Subscription Rates: By Carrier... $3.00 per week... $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: 67 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. MINOR MENTION. See Joseph Reiter's fall goods...

Work of filling up lower Broadway is going on again. The German Lutheran church has a benefit at Dohany's next Saturday evening.

The police took A. Castle yesterday, and he was fined $7.00 for being drunk and leading a horse on the sidewalk.

The street car track on lower Broadway is being raised. Again the question, who ought to pay for filling in the dirt?

There was an incipient blaze at O'Donnell's blacksmith shop, near the new city building Monday night. No harm done, however.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dramer's infant son Willie, who died Sunday of congestion of the brain, took place yesterday.

Work on Shugart, Wait & Weis's new warehouse, on lower Main street, is now going on well. The building is to be two stories, 100 by 145 feet.

John O'Connor and Nellie Skinner, both of Neola; Patrick Ryan and Annie B. Barry, also of Neola, were given due permit yesterday to wed if they want to.

Justice Schurz yesterday performed the ceremony of making Inno Stromer and Johanna Alberts husband and wife. Both are residents of Pottawattamie county.

The employees of the Council Bluffs insurance company are to give a select party this evening in the Shugart block, third floor. The Bavarian band is to furnish the music.

S. Dodson, while laboring under the influence of liquor, got discouraged and took a dose of chloroform, but the doctors pumped him out, and he lives to repent his foolishness.

A sensational scene is reported as having occurred in the Curtis street school, a boy drawing a knife on the teacher and threatening to stab her if she persisted in whipping him. He was whipped just the same.

Prof. J. J. Slattery is to open in connection with St. Joseph's academy a night business college, in which a full course of bookkeeping and a business course will be taught. The night school will open November 2d.

Chief Templeton, of the fire department, is expected home the latter part of the week. He reports the mosquitoes at New Orleans as large as black-birds and promises to bring back several specimens for his museum.

Mrs. Gilbert, of New York, arrived at the Pacific house yesterday, where she is the guest of Mrs. Paige. Mrs. Gilbert is here on the sad mission of removing the remains of her father, Mr. Campbell, from Des Moines to a resting place in Fairview cemetery, where other relatives are buried. The remains are to be interred here at 10 o'clock this morning.

Gus Loring was yesterday arrested for malicious mischief, it being charged that he chopped up two pairs of pantaloons in Skilton, Hendricks & Rice's tailoring establishment. N. A. Holmes was also arrested for stealing a knife and pair of shears from the same establishment. Holmes gave bail before Justice Schurz for his appearance this morning, and the other man took a change of venue to Justice Abbott.

Oliver Haigh, who has been one of the best known of the fire lads, and who is now connected with the cracker factory, was made supremely happy yesterday by being wedded to Miss Ella Spellman, the ceremony taking place in Omaha. Both have many friends here, and the welcome and congratulatory which will pour upon the young folks on their return will convince them of that fact, if they are not already convinced.

The man Smith, charged with stealing $95 from a cow-boy who was sleeping at the Broadway hotel, had his examination before Justice Abbott yesterday. The testimony showed that he went to the room, and that afterwards he deposited $85 in the same kind of money as that stolen at another hotel, and got it again in the morning. He was bound over to the District court in the sum of $250. His attorney, John Lindt, now proposes to get him released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Dr. West, dentist, 14 Pearl street, UNDER THE WHEELS. A Boy Has Both Legs Cut Off by the Cars. A rumor was afloat yesterday that a brakeman on the Rock Island road named Hughes was badly injured in the yards while coupling cars. Upon investigation...

LAI'D AT REST. Mrs. Held at Glenwood. October 30.—The funeral of the brakeman who was killed at the Rock Island depot, took place here at 4 o'clock, from the M. E. church, where he remained for four years, then went on to Nebraska, where he was at the time of his death.

THAT ATLANTIC ROBBERY. The Further Details of the Big Express Steal.

The robbery of an express messenger at Atlantic, as given in a special to THE BEE last Friday, is thus handled in detail by THE Messenger of that city. THE BEE is informed that besides the $5,000 taken on the other packages contained in all about $1,000, making the total loss about $6,000. At the time of the arrival of the 8:15 express train last night, while unloading baggage, the express messenger, Oscar Whistler, was robbed of money packages amounting to several thousand dollars. From the express messenger and others we learn the following facts: There are usually two baggage cars on the above named express, but this time it only had one, thus compelling the expressman to wait until the baggage was unloaded before he could unload his express. He pulled his trunk just beyond the car door and helped to unload the baggage. After this was unloaded he knelt down to pick up the trunk on the tongue of his truck. Ed. Wert, an employe at the depot was standing just barely three feet from him, and while he (Whistler) was kneeling down he felt what he supposed to be some one brush against him, but soon after he turned and saw a fellow jump off the platform and run toward the Atlantic flouring mill. In a moment he missed his pouch which he carried strapped on his back. He asked Wert if he had seen it. Wert replied that he had not. Further search proved that it had been out of the pouch taken. The knife of the robber made quite a slit in his overcoat. The whole affair took place in less than three minutes, and the messenger could hardly realize what had happened. By this time the man was out of sight.

We obtained the following description from Ed. Wert, who had seen him by the light from the car door: Light complexion, light mustache, about five feet six inches in height, and wore a dark suit of clothes and a light stiff hat. There was one package containing $5,000 from the Cass County bank en route for Davenport, and four other packages from Audubon and Griswold. We could not find out what they contained.

CHARGED WITH MULE STEALING. A Young Man from Lewis Lodged in Jail.

Yesterday there was brought to this city and lodged in jail here a young man giving the common name of John Smith, charged with mule stealing, the particulars of which charge are given by THE Atlantic Telegraph, as follows: A man giving his name as John Smith was arrested at Lewis, Sunday evening, having in his custody a pair of mules which he had stolen some weeks ago from a farmer near Neola, Pottawattamie county. The arrest was made by Charles Shinley, marshal of Lewis, who, assisted by Ed. Patterson, brought Smith to Atlantic this morning. At this point the prisoner was delivered to a deputy sheriff of Pottawattamie county who took him to Council Bluffs. Smith is a son-in-law of Emory Richardson, and had been keeping the mules at Richardson's, on the H. J. Graham farm. He claimed that he had bought the mules with money furnished him by a half brother who resides in Madison county. His real name is thought to be Campbell.
