

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, Nov. 15.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier... By Mail...

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

Notarial Seal—Best solid metal base $3.00. Novelty Works, 14th street. n13-4. See Joseph Reiter's fall goods. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's. Council Bluffs got up and dusted yesterday for sure.

With strong winds, extra care should be taken about fires. There are already twenty-two criminal cases for the District court to consider.

Go to Bushnell's and get a reserved seat to the San-Ah-Brah entertainment. The Evening Globe is to move soon into the Cassidy building, opposite the court house.

One week from to-day is the last day of service for the coming term of the District court.

A. A. Hazzard is to build a new house on First avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Such leaves in the park as were not carried off by the wind were yesterday carried off by wagons.

A wall is being built in front of the Union Avenue hotel, to conform with the filling up of the street.

Rumor has it that one of Neola's best known attorneys is soon to carry off one of Council Bluffs' maidens.

Don't delay till late to get a reserved seat for the San-Ah-Brah entertainment for to-night. Reserved seats only thirty-five cents.

The crazy quilt on exhibition at Iain's and which is to be raffled off at the coming Episcopalian fair, is a beauty and attracts much attention.

The board of trade committee on sewerage has about decided that before anything definite can be done, a careful survey of the city should be made by competent parties.

W. J. Sharp has been appointed master of transportation of the Sioux City & Pacific railroad, in place of A. D. Peck, who resigned to go to the New York, West Shore & Buffalo railroad.

Complaint is made by those putting up buildings that there is a scarcity of laborers. Everybody who wants to work seems to have plenty to do here, but many don't want to work.

In the case of David Radcliffe, arrested on a charge of stealing lumber from the Hall school building, was yesterday taken from Justice Schurz to Justice Abbott on a charge of venue, and continued until next Tuesday.

Among the interesting features of the program at the Congregational social this evening will be some exercises by some of those connected with the institute for the deaf and dumb, illustrative of the silent language.

A good way to spend a dollar: Buy a ticket for the Grand Army of Republics masquerade at Bloom & Nixon's hall on next Monday evening, November 19. You can have a good time and help along a noble cause.

San-Ah-Brah's price when he appears on his own responsibility is 50 and 75 cents. But the managers of the Home, who secured him for this place, have taken the risk of putting the prices at 25 and 35 cents, that all may enjoy it. Let us give them a rousing house.

John N. Baldwin now appears on the streets in a unique and very handsome double seated phaeton, drawn by a neat pair of ponies, making as handsome and comfortable a family conveyance as could be desired. The whole outfit attracts attention, and excites admiration.

The filling up of the sidewalks, and the laying of the walks on lower Broadway should be hurried to completion, otherwise, there will be much trouble in getting up town from the depot as the winter and soft weather advances.

Shugart, Waite & Weis have found their business increasing so as to necessitate the employment of more office help, and consequently more office room. They are therefore enlarging, and will soon have completed as commodious and attractive an office as can be found in the State of Iowa.

"An enormous amount of laughter mingled with the richest Oriental wisdom," says the Chicago Times, speaking of the San-Ah-Brah Oriental entertainment which is to appear at Dohany's to-night, under the auspices of the Home for the Friendless.

An old lady arrived here yesterday from Portland, Ore., expecting to find here her son George S. Dyer. On arriving here she could not find her son, and the police were unable to get any trace of such a man. The old lady was given a cosy place in the Home for the Friendless until further search could be made.

There were three drunken men on the streets yesterday, corner of Main and Broadway, who made a comical spectacle. One of them was so drunk he tumbled over, and the other one in trying to help him up tumbled over and the third one made a break too. They disentangled themselves and got out of it, struggling all down the street.

The race which was to take place at the driving park to-day was postponed until Saturday on account of the cold, it being hoped that it will be warmer then. There is to be one race between Paul Bokay's "Dave" and Gilman's "Black Frank." A pony race has also been arranged between George Wesner's "Gairy Owen" and M. Weatherly's "Bay Billy."

Let the cold blasts of winter remind us that the demands of the Home of the Friendless will now be greater than ever. They are in need now of cash for running expenses. Let's all go and hear San-Ah-enjoy to-night and enjoy one of the richest entertainments of the season and at the same time aid the Home in its noble work.

It is discovered that the couplings of the fire department will not fit to the hydrants of the water works, so that even if the works start up on Thanksgiving day, the fire department cannot use them and there will have to be new couplings ordered, which will be some time getting here. The couplings ought to have been ordered long ago, but the next best thing is to order them at once.

Jailer Schontz is obliged to keep on the alert now, the drawing near of court time making the prisoners very uneasy and anxious to get free. The attempt to lock him in a cell, and then batter down the front door, as narrated in yesterday's Bee, was repeated last night but was again thwarted. There has been discovered also, a place in the stone wall where the prisoners have been working, hoping by taking out a stone or two, they could get into the old hall, through which an escape was made once before.

The Congregational social is to be held this evening at the residence of Mr. G. D. Rice, a short distance out of the city. The company is to be entertained by the Bachelors club. Those who intend going and desire a conveyance should report their names to W. S. Homer, the china-man on Main street or J. F. Barker, the photographer, and conveyances for such will leave the Congregational church at 7:30 o'clock sharp, the rates being very reasonable. A merry time is anticipated and there should be a large turn out.

Cut rates to all points at McAllister's ticket office, 505 Broadway, Council Bluffs.

PLUCKED OF HIS PURSE.

A Missourian Robbed of His Pocket-Book.

B. F. Ewing, of Pattonsburg, Mo., arrived in the city Tuesday, and that night put up at Kial's hotel. He left the door of his room unlocked and ajar, and says that when he awoke yesterday morning he found that some thief had got away with his pocketbook containing about $13 and some papers of value to him, but not to others. He, of course, has no definite clue to the thief, and only knows that whereas he had a pocketbook at night, he had none the next morning, but being well acquainted with men in the city with whom he has transacted business, he had no trouble in getting the funds needed for transportation home.

WANTED—10 reliable men to sell nursery stock. Previous experience not necessary. Call on, or address, J. H. Smith, Metropolitan Hotel, Council Bluffs, Ia., to-day.

A BRISK BLAZE.

It Fortunately Does Little Damage, However.

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sounded, caused by the discovery of flames in the rear of Mrs. S. C. Arbutnot's millinery store on lower Broadway, in the Bee Hive block.

The fire broke out in a summer kitchen at the rear of the building, and was doubtless caused by a defective flue. One of Raymond & Campbell's men at work on Main street bridge gave the alarm and the prompt action of men with buckets stayed the fire and prevented it spreading to any great extent or doing any heavy damage. With the strong winds which have prevailed here for a few days there is much reason of alarm when a fire breaks out, and it would be well for people to use extra caution and make special examination of flues and stoves.

Save fuel and keep out dust by using "Perfection" weather strip, the latest and best thing of the kind. Call and see it at Beard's wall paper store.

NABBED IN NEBRASKA.

Two Council Bluffs Tailors Charged With Stealing Clothing.

A short time ago Gus Loring and Andrew Sharp, tailors employed in this city, disappeared, and with them a number of coats and other clothing belonging to fellow lodgers and brother tailors. Andrews was arrested in Omaha and brought to this city yesterday and lodged in jail on a charge of larceny. Loring has been arrested in Plattsmouth, and Officer Cusick went there yesterday after him.

Back to Braun's.

Ed. Allison, the well-known caterer, who lately left Braun's European restaurant, for a position in Bechtel's new hotel, has returned to Braun's, where he will continue to serve his many patrons with the best market affairs, served in the best possible manner. Ed. does know how to please the palate.

Happily Wedded.

There was a very happy event, which took place at the residence of J. F. Maxwell, about six miles east of the city, on Tuesday evening, it being the giving in marriage of his daughter, Miss Anna Maxwell, to W. F. Cole, a young man well known in this city, son of R. S. Cole, and the senior partner of the livery firm of Cole & Maxwell. Rev. Mr. Harris, of Omaha, performed the ceremony, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The newly wedded ones left yesterday for Chicago, expecting to be absent about a week. The presents on the occasion were numerous and well chosen. Among them was a gift of $100. As both parties are so well known here, and have so many friends, they may expect numerous and hearty congratulations when their return gives opportunity for their expression. The Bee joins in the well-wishing.

THE NEW DYEWORKS.

F. R. Hurlbert has opened, at No. 34 Pearl street, a steam dyeing and French dry cleaning works. Plumes and tips, velvets, silks, satins, gent's clothing, merchant's shelf worn goods, all made as good as new.

J. T. Wallace, of St. Louis, was at the Pacific yesterday.

ORIENTAL ENTERTAINMENT.

An Evening of Wit and Wisdom.

One of the Most Unique Entertainment Ever Billed for Council Bluffs.

The managers of the Home for the Friendless, deserve the thanks of the citizens of Council Bluffs for their enterprise in securing the San-Ah-Brah Oriental company for a night in this city. They are to appear at Dohany's opera house to-night, San-Ah-Brah is a fine actor and in his impersonation of the characters of his native land at one time convulses the audience with laughter and again moves them to tears. He has a magnificent wardrobe by means of which he represents in life-like character, members of the highest caste of India, down through all grades to the yeoman. He represents the lass and belle of India in such a style as to excite the greatest applause. He represents the Buddhist in search of rest together with the Gandama Priesthood.

He has a large and costly collection of household goods, as used in the homes of India, also articles used in the oriental temple, articles used in burying and embalming, at the marriage feast, etc. He has also 300 crystal scenes, displayed by means of the scintillation.

In fact, he gives an entertainment that instructs while it amuses. No one who desires to have a clear understanding of the customs of the people of India should fail to attend. "It is like a visit to India itself," says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "Like one traveling in India," says the Madison Democrat. "San-Ah-Brah is an adept at making his evenings pleasant. The second night brings always a larger attendance than the first where there is room to increase," says the Nashville American.
