter, and his aide-de-camp, Lieut. Schofield. They went East over the Chicago and Northwestern.

General Howard, of this department, and Lieut. Guy Howard met the General at the depot and conversed during the interval that the train stopped here. Col. Wherry, of Gen. Schofield's staff, is to meet him in Chicago. He has been on a month's leave of absence in the East.

FOR THE POOR. A Free Medical Dispensary Inaugurated in Omaha.

A Bee reporter Monday learned that the Omaha Medical college had established what is called an "out-door" department for the benefit of the poor of the city, which it would seem is a very praiseworthy movement.

At this free medical dispensary all who come will obtain medicine, advice or surgical treatment free of charge. Calls may be made at any time from 1 to 2 o'clock p. m. each day of the week except Sunday.

The Sisters at St. Joseph's hospital will keep and dispense all the things up- on orders given by the physicians, who keep cards for the purpose, giving the name and number of each applicant.

Dr. Ewing Brown will have charge of all surgical cases, while Dr. G. B. Ayres and Dr. W. S. Gibbs will manage the medical department. This will certainly prove a boon to a great many of the poor of our city.

A Card. In an article in the "Local Brevities," which appeared in Saturday evening's edition of THE BEE, reflecting on the good name of the dry goods clerks in the city, I think it is only justice to them that THE BEE publish the names of the two "dry goods beads" referred to.

A DRY GOODS CLERK. Real Estate Transfers. The following deeds were filed for record in the county clerk's office October 29th, reported for THE BEE by Ames' real estate agency:

BUNGLING BURGLARS.

They Make a Raid on Lininger & Metcalf Co's. Safe This Morning.

But Found No Booty.

Some time before sunrise Monday the safe belonging to Messrs. Lininger & Metcalf Co., the well known dealers in agricultural implements, wagons, &c., was broken into by some burglars who were evidently novices in the profession of their choice as is shown by the extremely clumsy and unprofessional way in which they performed the task they undertook.

It was also very apparent that they had no proper burglar tools with them, but must have done their work with an old hatchet and a chisel or two. They seemed to be under the impression that the firm's money was kept in the drawer in the upper part of the safe, (which is the fact in the day time) and with the view of getting at this drawer they managed to chisel out a hole about as large as a good sized head, and having got at the drawer, scattered the contents on the floor, no doubt in the hope of finding some currency. They were doomed to be sadly disappointed, as there was nothing in it but a few unimportant papers. They then tried some other means, but only found in these some postage stamps and nickels, which they disdainfully emptied on the floor, and in moving about took them. They were quite unable to get access to the drawers situated in the lower part of the safe but even had they done so they would not have been materially benefited thereby as there was no money of any kind in them, but only papers of use to none but the firm itself.

The fact is the proprietors make a point of banking all moneys received during the day and they scarcely ever have more than a little change in the day time, which is also removed elsewhere before closing up for the night.

As far as they can ascertain up to the present time the burglars did not take a single thing of any description, and their two or three hours labor was entirely thrown away. They kindly left the hatchet which they had used as a little memento of their somewhat hurried visit, but it is hardly to be expected after their recent abrupt departure that they will be likely to trouble Messrs. Lininger & Metcalf Co. again.

DIED. ROSE.—In Omaha, Wednesday night, October 24th, after a few days illness, Dr. W. C. Rose, in the 33rd year of his age.

This has passed beyond "the swellings of Jordan" a life that was full of kindness, gentleness, hope and promise.

In the full vigor of intellectual manhood, in the possession of those qualities which attract the confidence, esteem and affection of all he stood among us yesterday. To-day that gentle heart has ceased to beat forever.

Coming to Omaha but a little over a year ago almost an entire stranger, he began with energy and industry the practice of medicine, for which, through many trials, but with undaunted perseverance, he had thoroughly fitted himself. Notwithstanding the trials and difficulties which most always surround a young medical practitioner in his early career in a large city, and which the sensitive and gentle nature of Dr. Rose made him feel more keenly than most men, he went firmly and resolutely to work and in a short time his skill and faithfulness the duties of his profession.

Beyond even his greatest expectations were the rewards of his industry, and the promises of less success in a shorter time his skill and services were recognized and demanded, and the foundation for a large and useful career had been laid when the sad summons came to cross "the dark river."

And now a widow weeps—three little children are fatherless, an aged mother and father mourn a sorrowing and a sorrowing, and friends who knew his worth feel sadly their loss. Dr. Rose was a good husband, a loving father, a kind and considerate son, a true brother and a true friend.

The sick poor never called on him in vain, but of his means and time he was a generous giver.

While we cannot understand why such afflictions come—so suddenly, so sadly, so far reaching in the results—we do know that "God doeth all things well," and that His "judgments are true and righteous altogether."

Dr. Rose in his last hour expressed his readiness for death and his confidence that all was well with him, and now that they have laid his remains away in the "windowless palace of rest," may his be "The best."

That heaven itself can give rest—Rest from all weary thoughts and things: And many a poor man's blessing went With him beneath the low green tent, Whose curtain never lifted save to let in the light of heaven.

ROBBERIES.

A Man Garrotted on Ninth and Douglas.

A Woman With a Pocket Full of "Dust."

Some time last evening a man by the name of Schrote was held up and robbed of his money, about $17 in all, on the corner of Ninth and Douglas street. One man seized him by the throat and held him, while the other went through him.

Three females were arrested early in the evening, one of whom claimed to have been robbed by one of the others. The former gave her name as Mrs. Nellie Hall and bore papers showing that she had lost two children in the flames by the burning of her home at some point in Nebraska. She had a book containing many names, subscribing from 25 cents to $5, and a search revealed a deposit of fifty silver dollars in one of her stockings and $70 in a pocketbook, concealed in her dress elsewhere. She claimed that a colored woman, who was one of the three arrested, had stolen $5 from her. Later in the night she had a bad case of "jimmies," and one of her companions had such ominous signs of approaching maternity that the city physician was hastily summoned, but it was afterwards learned that it was a false alarm.

The Woman's Tribune. The August number of The Woman's Tribune was received with such favor that the recent convention of the Nebraska W. S. A. at Hastings decided to continue its publication as a weekly. This paper will be devoted to the domestic, social, industrial, benevolent, and political interests of women and the family, and it is believed that it will be of great service in all fields of labor and thought. A special feature will be the department relating to the laws that affect women and this will be edited by Nebraska's woman lawyer, Ada M. Bittenbender.

The first regular issue of this paper will appear November 1st. Terms $1.00 a year, 60 cents for six months, 35 cents for three months. Send for specimen copies to the editor, Clara B. Colby, Beatrice, Neb.

An indignation meeting of colored citizens was held at the District Court room last evening, and was well attended. Several interesting speeches were made, one of which was by General J. M. Thayer, who related some exciting army reminiscences which brought forth enthusiastic applause.

A serious accident occurred at the Omaha National bank yesterday, by which a small boy riding on the elevator was badly hurt and now lies at home in a critical condition.

We clip the following extract from The Overland Monthly, entitled: "Falls of the Shoshone." No sheltering pine, or mountain distance of upland Sierras guard the approach to the Shoshone. You ride upon a waste—the pale earth stretched in desolation. Suddenly stand upon a brink. As if the earth had yielded, black walls flank the abyss. Deep in the bed a great river finds its way through a labyrinth of blackened ruins, and plunges in foaming whiteness over a cliff of lava. You turn from the brink as from a frightful glimpse of the inferno, and when you have gone a mile the earth seems to have closed again. Every trace of the canyon has vanished, and the stillness of the desert reigns.
