SCANDALOUS SCENE.

A Lively Encounter Between a Husband and His Betrayer.

He is Beaten Over the Head With a Pistol.

There was a lively sensation on Iarney street at an early hour riday morning, which came near reulting in a tragedy. On the Northeast corner of Harney and 11th street, is a brick building occupied by a saloon, of which Mr. John Martin is the proprietor. Mr. Martin Of Millinery at C. A. Ringer's. had in his employ for six months or so as bar-tender, a man named George ho was, it is stated, discharged some ductions on our entire stock.

acquaintance. The two men are of about the same age and the wife of Martin perhaps a litthe older than either. Martin says he had been married and living with his wife in the utmost harmony for fourteen years past and never suspected her of the slightest breach of good faith. Of late however his suspicions were aroused by certain friendly relations existing between George and his wife and the bar-tender was discharged. On Thursday night the stayed quite late, in fact until an officer notified the proprietor to close up the place. He then requested permission to lie on a sofa in the room till morning, as it was so late, and the request was granted. All retired, but none of them, as it appears, with any expectation of going to sleep. Martin "slept with one eye open" and waited for developments which he felt sure would come. About 2 o'clock, as the story goes, he felt his wife move and quietly slip his revolver from under his pillow. He made no resistance as he supposed she was only doing so to avoid any serious trouble. Soon after she stepped out upon the floor and went across to the which George sofa on At this Martin arose and inter- One rupted any further proceedings but it appears that his wife had handed the re-volver to George and he struck Martin across the hand as he approached them, giving him a very severe blow. He fol lowed this up with two or three other hard knocks on the side of Martin's head, which cut the scalp open and half disabled him. By this time the door was gotten open and Officer Powers appearing on the scene, the bartender and the wife were both sent out upon the street together.

Friday the woman was arrested and fined in the police court, the fine being Bargains in Farms & Lands paid by her busband, who did not want her locked up and fexpected to apply for a divorce.

The whereabouts of the man who thus broke up the domestic ties were unknown up to the latest accounts.

this in our columns.

Mrs. Davis began taking lessons about a year ago as a pupil of Mr. J. K.O'Neal, the acknowledged leading local artist, and she proved an apt scholar, in fact astonishing not only her teacher but all her friends by her quick perception and splendid taste and natural talent, Recently Mrs. Davis began a new siece. Departing from the stereotyped path she chose a scene which well depicted could not but prove more than ordinarily interesting, as it was also most delicate and difficult to execute.

This was the famous stage scene given most thrilling and realistic on all their programme. Weeks were passed in comand we are not afraid to say that those who see it would pardon us for saying everything in its praise. It is indeed a master-piece for Mrs. Davis and she is entitled to feel very proud of it. The double team of horses is done in manner worthy of Rosa Bon Heur, the stage occupants are readily recognizable by their friends and Cody and Carver dashing up to the res-cue with their band of cow-boys, against the band of red-skins who are making the attack, are all true to the very life. The scene on the plains and the range of hills in the background, the western sky above and the rolling dust under the horses feet are all perfect.

Those who see it will find that the longer they study the work the more they will see to admire in the details which make up the whole, and we feel sure that Mrs. Davis will distinguish herself yet more in the future. She has the sincerest wishes of a host of friends for her success.

DIED.

Funeral on Tuesday, November 13th, at p. m., from his late residence on the corner of 'umings and Montana streets.

Mr. Hubbard was born at Poland, Ohio October, 1837, and came to Omaha in October, 1866, and at once took a situation in the Union Pacific shops, where he remained up to the time of his death. Several days ago he was attacked with paralysis of the heart, which eventually proved fatal. His death will be deeply regretted by the many friends he has made in this city. To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he taware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handlo this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and quardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

Dr. Wanner will guarantee to forferit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind and character which he undertakes to and fails to cure.

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of this milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many meny men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal-weakness.
