And the Medium Refuses to Show Up After Long Waiting.

A number of gentlemen, including principally representatives of the different newspapers in the city, found them-selvestogether Friday night at the Paxton and it was proposed that they all go up to a place on Chicago street, where it was advertised that "Professor" Slade would hold a seance, and see what there might be in the performance. # of the People.

To the Editor of THE BRE,

For six years I have held the office of county superintendent of public instruction in the first county of Nebraska. For nearly five years I have also been a member of the board of education of Omaha. I had formerly held this latter office for three years and knew well the thonkless responsibilities attached to the position. Two years ago this office was again tendered to me as the unexpected, unsought and unbought tribute of the chief inducement to its acceptance was the wish to honor those who had thus children. I took it as a burden, I held entitle me to decent and respectful treatment whenever I might offer myself as a candidate for an educational office. I am ever prepared to welcome just criticisms of my work and to submit to any fair contest in which ment has a chance to win. I did not, however, expect to have to repel attacks upon my character such as disgraced the pages of the Omaha Republican of yesterday morning.

Spring Valley, one of the most beautiful and signtly residence farms in Saratoga, situated on the county road running west from the Saratoga school house Schofield, and just northwest of the State deaf and dumb asylum, is owned by Mr. Solomon. It overlooks nearly the entire city, the Big Muddy, and far into the State of Iowa. It has been in process of construction for some time, is of brick, three stories high, with observatory, and contains all the modern improvements. This is exactly what Mr. Chas. Higgins The barn is of brick, 100x40 feet, and proposes to give them, and a BEE reporter contains 20 common stalls, 10 box stalls, was Saturday asked in to lookatthesplen- and an office. The water to both house and barn is furnished by a 13 foot Hala day windmill, which is also used to shell room and restauraunt which and grind corn, cut hay and churn. The be opened up Manday at farm comprises 100 acres, of which 80 are No. 1213 Douglas street.

Mr. S. has 10,500 grape vines, ardless of expense and when in running and 22,000 fruit trees assorted, embrac order it will be found to be the finest in ling all the common varities, and also a number of hives of bees, a fine grape to the double purpose of a sample room arbor and a half mile track for his own and oyster parlor and the whole is fitted accommodation, particularly for training up with furniture of cherry, trimmed purposes. It is thirty feet wide and will with mahogany and ebony.

A bar twenty feet long is set off by a numbers forty-five head of horses, at the beautiful cigar case, wine case and a head of which stands "Sirius," a three magnificent mirror in the rear, all being year old bright bay stallion, a very fine of Queen Anne style. On the opposite side is an oyster counter thirty feet long with another immense double plate glass mirror back of it. She is a fine driver and very speedy, stands over sixteen hands high and has the happy combination of speed and endurance. This is the herse that caused Mr. Solomon to break his collar bone in the West, being in size and shape and dislocate his shoulder last fall en route to the depot on one of those narrow Kentucky turnpikes.

Mr. Cott's Spring Valley farm boasts a heard of 30 fine Jerseys, including the well known Lytle herd. The entire herd was the recipients of nine premiums at the last State fair. The most valuable The sample room proper is lighted by is the bull "Sammy Tilden," who cost elegant chandeliers and the whole place $500 when a calf. The herd is a line one and contains some high grades. The concert of the Union Sunday school to-morrow evening promises to be unusually interesting. The scating capacity has been enlarged since the last concert, when all could not get seats. The fact that Gen. Heward will deliver an address is sufficient to ensure an interesting meeting.
