Discussing the Question of Employing a Carpenter by the Year

The board of education met last evening at their rooms, it being the first Monday in the month, President Long in the chair, and present Mesars. Conoyer, Copeland, Gibbon, Livesey, Parker and Points.

The treasurer's report was read, exhib iting $42,918 balance from last month, and over $56,000 on hand.

An estimate of work and material was received for the new school on Delaware street, amounting to $7,825, and on the Leavenworth street school, amounting to $5,110, both less 15 per cent. retained. This is in favor of contractor Potvin. This gave rise to considerable discussion. Mr. Conover moved to allow only $9,000 at present, because the estimate was not made out in detail.

Mr. Gibbon thought no injustice would be done by allowing only $9,000 at pres-

An amendment was offered to pay the whole sum and lost. By a unanimous vote it was resolved to allow only $9,000 at present.

A communication was received from the city mission notifying the board that the rent of the building belonging to the school, which the board occupies as a public schoo! at present, must be increased from $15 to $30, as the rent for so commodious a building should be

A proposition from R. L. Williams, an eastern manufacturer, to supply the schools of Omaha with solid slate boards, was referred.

Applications were received from a large number of the present teachers to be appointed principals of the new schoels soon to be occupied.

Applications for teacherships from all parts of the country were received. There were over two hundred applications altogether, These applications and those for principalships were referred to the committee on teachers and text books. Applications for places as janitors were referred to the committee on buildings and property.

The committee on claims reported a number of bills allowed, including that of superintendent and teachers. $6,602, and and that of janitors, $400. The report was adepted.

Magnificent New Establishment on Thirteenth Street.

Grand Opening on Saturday Night Last,

One of the most attractive new business blocks erected this summer is Dennis Conningham's splendid building on the Northwest corner of Jackson and The Chief Engineer of the Fire De-13th streets, and it was formally opened to the public on Saturday evening, when Mr. John Kilkenny, the "Co.'s of the new firm of McNamara, Duncan & Co., and the manager of their business, opened up their new and elegantly equipped sample room.

The firm has been lavish in the expen diture of money to obtain the finest and latest style of fixtures and those who visited the place Saturday evening will admit that it is a perfect gem and as pretty as it is tasty in its furnishing.

On entering the front door the first thing which attracts the eye is the screen, which is different from any ever before seen in these parts. A massive plate glass mirror, on both sides is supported in a frame which is of the same design as the counter and is constructed of ash and cherry, with ebony pilasters. The mir-ror above the sideboard is 16 by 5 feet in size with a faame of the same woods already named and surmounted in the center by a lovely panel in front of which a person is at once attracted by the beau-tiful display of glassware and a costly silver urn for hot water.

The sideboard is also of the same woods, the frame being handsomely trimmed in bronze. The bar is 22 feet ong, with two panels, and as fine a piece of workmanship as can be found even in Eastern cities. The rail in front is of gold plated metal supported by brackets f the Queen Anne style. The ice box is also of a new pattern, and is elaborately trimmed with bronze and surmounted by cornice corresponding with that of the

In the rear of the room, which is 66x21 feet in size are two easy sitting rooms, the woodwork being of ash and cherry and the glass panels in the doors are cut with beautiful designs by the sand blast process. On the south side of the room is a raised platform for barrelled goods and wines, guarded by a fine foot railing to match the furniture. The office with its cabinet and safe are in the right hand front corner of the room, and are as carefully gotten up, as is the entirework while the cabinet work about the win dows is equally tasty.

The room is better lighted by day by three broad plate glass windows, which are shaded with curtains of olive tint painted in letters of gold and silver, highly shaded in brightly harmonizing colors, the whole announcing the nature of the stock kept on hand, At night a magnificent six light chan-

A reporter met Chief Butler this morning, and asked him how he enjoyed the trip.

"Couldn't have had a better time," he replied, "for we were treated like kings down there. It was a mighty expensive trip, but it was well worth it. Why,look at this banquet programme, engraved on satin, did you ever see anything like it?
